LEGISLATORS GO HOME WITH MILK

Two All-Night Sessions in Belated Effort to Finish Business.

RENTS BILL DROPPED

Stirring Scenes in the House When Timber Matters Are Again Discussed.

BY W. THOMPSON. The Ontario legislature has been making quite a pretence at getting along with business, the house sitting until five o'clock both Thursday and Friday mornings. The members, however, were not going home with the milk. The majority of the members did not get up until after midnight, and at one period walked out in a body with a view to making a caucus, but only soon to see reinforcements. The members arrive to save the situation for the government. Practically nothing was done in these all-night sittings beyond getting up to get up and get up. The premier, it must be said, is stirring rather late in the session in his desire to expedite business, but as he is anxious to get up and get up, he spends more time at Crown Hill before Whitenside than he does at the legislature. The premier's appearance in the house on Friday was a model of quietude and most restfulness in the house. The lieutenant-governor made his appearance on Friday, but he was not seen to get up and get up. The members of the house were not seen to get up and get up.

Ran True to Form. Running true to form the house got thru a fairly good afternoon's business on the opening day of the week, and also it was all new to the day quite a number of the back benches were absent with the result that the government took possession of the house and advanced some of its measures a few stages. Mr. Raney was in one of his good moods, and accepted several amendments from the opposition. On the other hand, he provided for adopted children being placed on the same basis as regular members of the family, while another amendment providing for the official shorthand reports of police court cases. Peter Smith's amendment tax bill got thru after he had proposed the clause preventing a municipality from imposing any higher tax on pool and billiard parlors than that placed by the province. This concession should please Tommy Church a little, as there will be no real conflict with such small places as Toronto. The day was called at dinner time.

Mr. Raney put the first real match to the timber when he dramatically asked what would be the use of an investigation, anyway. "If everything in the shape of papers had been either burned or carried away" This was a plain smack at Howard Ferguson, and in a lesser degree, perhaps at his private secretary. Howard was up and at Mr. Raney like a tiger. He called the attorney-general if he meant to suggest that anything was burned or carried away that could be called a public document while he had charge of the department. "Yes," he back Mr. Raney, and members gasped for breath. Then, retorted Howard, "the attorney-general is stating something absolutely untrue, and I believe he fully knows it." Mr. Raney calmly went on to read from the evidence of Charles Hete-Mr. Ferguson's secretary at the timber probe, in his effort to show that papers had been carried away from the department, or "rifled," as he subsequently put it. Howard jumped up to a point of order, but Mr. Raney sought to ignore the interruption. "Just a minute," said the Conservative leader. "You go to look up some papers." He stuck to the floor, and denied that there was any evidence to show that documents had been taken away or "rifled." Mr. Raney withdrew the "rifled" shot and substituted "abstracted or burned," which rather made matters worse. Then the attorney-general modified his expression by saying "taken away," a kind of gradual descent. Howard stuck to it that there had been no attempt to improperly retain any documents by certain letters, had been returned before inquiry was made for them. Then the members went to dinner.

Stormy Evening Session. At the closing session matters were again decidedly stormy. Dr. Fergusson took a hand by charging "an admitted thief and perjurer had been hired by the timber commission to shrewdly investigate the timber area, but Mr. Raney denied all knowledge of the incident. Howard Ferguson, in a general reply, charged Mr. Raney with "deliberate unfairness," as said evidence by Collier had been taken in secret, referred to Harding's dismissal, and remarked, "that not one paper had been taken that should be charged to the public files. He also charged that Mr. Raney had a part in drawing up the interim reports of the timber probe, but this was repudiated by the attorney-general. Howard concluded by challenging the government or anybody else to turn all possible light on his administration of the department. He had nothing to hide, and had no fear of the result. He said all the storm was over, the bill was given second reading, without a division.

"Hammy" Fires Bomb. "Hammy" Hill, the little fighting member for Ottawa West, made a bit of a name for himself in the house when he charged that St. Harding, Crown counsellor in the timber probe, had sent in a bill for $500 to George Ernest Hagan for his services in persuading the government to accept the latter's cheque for $1,300 in payment of timber dues owing to the department and to waive any further prosecution. Mr. Raney and Mr. Raney were amazed. It was all new to them and they promised investigation. Then Peter Smith came under the hammer and was charged with having moved for hydro purposes to meet other expenditures. Mr. Raney admitted that if such a course had been pursued it was illegal, and the matter will be taken into consideration.

After the storms of Tuesday the members sailed into smooth waters Wednesday, and there was not even a semblance of a scrap. Even our good old friend the "Oh Tea Hay" failed to rouse the worthy legislators, and that is saying something. Mr. Raney, however, gave notice of something that will be calculated to make the rafters ring when it does really come up. His notice is a sentence on only allowing bare appeals to county judge O. T. A. convictions, which means that no further evidence will be permitted. There are already two amendments down against such limitation, so that a hot O. T. A. time is in prospect. The bill providing for payment of school trustees was killed, and a like fate befell the city of Toronto's measure for basing income assessments upon the previous year's actual earnings rather than upon an estimate of the current year. Mr. Mills got his mining bill, including the famous "discovery" clause, thru committee. The house filled in the balance of the day in committee of supply.

Rentals Bill Dropped. Thursday was notable for two things—first, the withdrawal of the fair rentals bill and second, the commission on university finances, which means in the case of the province that the universities of the province will get no further assistance for another year at least. It was stated in this column recently that the government looked coldly on the fair rentals bill, and that it would likely be killed. Walter Rollo was selected by his colleagues as the undertaker, and the funeral of the measure was as respectable as possible under the circumstances, although Mr. Raney, who had made a glib promise to bring in the legislation, did not even contribute a wreath. Rollo admitted that this bill had many shortcomings, and this view seemed to be generally popular. Dr. Raney made the strange remark that if he were a private member he would oppose the measure, but it was evident that even as head of the cabinet he shared the same view. In any case the bill has gone, so why worry? The landlords will be pleased. Their reading was given to some twenty measures, and thus one big jump was made towards prorogation. The house then settled down to tackling the estimates again, and another late sitting was in sight.

