PAUL OF SAMOSATA: A TALE OF THE ANCIENT SYRIAN CHURCH. (By a Correspondent of The Church.) CHAPTER III. THE WITNESS TO THE TRUTH IN EARLY TIMES.

Sing to the Lord! let harp, and lute, and voice Up to the expanding gates of Heaven rejoice,
While the bright martyrs to their rest are borne;
Sing to the Lord I their blood-stain'd course is run,
And every head its diadem bath won, Rich as the purple of the summer morn; Sing the triumphant champions of their God, While burn their mounting feet along their sky-ward road.

Sing to the Lord! it is not shed in vain, The blood of martyrs! from its freshening rain
High springs the Church like some fount-shadowing palm; nations crowd beneath its branching shade, Of its green leaves are kingly diadems made,

Earth shrinks to slumber like the breezeless deep, And war's tempestuous vultures fold their wings and sleep.
