WOMAN'S WORLD.

THE BROKEN NOSE.
 We've got a baby. Since it came there's not a single thing the same. I act just like I did before. But no one loves my more. I guess I'd better run away. I might as well for if I stay. The spotted eggs and bluebird's nest. The autumn leaves that mother pressed. The rabbit skin that father dressed. All these I'll take and go west. I ought to start, but O the sky is dark to-day and very high! For father by the garden gate. He'll weep my hair and say: "Well, well, my boy! How goes the day?"

THE SCRAMBLE FOR XMAS PRESENTS.
 "The girl who works for her living does have a hard time gathering up her Christmas gifts, unless she has a head for organization and knows where to shop," says Anna Steese Richardson in the Woman's Home Companion for December. "The first thing to remember is that the Christmas bargain counter is the dumping ground of the shrewd merchant. He tosses here all the left-overs from his unsalable stock. For this counter, he buys up old wholesale stocks, auction lots and factory ends. Nobody knows the findings of the bargain-counter shopper better than does this shrewd merchant. And he makes fifty instead of five per cent, on every sale. Everything is mussy and cheap. The shrewd shopper has eaten into this and dust has settled on that. But the woman who tries to shop against time does not notice these defects."

MADE OF ORANGES.
 Orange Fritters.—Beat the yolks of four eggs with four tablespoons of sugar until thick and creamy; add the juice of one half orange and mix with flour to thicken to a soft batter; whip the whites stiff and add, then dip in slices of orange cut rather thick, one by one, coat thoroughly with the batter, lift with a wire spoon and fry a nice brown in hot butter or olive oil; sprinkle pulverized sugar on top. Orange fritters are delicious served with powdered ham for breakfast.

ORANGE PIE.—Beat lightly the yolks of two eggs with one-half cup of sugar. Add one heaping tablespoonful of flour, one level tablespoonful of corn starch and a little salt dissolved in half a cup of milk. Pour into a pint of boiling milk and cook about 4 minutes until thick and creamy. Flavor with orange juice and pour into a baked crust. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, add one-half cupful of sugar, flavor with grated peel and juice of orange, spread over the pie and brown delicately in a very slow oven.

Mrs. Hubbard's Lecture.
 Mrs. Hubbard's lecture at McMaster University this evening will be illustrated by views of scenes photographed by herself in the course of her adventurous journey up the Nascapung River to its source in Lake Michikamag and thence down the George River to Ungava. McMaster University invites the citizens of Toronto to unite in doing honor to a Canadian woman who, by her explorations in Labrador, has made a valuable contribution to the knowledge of our native land. The number of tickets on sale is limited to the actual seating capacity of the hall in which the lecture is to be given. The proceeds of the evening are to go to Mrs. Hubbard as an honorarium.

Roman Society Annual Meeting.
 A special meeting of the Toronto Roman Society was held yesterday afternoon to arrange for the conversation and annual meeting of the society, which will be held in the normal school building on Monday evening. Letters were read from the lieutenant-governor, Mr. J. S. Wilson, Chief Constable Grant, Inspector J. L. Hughes and others, promising to be present and assist at the meeting. PANOR OF THE ORINOCO CANADIAN PLACE SOME DAY

Rev. Byron Stauffer of Buffalo Gives Address to St. Catharines Canadian Club.

St. Catharines, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—In an address on "Canada in 1990," before the Canadian Club here to-night, Rev. Byron H. Stauffer of Buffalo, N. Y., a Canadian boy born in Waterloo County, said that the old notion, prevalent in the States, that the greater part of Canada was too far north for permanent settlement was entirely exploded.

"The history of the nations," said the speaker, "shows that every civilization that has stayed huddled up close to the fireplace of the hearth, and shriveled and died, but the race that had gone toward the north, with fur cap and mits, to build its home, has found the warmth that it sought, and kept ablaze the fires of true national spirit. The power of the old world is above the 46th parallel of latitude, which is a hundred miles from Belgrade and the Black Sea, leaving the five great powers in the latitude of Canada, with Paris, Berlin, Moscow, London, Brussels and St. Petersburg further north than Toronto, Montreal, Newcastle, England, and Copenhagen; and Toronto and St. Catharines with Bayonne and Rome. The great wheat fields of the world, outside of the United States, are north of the 45th parallel.

"The question before Canadians to-day is not how large an empire Canada shall be in a hundred years, but of what quality. The get-rich-quick spirit infests nations as well as individuals. When quantity is too eagerly sought, quality is too easily forgotten. Should I express the hope that this shall be a contented nation, a land of home, temperance, law-observance and Sabbath-keeping, I am not impatiently. All these things have we possessed from our youth. True, and whether these characteristics shall continue to be the cornerstones of our national structure, depends upon the class of people forming the population. If the Canada of 1990 will be an Anglo-Saxon nation, the greatest problem of her destiny will have been solved."

"The immigration question, now so perplexing the United States, will soon loom up in Canada's horizon as her greatest concern. One million a year enter the States, mostly Slavs or Latins, one-fourth unable to write or read their mother tongue; two-thirds without a trade, hundred thousand means an Ontario every 25 months, a Toronto every 60 days, a St. Catharines every three days, to assimilate into an organized population of 14,000,000 of foreign-born and 40,000,000 of foreign parentage within her bounds. What will the figures be in 1920? Just five years ago, the immigration of an annual influx of half a million; to-morrow our dilemma will be to take care of two millions each 12 months. Thirty years ago, the population of the annual total came from Britain, Germany, Scandinavia; now four-fifths come from Russia, Italy and Austria, and only seven per cent from the United States. The English tongue is spoken in pink and green made a very pretty color scheme. The tea-table, which was presided over by Mrs. Peers of Toronto, looked exceedingly pretty with festoons of white satin ribbon and flowers, and a centerpiece of Miss Isobel Dalrymple in pale blue muslin made very charming hostesses in the tea-room. In the evening a very pleasant time was spent by the young friends of the bride.

