WANT GAGETOWN RECTOR.
The following is from the correspondent in the Bangor Commercial—"Rev. F. P. Marshall, of Gagetown, N. B., was in the city on Friday and met the wardens and vestrymen of St. Anne's and a special meeting of the vestry will be held on Saturday evening at which it is expected a call will be extended to him. Rev. Mr. Marshall has been doing the work of the Anglican church in the Canadian Northwest, and for the last two years has been rector of Gagetown, where he has been most successful."

THE DRY TIME.
The Eastport correspondent of the Bangor Commercial writes—"Orders have been received from Ottawa to close all places where liquor has been for sale in Charlotte county and the saloons on Campobello Island across the harbor have all been closed for an indefinite period and for the first time in many years it is almost impossible to obtain any intoxicating liquor in this city or at Campobello."

Worst Artillery Fire The Canadians Have Yet Had - Directed Against Them

Hold on at Passchendaele Ridge Despite it and Consolidate All Gains—Germans Try New Tactics and Offer Little Infantry Opposition

Canadian Headquarters in France, Nov. 12, via London, Nov. 11.—(By W. A. Willson, Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press)—After twelve hours of continuous desperate fighting Canada stands secure on Passchendaele Ridge, having consolidated all the positions gained in the splendid advance this morning, when our infantry stormed its way along the heights for another 600 yards, taking Venture Farm, Vlindere, live cross roads and Exert Farm. From dawn until dark the salient has been the scene of the most tremendous fighting in the history of Canada in Flanders. Two minutes after our advance the enemy machine gun fire from the left flank was directed against our attack. Following new defensive methods, the enemy offered little infantry opposition to our advance. His lines in the forward zone were thinly held, his troops being massed in a line some thousand yards to the rear. Our right attack, taking forward practically without opposition. On the left enemy parties, holding fortified shell holes, offered stouter resistance, but by 8 o'clock we had taken all our objectives. To the left the British troops, facing an almost impassable country, swept by the enemy machine gun fire from the strong points at Vocation and Vox farms but were unable to advance in conjunction with the forces. Our left flank was exposed. The defensive flank accordingly was formed by a veteran battalion on the extreme left. Our troops, in a narrow salient on the top of Passchendaele spur, were exposed to the concentrated enemy artillery fire from Westreppebeke, Oosthewerke and Rodkris in the north, and Waterdamhoek, Dallicre and Terhena in the south. The enemy employed every available battery, raining shells into our narrow front. He was literally endeavoring to blast us out of our position. He failed. What our infantry had gained it held, but all day long the men of the Canadian battalions, lying in water-soaked, half-filled shell holes, or belly-down in shallow trenches, scooped out of mud, endured shelling, surpassing anything in Canadian history. Shells, shrapnel and high explosives rained around their positions. The ground was harrowed by the enemy fire. Men were buried under mud and dug out by comrades, and buried again and dug out, and were digging out others between times. They held on doggedly until morning gave place to noon, and noon to evening. Behind them our guns roared incessantly, raking the enemy's defensive line, engaging his batteries from north to south, and fighting the whole weight of his artillery on long miles of the front. Neither resting nor eating, our gunners fought the great battle in the salient flanking with fire at dawn and dusk, and heavy with smoke by day. For twelve hours what was practically a continuous barrage, was maintained by our artillery. Then quiet fell again upon the salient. The enemy had given up, and from the forward areas wound ed men, stumbling in the dark over new plowed country, staggered exhausted along narrow board walks and came to the advanced dressing stations with their story of how our new line had been held and consolidated.

NEW WAR TAX IN EFFECT IN THE U.S.

Theatre Tickets, Passenger and Freight Rates and Insurance Affected

Postage Advance Also—Five-Cent Levy on Wire and Telephone Messages Costing Fifteen Cents or More

Except for the special stamp taxes on documents, legal instruments and parcel post packages, which go into operation December 1, no special taxes now apply in the United States. They include:

One cent on each dime paid for amusement admissions.
Three per cent on payments for freight transportation.
Eight per cent on passenger fares.
Ten per cent on payments for Pullman and similar accommodations.
Five per cent on oil pipe line transportation.

One cent for each twenty cents or fraction paid for express packages.
One cent on each telephone, telephone or radio message costing fifteen cents or more.

Various taxes on cigars, cigarettes, tobacco and products.
Ten per cent on club dues of new life insurance.
Eight cents on each $100 of new life insurance.

One cent on each dollar of premiums paid on fire, marine, casualty and other insurance policies.

Although the tobacco taxes do not become operative until Friday, many have already advanced retail prices. Other taxes of the new law, including those on hard and soft drinks, liquor and war-excess profits have been in effect since the law was passed October 3, but in indirect form.

In December 1 the new stamp taxes, including those on parcel post packages, will be payable, putting the entire law into complete operation, except for the increased rates on second class mail postpaid until July 1 next.

Increases in first class mail rates probably will be most generally felt by the people. The law provides that the postage on letters, except "drop" or local letters, shall be three cents; that on postcards, including private mailing cards, shall be one cent more than heretofore. This increase includes picture postcards. The advances are construed

EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA HAS CLOSE CALL IN TORRENT

He and Two Footmen Swept Away by Swift Current But Charles Manages to catch Branch of Tree and All Are Saved

Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary is reported to have narrowly escaped death in a mountain torrent on his return after a visit to Palanassova, in Northern Italy. His horse broke down while he was crossing a swollen stream. The emperor's two footmen attempted to carry him ashore but lost their footing and all three were swept a considerable distance by the swift current.

The emperor was saved by catching hold of a willow hanging over the bed of the stream. He was constantly submerged as the willow bent under his weight and the force of the current. His companions, after great exertion, procured a heavy beam, with the aid of which all reached shore.

Belgium Under Violent Bombardment But Give it Back in Good Measure

Paris, Nov. 11.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:—
"There was no infantry action. The artillery fighting was quite lively in Belgium, in the sector of Papeghout, southwest of Houtholst Forest, and on the right bank of the Meuse, in the region of Hill 844 and Chaume Wood. The war was calm on the rest of the front."

"Belgian communication.—On the night of November 9-10 our artillery shelled the German communications near Bezen. The enemy violently bombarded our trenches and our advanced works south of Dixmude. Aerial bombs were launched against our communications. On November 10 the Germans bombarded the region of Ramscappelle, to which we energetically replied. On November 11 the German artillery again made its actions felt against our advanced posts in the region of Ramscappelle and Pervyse, as well as our trenches south of Dixmude. We silenced several enemy batteries and bombarded enemy works at Bezen. The enemy violently bombarded our trenches and our advanced works south of Dixmude.
