They Were Ordered to Protect a Prisoner From Lynchers and Did So.

THE MILITIA FIRED.

But Their Bullets Found Victims Among the Innocent Spectators.

Washington Court Flouse, O., Oct. 18. Although Jasper Dolby, colored, pleaded guilty to outraging Mrs. Mary C. Boyd, in order to be rushed off to the penitentiary for protection, he did not get started in advance of the indignant obs. People were swarming into the town all day. The sheriff could not get from the jail to the depot after the prisoner had been sentenced.

A little after six o'clock the first rush was made on the court house. A crowd of determined men attempted to break in the south door, while another party charged on the militia at the north door. Some one threw a stone at Colonel Colt, and he cried out that at the next stone thrown he would order his men to fire. The crowd at the door were unable to effect an entrance. The court yard by this time was filled with people, and cries, "Give us the nigger!" and curses against the militia filled the air. The crowd grew in size every minute. Col. Colt made a speech asking the crowd disperse, but it was received with jeers. The prisoner was prostrated with fear, and lay crying and moaning. Up to this time Dolby and his guards had been kept prisoners in the court yard by the mob, which then made an attack. The militia replied to them without firing at first, but another onslaught was

Upon the firing the mob dispersed in all directions, but soon gathered again. Immediately all places of business in the city were shut up. Mayor Creamer peremptorily closed all places where liquors were sold. Every street was filled with people. No time was lost in carrying away the dead and wounded.

Business houses and the engine house were converted into hospitals. All the surgeons in the city were called into ser vice. Mothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts crowded around the dead and wounded, and added fire to the rage of the mob by their lamentations. The feeling against the military is bitter, vicious and vehement. It pervades all classes. As time passed the mob size and fury. Everybody was in the street, and all were members of the mob as far as personal feeling was concerned. Going to England in Reference to the Men moved about as if bent on business, but said nothing. There is no doubt of purpose to blow up the court house. Of this the military are aware.

Dolby's crime was committed one week ago at Parrott's station. Mrs. Mary C. Boyd, aged 55, was his victim. He was brought into court at 4 o'clock this afternoon, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to twenty years in the penitenti-ary. An angry mob gathered about the jail yard yesterday afternoon, after Dolby had been identified by his victim, and Sheriff Cook called to his assistance the local militia company. This action ineased the fury against Dolby, and Gov. McKinley was appealed to for additional assistance, and troops from Columbus were sent here this morning. Colonel Colt was in command. The mob surrounded the jail and court house, attempting to take Dolby from the officers when he was removed from the jail to he court house for trial, but they were kept at bay by the use of bayonets and clubbed guns. Henry Kirk, brother-inlaw of the assaulted woman, was thrown down the steps of the court house and adly bruised. Another man was bayoneted through the finger, while a bayonet was thrust through the clothing of an Huddart, who came to England in the other. Deputies with drawn revolvers interests of the Canadian Atlantic guarded the prisoner in the court room. Dolby cried like a baby and kept looking around for help. Soldiers were marched in to keep the crowd quiet. After service over the major part of the route sentence the prisoner was taken to the between the United Kingdom and the grand jury room. The prisoner Dolby spent a night of orror in the jail last night. He was rought from Delaware at 5.40 last night. The appearance of the mob outside of the jail weakened Dolby of his oravado, and he hurried to the jail with vident relief. There he passed a sleepess night, cowering upon the floor of his listening to the angry mutterings of the mob outside, which swelled omiously in volume, as from every village and hamlet the rising citizens poured in jail resounded with the laughter of the prisoners. "They're at the door, Dolby; one of them has a rope." All through the night the prisoners kept jeering the terrified Dolby, who cowered in the darkest corner of his cell, moaning piteously. When morning dawned and the guards came to look at Dolby they found that in his abject fright he had covered the door of his cell with a sheet to shut out the sounds from without, and lay shivering on the floor. When taken into the court house he was so weak with fear that he could scarcely stand without support. He sat before the grand jury a ghastly picture, his eyes rolling, his form convulsed with sudden chills, muttering to himself like one bereft of rea-

ANOTHER SEVERE STORM.

Newfoundland Coast Visited by a Storm Accompanied by Floods.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 18.-Another severe storm swept over the coast last night, accompanied by rain and floods. The storm has not abated yet. All the shipping in the harbor is tied up, it being impossible for any vessel to move. At the height of the storm the schooner Henrietta broke from her moorings and in the cars and were carried to the union collided with other vessels in the harbor, damaging them in various ways. No reports are yet available from the outports, but it is believed that the south coast suffered considerable damage. The gale prevented the steamer Ingraham from collecting the ballot boxes used in urday. The overdue steamer Falcon, from Philadelphia, has not yet arrived, and much apprehension is felt for her safety.

Result of a Mob's Attempt to Lynch a Negro.

Washington Court House, O., Oct 19. This place is as quiet as though rioting and bloodshed had never been seen within its borders. The withdrawal of the last detachment of soldiers acted like a soothing potion upon the halfcrazed people. William Samm died toretreat and many men were cut and night, which increases the list of killed to four. Theodore Ammeran is dying, and F. L. Nitterhouse can hardly survive until morning. Little George Keating, whose injuries were thought at first to be surely fatal, may recover, but he will be horribly maimed. The feeling against Colonel Colt and his troops was so intense this morning that had they remained in town further rioting and bloodshed could not have been avoided. Charges will be preferred against him by responsible citizens, and a court martial will be asked. Indignation against Sheriff Cook is as fierce as against Colonel Colt. Leading Republicans are circulating petitions asking for Cook's removal from the Republican ticket, upon which he is a candidate for re-election. It is believed that there would have been no trouble whatever had the militia not been called out. No words in defence of the guards who fired last night can be heard. They shot without warning into a public street crowded with people, most of whom had been called out by an alarm of fire and were returning home. When it broke out the streets were comparatively deserted, and not more than 150 people were about the court house. The fronts of buildings facing south from the court house show the results of the fusilade in broken glass and shattered masonry.

Twenty-four people were wounded, and among them were two women. One boy was killed outright, four men have since died of their injuries and three more are fatally hurt. Columbus, Oct. 19.-Jasper Dolby, the negro sentenced at Washington Court House to twenty years' imprisonment for criminal assault on Mrs. Mary C. The prisoner was taken from the train at Dennison avenue and walked to the prison. The military remained station.

A reporter who came with the train says that after midnight things quieted down. The citizens had nearly all gone home, yet many people stood on neighboring corners until a much later hour discussing the affair. The militia, until the election in the Twillingate district, 3.30 a. m., numbered less than one hunand the result of the election will not dred men.
