Agent Says Good Market There for Butter and Soap.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—Mr. E. Tripp, commercial agent for Canada in Trinidad, says that shipments of butter from Canada compare favorably both in quality and price with the foreign article.

The agent mentions that there is a capital market in the colony for ordinary laundry soap.

Quite a trade in the shipment of cedar from Trinidad to England has recently sprung up.

Agent Jackson, at Leeds, sends a report on the condition of Canadian trade with Yorkshire. He says Yorkshire apples are arriving in the Yorkshire markets in large quantities and realizing good prices, on account of the excellent quality.

The fact that apples are now inspected under Government supervision before leaving Canada has given confidence to dealers, so that they do not hesitate to deal directly with Canadian apple exporters.

EMMA IN TROUBLE

Anarchist Goldman and Followers Held by the New York Police.

New York, Oct. 31.—Emma Goldman, five other women and five men, all of whom are alleged to be anarchists, and who were arrested last night for alleged violation of the section of the penal code which prohibits unlawful assemblies, for the purpose of overthrowing the Government, were arraigned in the police court today, and held in $1,000 bail each for further examination.

Morris Berkowitz, who was arraigned on a charge of attempting to incite riot at the time the arrests were made, was sent to the workhouse for six months.

Advertiser Patterns

Designed by Martha Dean.

AN OUTFIT FOR THE BOY (4759-4760).

Clothing the boy is quite an item of expense if all of the young man's outfit must be purchased ready made. Furthermore, many a mother prefers to fashion the lad's clothes, and for her benefit the accompanying suggestions are given. The shirtwaist shown has shaped yokes and three boxpleats in front. The sleeve is finished with a narrow cuff to close with links. The collar may be made on the waist or the neck finished with a neckband for Eton or other linen collars. Linen, madras or flannel are the materials most used for boys' waists. The trousers are simply made and cut after the latest mode. Pockets on the side make the boy feel that he is a true descendant of his father and are very convenient. Slides are provided for the trousers, and for the medium size the pattern calls for 5-8 yard of 54-inch material. For the waist 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material are used. Two patterns—4759, sizes 4 to 12 years; 4760, sizes 5 to 12 years. The price of these patterns is 20 cents, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents.

COUNT BONI BEAT HIS COUNTESS

Unfaithful Castellane Is Also Something of a Brute.

ALLOWED WIFE $80 PIN MONEY

Used Anna Gould's Income of $800,000 a Year in Frivolity and Extravagance.

Paris, Oct. 31.—The Castellanes' divorce case was heard this afternoon before M. Henri Dite, president of the tribunal of first instance of the Seine. Neither the count nor the countess were present. Maitre Cruppi, for the countess, pleaded for a divorce upon the documentary evidence submitted.

In an extended review, counsel declared that the countess, as the beginning of the suit, was not acting under influence, but solely for the purpose of ending forever the peril of the moral desolation of her household.

He explained the marriage contract, by which the regime of separation of property was established from the very beginning, and stated that the domestic difficulties arose over the question of money.

Ill-treatment soon followed, the count even striking the plaintiff before the servants.

When he reached the question of the indefinitely charged against the count, Maitre Cruppi did not mention names, or even initials, designating the co-respondent as "Madame A2," "Madame B," and so on.

Maitre Cruppi asked that the countess be given the custody of her three children. The court room was crowded, among those present being many members of the American colony. Counsel for the countess spoke for an hour and a half, and had not finished when the court took a recess. His presentation of the plaintiff's case constituted a complete and pitiful story of the wreck of her married life.

She was only twenty when she was married in 1895, and Cruppi asserted the happiness of the honeymoon was disturbed on their arrival in Paris by the count's demands for money. The countess' income was then $700,000, and the count allowed her $80 pin money.

By 1899 the countess' interests were so heavily compromised by the count's extravagance that it necessitated a family meeting in New York, and the appointment of a legal trustee. But the difficulties regarding money were unceasing, and in order to obtain funds the count pawned or sold at ridiculously low prices the most costly objects.

When the countess protested the count abused her in the presence of the servants, and when she declined to attach her signature to documents he frequently pinched and sometimes struck her, the first time being four months after their marriage.

In the course of the pleading Maitre Cruppi protested against the "mail-clothes" reports in regard to the countess' intentions, and announced that she would leave France for America immediately after a divorce is granted her.

In recounting the count's infidelity, the first instance cited by counsel was that of a married woman, described as "Madame A2," in 1898. The correspondence was conducted through M. Morel, the count's secretary. The countess accidentally discovered at the Castellane chateau a packet of love letters, and when she protested the count struck her. The countess eventually placed the letters in the custody of a lawyer.

Maitre Cruppi read the passionate extracts of one of the love letters, fixing a rendezvous at Dijon. Counsel also detailed two liaisons with "Madame B" and "Madame C," whom the count met in apartments which he rented in different parts of Paris.

After recess Maitre Cruppi read from a notebook kept by the cook of one of these apartments, giving brutally plain details of what counsel characterized as "an unpardonable offense against the countess."

He also recounted the liaison with "Madame C," whose maid mounted guard and signaled from a window when the count was clear.

But the count's love affairs were not confined to ladies of society. They included numerous other ladies, the reading of whose letters created merriment in court.

Maitre Cruppi said that the count's defense would probably be that, being young and rich, he could not protect himself against the assaults of love-sick women.

