

are true females of grand quality, and even throughout. "Mademoiselle," says the critic already quoted, "is a long, level, light roan, with the choicest of feminine character, and exceedingly fine quality."

Baroness Wild-Eyes is a neat specimen of the Bates' blood, and secured for educational objects from Mr. Evans, of Uffington, England.

The Hereford Bull, Conqueror (7510), stood very much unknown to either the American or English breeders because of the comparative privacy of Her Majesty's Herds at Windsor, and would certainly not have been sold but for reasons similar to those expressed by Mr. Duthie. The same high class Journal of England says: "At the head of the Herefords is the beautiful two-year-old bull Conqueror. In the hind quarters he is not so well filled out as could be desired, but otherwise is admirably formed. His shoulders are well laid in, his ribs wide and well covered, loin strong, cover of flesh very rich, quality excellent, and character faultless, his head and horns being very attractive. As noticed two weeks ago, Conqueror was bred by the late Mr. Carwardine, Stockton Bury, got by the celebrated Lord Wilton (4740), and out of Coral, by Rodney (4907), the sire and dam of Mr. Taylor's second prize two-year-old bull at the Royal Show at York last year."

With the view to experimental work, the very large cow Bloomer,—“wide and deep in the frame, richly fleshed and of good quality,”—and Cronkhill Duchess 2nd,—“handsome and attractive,”—may be taken as specimens of this class.
