

of curing in warm 229
 Earl of Marr, 1-41-98-
 an Froisbart, 193
 remarks on the potefs of Britain, 165-305
 reading, advantage of, 35
 rth, 133
 lained, 156—partitions of accounted for, 289
 tern coast of Africa, ib.
 a of, to the south of 300
 N.
 he effects of imagi- 169 114
 beth, description of, 37
 al for victualling it mates, 225
 guery exemplified, 127
 76-108
 um politicum, 312
 O. speculation on the Scotland, 242
 on the history of 52—on the balance exchanges, 93—on vels, 130—on Wat-
 y, 163—on banking 199—on Pope's
 213
 method of making 259
 dent's observations 213
 P.
 improvements in 257
 proceedings, 187-2d. 257-333
 an tale, 297
 Fife, 211
 pain, history of by ervations on, 163
 nt and modern his- 121
 ography, part III.
 153-289-321
 anin, remarks on, 81
 remarks on, 213
 marks on, 118-146

index.

XXV6

Portugal, observations on the history of, 9—letters respecting, 14-52
 Portuguese books, list of, 20-54
 Practical grammar, exercises in, 274
 Premiums advertised, 2d. 264
 Prefs, account of the court of by Benj. Franklin, 253 Principles assumed by the committee of privy council on the corn bill, controverted, 183 Proceedings in parliament on the corn bill, 187-2d. 257-333—of the Swedish academy, 57
 Proclamation of Edward II. 65 Proposal for better victualling the navy, &c. 225
 Q.
 Queech's humorous account of the necessity of roguery, 127
 R.
 Reading memorandums, 144-176
 Receipt for dying cotton a fine
 buff colour, 260
 Reflections of Frederick the Great, 248
 Remarks on the poetry of Buchanan, 81—on Pope's works, 213
 —on poor's laws. 118-146
 Review of Sinclair's statistics, 117-146
 Rhinoceros, account of, 47
 Roguery, necessity of exemplified, 127
 S.
 Scientific government, observations
 on, 312
 School for husbands and wives, 76-108
 Scottish antiquities, 132-282
 Shakespeare, splendid edition of by Boydell, 74
 Sinclair, Sir John, review of his statistical account of Scotland, 117-146
 Sketch of the life of John, earl of Marr, 1-41-03-142
 Small pox, natural and innoculated, compared, 174
 Smollet's novels, observations on, 130
 Speech of the king in the Swedish academy, 59—of count Hoep-kin, 62—of count Herman-son, 63—of count de Forsten, 64 Speculative projects in trade and manufactures, ruinous effects of, 260 Statistical account of Scotland, review of, 117-146
 Stories, Nina, 76-108—Azakia,
 180-220—dean of Badajoz,

203—The will, 239—Peter, a German tale, 297
 Sugar of great utility in curing meat, 229—plan for moderating its price, 330—possibility of raising it in Europe, 331
 Swedish academy, proceedings of, 57
 T.
 Tales, Nina, 76-108—Azakia,
 180-220—dean of Badajoz,
 203—the will, 239—Peter, a German one, 297
 Talsie, notice of his fac similies, 72
 Tea of great utility at sea, 233
 Thomson James, authentic particulars respecting his family, 235
 Timothy Thunderproof's remarks on the political progress of Britain, 265-305
 Trade and manufactures, effects of a great speculation in, 260
 Trade-winds explained, 155
 V.
 View of the mode of writing history in ancient and modern times, 121
 W.
 Watson's history, observations on, 163
 Wedgewood, notice of his improvements in pottery, 73
 Will, last, a tale, 239
 Y
 Young observer on animal instinct 89

POETRY.

A.
 Advice to married ladies, 145
 Address to the author of verses to the debauchee, 145
 Approach of winter, 33
 B.
 Bird's nest, 34
 Byron's poems, extract from, 178
 C.
 Callia, a song, 33
 Come my lass since time is fleeting, 217
 Come under my plaidy, 67
 Complaint, by a lady, 256
 D.
 Douglas, Gavin, specimen of his poetry, 219
 E.
 Exequy, by Dr King, 68