The Chiengo and Northwestern Railway will be a grand military demonstration of the Ghost Walk.

A muster parade is one which all the members of a battailon attend, from the cooks to the colonel. It is for the purpose of having every man who is on the paysheets rewed by the paymaster, Colonel Graveley. As a name is called out, the man steps forward and walks in front of the colonel, whose eye fashions a picture and on the man goese had attend a poor chince out drawing his pay. As a result a muster parade is the most readily and largely responded to parade held in camp. It is the forerunner of the glosty's walk.

Muster parades have begun. The first was held in the 40th battallon on Saturday. The cash for pay will be in camp on Friday, when the cheques issued by Col. Graveley to captains may be turned into current money. A representative of the imperial Bank will be on the grounds.

Each infantry company will receive about $1400.

When the money reaches camp it will be placed in the paymaster's vault, that was built in 1815. It is a ponderous looking place, built of masonry and iron, and opened by Louis XV. keys, placed in huge, ancient locks.