DIAMOND DYES Are Used By All Wise and Economical Canadian Women.

Failures in home dyeing are caused by the use of imitation and adulterated package dyes which are ruinous to good materials and dangerous to health. Ladies who value their garments and materials should never risk imitation and worthless package dyes. The colors of such dyes are always muddy, blotchy and lifeless. Storekeepers sell such trashy dyes simply because of the large profits they bring, and care little for the trouble and vexation these common dyes cause to the women who use them. Diamond Dyes are the only successful, pure, fast and brilliant dyes sold. The Diamond Dyes have a wonderful record of triumphs and successes, and have no equals in the world for easy and profitable home coloring.

As there are merchants who sell inferior and adulterated package dyes, insist each time you buy that you are served with the Diamond Dyes. See that each package bears the words, Diamond Package Dyes. Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain Street, Montreal P. Q., for valuable Dye Book and Card of Dyed Samples. Free to any address. 33-11 dence submitted Maitre Cruppi declared his opponent could not expect the tribunal to ask for the summoning of witnesses. The final rupture came the day after the famous entertainment of King Charles of Portugal, Dec. 12, 1905. The count insisted that they, the count and countess, go to a shooting party given by a noble lady, of whom the countess had cause to complain, and when the count became enraged at the countess' refusals, she abruptly announced her intention to separate from him, and began legal proceedings.

Counsel placed at $5,000,000 the total of the count's expenditures preceding the appointment of a trustee. At one time there was a seizure of their property in a suit for the recovery of a debt amounting to $225,600.

Maitre Cruppi had not finished his presentation of the case when the hearing was adjourned until next week.

DIVIDE BLAME FOR RIOT DEATHS

Coroner's Jury at Buckingham Declare Both Sides Guilty—Arrests to Follow.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—The sensational inquest at Buckingham, arising out of the riots, in which two strikers, Belanger and Theriault, were killed, came to an end tonight, and the jury returned a sweeping verdict, which will be followed by a number of arrests tomorrow.

The verdict was: "We, the undersigned jurors, declare that we find that Thomas Belanger and Francois Theriault came to their deaths in the town of Buckingham, in the district of Ottawa, on Oct. 8, 1906, being killed in the course of a riot by Frank Kierman, John C. Cummings, both of the town of Buckingham; Pierre Picard, of the city of Montreal; Roy Engram, presently of the town of Buckingham; W. W. Warner, presently dead, and the other constables shooting at them in such circumstances that they should be sent before a criminal court.

"We find that Albert MacLean and Alex. MacLaren, both of the town of Buckingham, are guilty of their deaths in bringing in those men, and should go before a criminal court. We also find Adelard Hamelin, Hillaire Charrette, John Baptist Clement, Cuibert Bastien, George Robinson Croteau, all of Buckingham, and many others, are guilty in that they accompanied those men in this riotous assault, in which they met their deaths, and should be sent before the criminal court.

"We also find that Dr. Alex. Rodrigue, of Buckingham, is more guilty than any other of the magistrates of the town, in that he anticipated serious trouble and neglected to do his duty, and that he, too, should go before the criminal court.

Two jurors, Moise Goulet and Janvier Hamelin, do not agree. It is understood that these two men are related to strikers. The coroner, Dr. McMahon, of Montreal, spoke for over an hour, making a strong charge to the jury, and condemning both sides to the riot in no mild language.

Detective McCaskill is on hand ready to execute the necessary warrants, and the prisoners will probably be brought to Hull tomorrow.

CHARGED WITH CHEATING

Unusual Case Comes Up in the Toronto Police Court.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—The first information ever laid in the Toronto police court for cheating at a game of cards was sworn out before Magistrate Denison today. The defendant, Samuel Cohen, was arrested and brought into court.

The charge alleged that Cohen did, with the object of obtaining money by fraud, cheat, while playing a game of cards.

The man who took action in the case was Benjamin Welly. He was playing cards with Cohen and several others on Monday evening, and the prisoner won about $50 from his friends. After the conclusion of the game Welly discovered that Cohen's luck arose from the fact that the pack of cards with which they were playing were marked. He sought advice, and the result was that Cohen's arrest followed.

Any person convicted of cheating at cards is liable to a fine of $50 and costs or three years' imprisonment.

DISMISSED THE CASE

Motion of Halton County Men Against Farmers' Bank Disposed Of.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—The motion of John Sproat and other Halton County farmers against the Farmers Bank for the appointment of a receiver for the bank on the grounds of alleged misrepresentation in securing stock subscriptions, was finally disposed of this morning, when Mr. Justice Anglin dismissed the action. This case has had some rather extraordinary features. Mr. W. R. Travers, the manager of the bank, in an affidavit, directly accused Mr. William Laidlaw, K.C., of approaching him with a view to being made solicitor of the bank. Nothing having been done in the matter, Mr. Travers said Mr. Laidlaw met him on the street and said he was in a position to make trouble. Mr. Laidlaw gave the newspapers of Toronto a statement, denying the allegations contained in the affidavit of Mr. Travers. Today, however, nothing had been filed by Mr. Laidlaw, and the action was accordingly dismissed.

PHILLIPS IN COURT.

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Joseph Phillips, late president of the York County Loan and Savings Company, appeared this morning in the court of general sessions before Judge Winchester, charged with conspiracy with intent to defraud in connection with the List Piano Company. He pleaded not guilty. The case was traversed to the December sessions and bail was renewed.
