LOCAL MARKET.

There was a large attendance at the market today. Every available place on the square was occupied by a vehicle loaded with produce.

A prominent farmer from the vicinity of Saginaw, Mich., was present at the market today. He thinks the citizens should feel proud of the market here, where they can obtain everything fresh from the farm. These remarks were made in the hearing of a well-known buyer, who stated the farmers could improve things by delivering the stuff they sell. You don't know when you buy produce on the market whether it will ever be delivered, especially if the seller can obtain a few cents more on the price. Sales were brisk. Eggs, butter, poultry and potatoes. Prices were steady.

There was not as many loads of oats offered as was expected. Prices, however, were unchanged. At $1.02 to $1.05 per cwt. Old oats sold at $1.00 to $1.10 per bushel. Wheat went at 70c per bushel.

Hay and Straw—A half dozen or so loads of hay were offered; $1.11 and $1.10 per ton was the price. Straw is wanted by the buyers at $5.50 and $6 per ton.

Butter and Eggs—There was a rush for what butter was offered. Prices were firm at 23c to 24c for crocks. Eggs were sought after; all were soon sold at 22c for crates, and 23c for baskets; in small lots 25c was the ruling price. In the dairy hall from 1c to 2c per dozen more was asked than on the open market.

Vegetables and Roots—The supply of potatoes was fairly large; sales were brisk at 8c to 9c per bag, most of the sales being made at 8c. Carrots, onions were plentiful, at 25c to 30c per dozen; celery, turnips, 30c per bag; cauliflowers were scarce, selling at 50c to $1.25 per dozen; bunch, 20c per dozen.

Fruits—Apples were very plentiful; sales rather slow, at 5c to 6c per pair; snow apples were also in large supply, at 5c to 6c per pair; pears were in evidence, but sales were slow; peaches, 10c to 12c per pair; grapes, 10c to 12c per pair; small crop this season, and these offered today sold at 50c per pair.

Poultry—The supply was large and sales brisk; chickens sold at 9c to 10c per pair; dressed, and 5c to 6c per pair; turkeys were in good demand, at 14c to 15c per pair; ducks were in demand on Tuesday.

Dressed Hogs—Sales brisk, at 9c per cwt.

Live Hogs—The price for Monday will be $5.25 per cwt, a drop of 2c from last week; small pigs sold at $5.50 to $7 per pair.

Butchers' Meats—Sales were quite brisk and prices were steady.

Honey sold at 10c to 12c for strained and 8c per dozen for seconds.

EVIDENCE IN ELECTION INQUIRY

More Witnesses Say They Were Paid for Voting.

ISSUE WARRANT FOR WITNESS

Londoner Said to Have Been Subpoenaed Fails to Respond When Called.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—When the inquiry into the London election case was resumed at luncheon, Mr. DuVerne read telegrams from Messrs. Corrie and White, of Ottawa, to the effect that they will be on hand Monday as witnesses.

Wm. Goodland swore he was bought in the Hyman-Gray election. He was promised $10, but he got only $9.50.

He saw Collins, George Ardy and another man in the Liberal committee rooms, in a back room. He didn't think the other man was Mulloy. He told that they were paying $10 to issue votes, but nothing was said about him voting right. He got the money at Lewis' hotel after the election. Collins, as usual, was the paymaster. He didn't know another man who was with Collins at the time. Witness had not complained of Collins taking a rake-off.

At the general election he had received $5 for his vote.

The rates were lower at that time," he said (Laughter).

Witness didn't receive anything in the Beck-Rumball election. He denied absolutely the statement made by Collins that Sifton and Serviss had held him up in this election.

To Mr. Robt. Jeffery, witness stated that he had made up his mind to vote for Hyman anyway.

Mr. DuVerne then had William Spence, sen., of London, who had been subpoenaed as a witness, called three times in and out of the court. As Mr. Spence had not put in an appearance, Magistrate Denison decided to issue a warrant for Spence if he does not put in an appearance on Monday.

George B. Hodgins, of London, was next called, but he was not in court.

Mr. Jeffery on Stand.

Edgar Jeffery, barrister, of London, was then placed in the box.

To Mr. DuVerne the witness stated that he held no formal position in the party, save that of secretary of the Liberal Club. Mr. Jeffery produced the Liberal Club books, but he said he had no books of the association.

Mr. Jeffery admitted having submitted the name of Jerry Collins to the returning officer for a deputy in the Hyman-Gray election.

Collins had spoken to witness, and asked to be made a deputy. He had sent letters to the chairman of all subdivisions asking them to nominate deputies.

"All the deputies were named by one party,"

"They always do that in London. At the last municipal elections, the Conservatives named the majority, and all save one were Conservatives."

"At one time the Conservatives appointed Wm. Peel in the third subdivision of ward three, and he spoiled 69 Hyman ballots in the Hyman-Beattie election."

Both sides have appointed partisans."

"Will you swear positively that Collins spoke to you for the position of deputy?"

"Yes. But I will not say whether it was before or after I had heard from the committee on the matter."

"You knew he was an active partisan?"

"I know he was on the right side. If he hadn't been he would not have been appointed."

"Did Mr. Reid ever speak to you of this appointment?"

"Did Mr. O'Gorman see you about it?"

"No."

"Did Mr. Reid or Mr. O'Gorman see you about any of the appointments?"

"O'Gorman did not, but I believe Mr. Reid did speak of the appointment of a deputy in ward four."

"How did Alex Milne come to be appointed?"

"I don't know."

The nominee of the committee was always accepted?"

"No, not always. We drew the line in several instances."

"Name one."

"That of Ed. Croden."

"He was caught switching ballots in West Elgin?"

"No, I don't know. But the Conservatives objected to him. Mr. Percy Moore wrote a letter on the subject at the time, and had also objected to Collins."

"Mr. Moore said to the witness at the official record that Collins had bought all the votes for the Liberals."

Percy Bradwin had also been objected to, but the objection was not successful. Bradwin had been charged with some corrupt offense, but he had cleared his character when arraigned in court, and Mr. Jeffery saw no reason why he should not be appointed.

Witness stated that he had collected the fees for the Liberal Club. He had paid out no money in the election. The club had no connection with any financial transactions in the election.

Mr. Jeffery did not know who was the secretary of the association at the time, but Mr. George C. Gibbons, K.C., was president. Mr. Harry Ranahan was president of the Liberal Club. Ed. Sifton was vice-president for No. 2 ward.

Witness said he knew Hamilton Ramsay, as he met him in a business way on several occasions.

Witness had not seen him to Ed. Sifton to get the $10 the old gentleman swore he got from that party.

"You left no message for him at your office?"

"No."

"Did you see Sifton about him?"

"No."

"Did you ever promise to make it right with him when he lost the polling booth?"

"No."

"Who recommended Mr. Buchner for returning officer?"

"No."
