LIFELESS TRADING IN CHICAGO PIT

Price Changes Were of the Narrowest With Moderate Rally After Weakness.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Local grain markets began the week "stuck," as brokers term it, when there is but little trade, and net price changes were of the slightest. Provisions were firm, closing at the best prices of the day, with indifferent cables, fair weather, heavy primary receipts, no demand for export and domestic spot in the oldgrains, wheat sagged lower most of the session. Toward the end shorts covered on the visible decrease and because they were uneasy as to the Balkan situation and the market level, covered to Saturday closing level. Seaboard clearances were 331,000 and primary receipts 2,106,000, against 1,107,900 a year ago.

The narrow fluctuations of corn price indicated a compromise between bulls and bears, for while the Argentine was still on the program with its damage by sultry weather, the heavy primary receipts, and slim cash demand, and a decline of 1-2 cent in spot were against the price. Oats were all but stagnant and the tone was heavy, with corn in poor demand for spot. The sample market was 1-4c off.

What looked like investment buying advanced provision prices 7 1-2c to 2c, although hogs at the yards were easier. Packers were credited with moderate sales.