Mrs. Smith wore very beautiful dress of white duchess satin with duchess lace trimming, while Mrs. Morgan wore black silk and Mrs. Smith's brown silk. The room was tastefully decorated with white chrysanthemums and ferns and shaded candles in pink and green made a very pretty color scheme. TOOK CHANCES; WAS SHOT.
Russian General Pays With Life for Devotion to His Country.
 Tiflis, Nov. 22.—Gen. Golochotkapoff, ex-governor of Yellabathopol, was mortally wounded here yesterday by an unknown man. He was the most conspicuous victim of the revolutionists since the assassination of Gen. Min. He ranked among the three great pacifists of the Caucasus.

During the racial war last summer he was sent into the district of Shusha, where the Tartars and Armenians were conducting a war of extermination. He was given practically unlimited power to restore order, and used artillery and infantry with great vigor. He was shot in the district of Shusha for several days.

He lived in constant danger of assassination at the hands of the Tartars. The viceroys of the Caucasus, however, was not satisfied with his work and he was superseded Sept. 4. On returning to Tiflis he believed himself in security, but rashly driving through the city on his return from the baths, he was shot.

BRITAIN STOPS CHINAMEN.
First Attempt at Exclusion Under New Alien Act.
 London, Nov. 21.—The first attempt to exclude Chinese from landing in Great Britain is now occupying the attention of the immigration board.

Thirty-two Chinamen, from Hong-kong, who arrived at Gravesend on Monday, en route to Liverpool, were refused permission to land, the immigration officers basing their refusal on the Chinamen lacking means to support themselves.

The case was appealed to the immigration board, and after consideration, decision was postponed, the chairman of the board pointing out that this was the first case under the Alien Act passed last year, and was one of importance.

The General Sunday School and Epworth League of the Methodist Church will meet in Wesley Buildings, Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 2 p.m. for the purpose of electing two associate secretaries, and for other business.

SIGNAL WAS DISREGARDED BIG SHIPS CRASHED TOGETHER

Details of Collision Between Kaiser Wilhelm and Orinoco—Former's Side Stated.

Cherbourg, Nov. 22.—Details of the collision yesterday between the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and the British royal mail steamer Orinoco, show that it occurred at 9 o'clock last night. The steamers were both outward bound for New York and West Indian ports, respectively.

The shock is described as having been terrific, causing panic among the passengers on board the two vessels, especially among the emigrants. On the Orinoco three men and a woman were killed, six women and a man were injured and five persons were knocked overboard and drowned. Of the two signposts the German liner is said to have sustained the greater damage, but beyond the fact that she had a hole in one side of her hull, the nature of her injuries has not been ascertained. Four of the crew of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse are reported to have been killed and 12 are said to have been injured, but the exact numbers of the killed and wounded that vessel have not been reported here. The damage to the Orinoco was confined to her bows. Both vessels remain in the roads here.

When the collision occurred the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse was steaming at the rate of 17 knots an hour, after having touched there on her voyage from Cherbourg. The Orinoco was coming into this port. The commander of the Orinoco claims that he signalled that he would go to starboard of the North German Lloyd steamer, but that the latter held her course across the Orinoco's bows, and only went to port of the Orinoco when it was too late. The engines of the Orinoco, in addition, were reversed as soon as it appeared likely that an accident would occur, but she crashed into the starboard bow of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, making a breach 15 feet wide.

The stem of the Orinoco above water line was carried away as the vessel cleared, after the collision.

How Fatalities Happened.
 The shock threw all the passengers on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse on their feet, and the grinding of the Orinoco's bow into the steamer of the German vessel instantly killed four persons, dismembering a girl 19 years old.

The captain of the Orinoco ordered the latter's boats to be cleared away, but the passengers of the Orinoco were so crowded that several were killed and several injured. The Orinoco's crew attempted to get into the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse's boats, but were swamped when it struck the water.

As soon as the accident occurred a number of extra policemen were sent to the scene of the collision and succeeded in rescuing some of the sailors and passengers who were sent into the water. Five of the crew of the Orinoco are believed to have been drowned.

The passengers of the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse will be transferred to the American liner Pauline, which is en route to New York. The damage to the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse is estimated here at $200,000.

PROOF THAT BILEANS CURE.
RESULT OF A SCIENTIFIC INQUIRY.
ONTARIO LADY'S EVIDENCE.
 That leading scientific journal, "Science Sittings," recently made an exhaustive analysis and examination of Bileans. The results are as follows: "We have satisfied ourselves that Bileans are of pure vegetable origin. The laboratory experiment and practical tests have produced us a valuable preparation... excellent for constipation... and as a regulator of the liver and bile. Bileans increase the vitality of the system, give digestive tract. When employed to relieve constipation they do not—as is the case with so many purgatives—cause acute catarrh of the bowels. They relieve flatulence, sick headache and biliousness. Bileans are an excellent family medicine."
