

Sir W. Henry Thomson, Professor of Physiology in the School of Physic, Ireland, and who was on the steamer Leinster when it was torpedoed, went down with the vessel.

Robert Brudenell Carter, F.R.C.S., the noted eye surgeon of London, died recently at the age of 90. His life was a very remarkable one.

The Pasteur Institute in New York has been closed, after an existence of about 30 years. Since 1910, there have been treated in it more than 10,000 cases, and eighty per cent. of these free of charge.

Col. G. F. Harrison, the noted specialist on gas in warfare, died recently. When the German army began the use of gas, he at once invented methods of defence. The enemy never devised a new gas that he was not able at once to cope with, and find the antidote.

The Rockefeller Foundation spent $21,000,000 in war work. In the future its income will be used in fighting disease all over the world.

All the interests of the Province of Alberta have been placed under the control of Hon. A. G. MacKay, the Minister of Municipalities. Hon. A. G. MacKay has expressed a warning against the establishment of hospitals in areas too small to support them.

The General Hospital in Calgary has applied to the city for a grant of $17,000 to meet its deficit.

Dr. J. Gordon Wright resigned the superintendency of the Kingston General Hospital to assume the management of the Regina Hospital.

OBITUARY

ROBERT McCLURE, M.D.

Dr. R. McClure died at his home in Port Elgin in the latter part of October, at the age of 88.

JOHN C. McCABE, M.D.

Dr. McCabe, a graduate of Trinity University of 1886, died at his home in Hamilton, 14th November, at the age of 63.

FRANK FAIRCHILD WESBROOK, M.D.

Dr. Wesbrook was a distinguished member of the medical profession, taking a keen interest in its scientific aspects. Latterly, he devoted himself to educational work and became president of the University of British Columbia. He was born in Brant County in 1868. He graduated from