BANK CLERKS AND THE M.S.A.

Decision of Judge Duff, Central Appeal Judge, in Matter of Interest

The following is a report of the bank clerks case decided by the central appeal judge in Ottawa under the Military Service Act this month. Bank officers' case.

All bank officers in Class One under the Military Service Act who are in medical category "A" with the exception of those who are exempted on grounds personal to themselves or who may be the subject of a special application by holding important positions and being clothed with great responsibility are to be called.

March 8th, 1918. The Central Appeal Judge-A number of claims for exemption of bank employees were filed by the various banks, and were sent in the usual way to local tribunals. These claims were made on the ground that "it was expedient in the national interest that the man should, instead of being employed in military service, be engaged in other work in which he is habitually engaged."

In the great majority of cases in all of these cases, the claim was based, not on the special qualifications of the individual as such, but rather on the fact that the individual was one of a group engaged in an occupation of national importance whose membership could not be reduced below a certain point, and for whose members efficient substitutes could not readily be found.

Widely divergent views on this question were taken by the numerous local tribunals who were called upon to consider it, with the result that there appeared probable that nearly all of these cases would ultimately be brought before the Central Appeal Judge at the instance, either of the bank involved, or of the public representative.

In pursuance of this arrangement each bank was called upon to furnish the Central Appeal Judge full particulars as to the members of its staff in Class I and as to its staff generally, with other evidence deemed material, and to submit for consideration its views as to how members of Class I should, in the national interest, be dealt with, and an investigation extending over a number of weeks was thereupon had.

After a careful examination of the facts thus disclosed and after hearing the views of the representatives of the various banks, the conclusion reached was that, with the exception of those who may secure exemption on grounds personal to themselves and subject to the result of any special applications which may be entertained by the Central Appeal Judge in regard to a small number of individuals holding positions of exceptional responsibility and requiring exceptional qualifications, all members of Class I in Canada who are now in medical category "A" or not yet examined (approximately 2,800) are to be called.

As returned by the banks on the 25th January, 1918, the total number of male employees of all the banks was 11,872 and the total number of female employees was 6,775. Of the former, 4,721 were in Class I and 2,890 were in medical category "A" or not yet examined. Of these 870 had claimed exemption on personal grounds.

From the beginning of the war down to the 15th of January, 1918, bank employees to the number of 1,740 have enlisted for military service.

In determining the number of men to be furnished immediately by the banks, the Central Appeal Judge has reviewed carefully the position of each bank and has taken into account several considerations, amongst others the number of male employees in the bank, the proportion of these to the total staff of the bank, the extent to which the staff has been depleted in the past by voluntary enlistment and the special situation of each bank in regard to the distribution of its staff amongst its branches.

The total number to be furnished by the 15th March by all the banks is 384. The Bank of British North America 25. The Bank of Commerce 112. The Dominion Bank of Canada 28. The Bank of Hamilton 40. The Bank of Montreal 112. The Bank of Nova Scotia 40. The Bank of St. John 40. The Bank of Toronto 40. The Bank of Vancouver 40. The Bank of Winnipeg 40. The Bank of Montreal 112. The Bank of Nova Scotia 40. The Bank of St. John 40. The Bank of Toronto 40. The Bank of Vancouver 40. The Bank of Winnipeg 40.

LIVER TROUBLE

and HEARTBURN CURED BY MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

When the liver is torpid and inflamed it cannot furnish bile to the bowels, causing them to become hard and constive. The symptoms are a feeling of fullness or weight in the right side, and shooting pains in the same region, pains between the shoulders, yellowness of the skin and eyes, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, heartburn, water brash, etc.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills gently unblock the secretions, clear away all effects of waste matter from the system, and give tone and vitality to the whole intestinal tract, and are by far the safest and quickest remedy for all diseases or disorders of the liver.

Mrs. A. Cummings, Manchester, Ont., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills some time, and can faithfully recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried a great many other remedies, but they only relieved me for a time. I believe Laxa-Liver Pills to be a valuable remedy for all sufferers from liver trouble."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 95c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
