

he could and to give such advice as would lead to better health, and that his word was law when it came to the destruction of an animal. I asked that he prepare a set of regulations which would make his position and duties clear and told him I would order these into effect.