PUMP LEAKAGE. When the water pump begins leaking do not assume that necessarily it is because the nut is too loose. Frequently the nut is not to blame at all but poor packing is the real cause of the trouble. Packing for this part consists of candle wick soaked in tallow, heavy twine similarly treated or special packing material. After the nut has been turned to press the packing down do not turn it farther, as excessive squeezing is apt to damage some part of the body of the pump.

PRAIRIE HOMESTEADS. In the three prairie provinces the surveyed area under homestead, including military homesteads, amounts to 53,813,300 acres. The area of Indian reserves is 2,880,288 acres. The area now available for entry, including lands reserved for soldier-settlement, is 24,952,300 acres.

VISITORS TO PARK. During the year there were 69,380 visitors to Rocky Mountain Park. Many visitors came from a distance—from Newfoundland, Java, Continental Europe, Australia, China, Japan, India and the Philippine Islands.

FORTUNE IN STAMPS. A fortune in old stamps was discovered by a waste-paper dealer in London, Eng. He had bought a quantity from a bank from a bank among old papers from a bank among which were envelopes bearing rare old stamps, which he sold for $45,000.

Foreword. This is the third publication thru the medium of which I have had the very great pleasure to submit to chess enthusiasts throughout the Dominion the most brilliant productions of both international and Canadian skill at the royal game. In doing so I feel sure I shall once more gather the interest and enthusiasm of those who have followed me in the past, along with the many newcomers that will naturally result. To all I am making one special request. After mastering the problems, which, by the way, are selected with the greatest care of time than I would generally care to admit, put down your findings on a card and send them along. If only sufficiently experienced to tackle two or three, a card is equally encouraging to a chess editor, and solutions if correct will be gratefully acknowledged. We call for chess will be answered, and we call for chess will be answered, and we call for chess will be answered.

And now a word to the uninitiated. There is first a preliminary stage, the acquisition of chess knowledge, is a prodigious undertaking. Nothing of the kind. Anyone qualified to be at large can learn the rudiments within an hour, and I myself began usage of hundreds in this time. Nor is the paragon of the first great bewilderment as formidable to scale as one might at first suppose. Beyond that lies a field of unalloyed pleasure, greater than the student of other subjects is able to realize. In recommending it to become chess players, I mean I place it among the uses of our forefathers and then switch to the present world of mad race, the death of men of the finer sentiment, of the first of our home life.

Certainly to become a master of chess is a great accomplishment, but fortunately the spirit of enchantment there is the least!

The following interesting game was contested between J. E. Narraway, the redoubtable correspondent player of Ottawa, and Edward Lasker of Chicago, former world champion, in the fifth American championship of the Correspondence Chess League of America: Ruy Lopez.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING. Argentina women are actively campaigning for the right of municipal suffrage.

Three women have announced their candidacy for seats in the Virginia Legislature.

The recent extension of the franchise in Sweden now gives that country more women voters than men.

At the age of 76 years, Sarah Bernhardt, the famous French actress, manages her own theatre and directs the painting of all the scenery.

Mrs. C. S. Hyman of New York city, recently paid $12,000 for a Flemish woolen shawl with interwoven silk threads, dating back from the second half of the sixteenth century.

Women workers in a new silk mill to be erected at Hopewell, Va., will be held up for days while the inexperienced repairman made a futile search for some trouble that a specialist would have located in a minute.

Every automobile repairman looks like an expert to the average owner, but many of them are not. It is a wise precaution to buy a car from a dealer who employs a mechanic expert versed in the mysteries of electrical equipment. Most electrical ailments take an hour to find and a minute to fix and if the repairman is expert enough he may be able to inspect the motor. LARGE POTENTIAL MARKET IN STATES

Between Three and Four Million People Able to Buy Cars Now.

Detroit, Mich.—Between three and four million people in the United States alone will be able to afford to buy medium-priced automobiles during the selling season, which is now just opening, according to a statement by the Liberty Motor Car Company of Detroit. This estimate was based upon research of the government income tax statistics and other information.

There are only 159,000 people in America with annual incomes of $10,000 or more, showing the limits for the high-priced part of the market for the high-priced cars. This also must be counted as a market for medium-priced cars, inasmuch as many very rich people are known to maintain several cars. For instance, 57 per cent of the present drivers of the cars are in the New York area, according to a recent analysis, formerly drove cars in a comparatively high price class, the Liberty is a medium-priced car.

On January 1, 1919, there were 4,425,114 personal income tax returns. In addition to a large number of returns of business concerns which were able to buy passenger cars. With the rapid growth which occurred in the last two years, it is safe to say the present figure is far in excess of 5,000,000 people or more, and many of these are able to buy cars of the medium price class. Also some non-taxpayers will buy cars.

Altho many of these people and firms already have automobiles, it is estimated that at least 1,500,000 cars are sure to be junked during the next twelve months, whereas the total number produced this year will be only about 1,200,000 cars, and many of these were shipped to foreign countries.

Most electrical ailments take an hour to find and a minute to fix and if the repairman is expert enough he may be able to inspect the motor. We have seen cars held up for days while the inexperienced repairman made a futile search for some trouble that a specialist would have located in a minute.

Electrical Knowledge Necessary. Every automobile repairman looks like an expert to the average owner, but many of them are not. It is a wise precaution to buy a car from a dealer who employs a mechanic expert versed in the mysteries of electrical equipment.
