A despatch from Detective Power says a man has been arrested and lodged in Truro jail who is supposed to be the party who burglarized McLeod's jewelry and others stores at Amherst a night or two ago. His name is James Campbell. He is also wanted for horse theft.

FOUR HUNDRED TONS of Chicnecto coal in the sheds of Winter Bros. at Moncton were discovered to be on fire last Thursday morning. It is supposed to have been a case of spontaneous combustion. The coal was removed and the fire extinguished without much loss.

CHURCH TOWER.—Messrs. Tilley & Harrison have finished work on the tower of the Portland street Methodist church and the staging is being taken down. The tower is built of free stone and although it is not very high it gives the front of church a finished appearance. The cost of the tower is about $1600.

A gentleman in this city received a postal card yesterday from Rev. J. W. S. Young, of Green Bush, York Co. The message was as follows: "I tell you sad news. We are in the deepest sorrow. Three of my seven children and my wife lie corpses in our very sad home. Please tell all my friends there. Hope you will all pray for me in this hour of sorrow."

PROFANITY IN P. E. I.—Hall, parlor, and dining room stoves are now being put up, consequently the flood of profanity is somewhat greater than usual. If you fear there is murder going on in your neighbor's house some day, don't rush madly in, but remember that the aforesaid neighbor is wrestling with a stove pipe.—Summerside paper.

THE MILK STRIKE.—The milk dealers have decided to increase the retail price of milk to 7 cents per quart commencing next Monday. The increase is due to the larger price the dealers have to pay the farmers. The difficulties between the dealers and the farmers having been arranged will be seen from an announcement in our columns.

FRANK PAYSON, ESQ., thirty years ago a college friend of the publisher of The Times, dropped in yesterday to renew an acquaintance that time had not caused either party to forget. Frank is travelling for the Humphrey Homeopathic Co., lives in New York, is unmarried, and generally appears to have behaved himself very well during the long years we have been unable to keep an eye on him.—Moncton Times.

SAVED HER LIFE.—On Monday evening last Mrs. Douglas an elderly woman who lives with Mr. Robert Macaulay, Fairville, whilst eating her supper swallowed a piece of meat which stuck about half way down her throat. Dr. Macfarland was called and when he arrived Mrs. Douglas was speechless, her face dusky and swollen and the water running out of her eyes. The doctor saved her life by pushing the offending piece of meat into her stomach.

AFTER SIX YEARS.—Six years ago James Malloy, of Fairville, was duck shooting at Taylor's Island. By the accidental discharge of his gun several duck shot were lodged in his right arm. Several days ago he was seized with a severe pain in his right thumb and the lower part of his arm. He consulted Dr. Macfarland the other evening and before leaving that gentleman's office the doctor removed a shot that was buried in the tendon of one of the deep muscles. This operation put an end to the pain and Mr. Malloy has been at work every day since.

AN OLD INHABITANT GONE.—There is to be buried to-morrow afternoon from 50 Argyle street, Catherine, widow of the late Edward Brown, who died 23 years ago. In his life time he was for the most part book-keeper (for many years with A. McLeod & Co.,) and was a frequent contributor as long as 50 years ago to the columns of the Recorder. It was during the first agitation for responsible government, when Howe was coming to the front, and Brown—who was an intimate friend of Howe's—wrote most trenchant letters and articles under the captian that will be well remembered by many of our old citizens, of "Peeping Tom." He was a cultured literary man, a native of England, and came here when quite young, where he married a Miss Waitt, (who died yesterday.) He was the first reporter of the debates of the House of Assembly of this Province. —Acadian Recorder.

Football.

It is now well on in October, and the football season is at hand. The team which the St. John A. A. C. will put on the field this season will be stronger than ever,—and the stronger the better. The University boys are already atwork, and although the University team has been weakened by the graduation of a number of heavy kickers, yet practcie will in a measure make up for this loss. In their match with the University St. John will have need of its best men since neitner of the respective teams has secured an advantage for the last two years—at Fredericton or at St. John.

Foot-ball will likely be begun in earnest here next Saturday. In Halifax the Wanderers have already played several matches, and are in red-hot for the fun. There is talk of one of the teams either in Nova Scotia or Prince Edward Island, making a tour through the provinces. We can accommodate them.

Provincial S. S. Convention.

At yesterday evening's session of the Provincial S. S. convention the executive committee reported having secured the services of Mrs. Crafts in the interests of the association in various parts of the province, and that Mr. Parsons had been sent to the World's Sunday school convention in London. They recommended the appointment of a permanent secretary to visit schools in the country district and establish schools where none exist at present, also the adoption of an annual Sabbath of prayer. The report was adopted and was followed by an address by Mrs. Crafts.

In the afternoon several delegates spoke of the progress of Sunday school work in their several localities.

The treasurer's report showed contributions to the amount of $479.07 from 888 schools. Carleton and York counties have an equal number of schools, 104;—the contributions from Carleton were $77.65—from York $16.75. Mrs Crafts gave a very interesting illustrative lesson to a class of little girls and boys and was loudly applauded at its close.

The formation of a Boys' Brigade in connection with the Sunday schools was discussed clearly and forcibly by Rev. Mr. Fotheringham, and considerable interest was manifested by the delegates.

In the evening the newly elected president, Mr. Stevens, took the chair. The delegates to the world's convention, S. J. Parsons, Rev. Mr. Lucas and Miss Harvey, made very interesting reports. The finance committee submitted a report which showed that there was a balance of $560.62 on hand. The report was adopted, and after a vote of thanks had been tendered the Germain street congregation for the use of the church, the association adjourned.

Portland Public Library.

Last year the Portland Public Library received a grant of $200 from the Portland council and provision had been made that an annual grant of that amount should be made to the library to pay for the magazines and papers needed. So far this year the library has not received any outside assistance and the trustees have very properly made application to the Common Council to arrange for giving the library an annual grant so that it may be kept up to the high standard it has always maintained. That the people are not fully aware of the boon they possess in this library is evident from the fact that the number of the subscribers only range at between 200 and 300. The library is practically free $1 a year being all that is asked for the privilege of taking out books and the use of the reading room. The shelves contain a fine collection of 3000 or 4000 volumes, and the pleasant reading room has on its tables and side boards an extensive collection of nearly all the best papers and magazines obtainable. It is so well lighted, heated, ventilated and furnished that a pleasanter and more cosey spot to spend a half hour profitably is hard to find.

City Police Court.

Michael McFadden for being drunk on Brittain street was fined $8 or 30 days.

Francis Martelle, an Italian, for being drunk on Main street, north division, was fined $4.

"HACKMETACK" a lasting fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents.

THE POISONING CASE.

that the most important witnesses are yet to be examined. What has come out has not been of a direct nature but on the other hand has been merely circumstantial. To-night something further is anticipated. But it must be remembered that however desirable it is to clear up the mystery, the groundwork for an accusation must first be made.

The enquiry at the Court House was continued last evening, several important witnesses being examined.

Geo. Kilnapp, sworn, testified to his having made boots for McDonald for a number of years. Last made him a pair shortly before the death of the late Geo. Barker. Repaired some for him within the past three or four weeks.

Henry B. Peters, head of the wholesale department in T. B. Barker & Sons, sworn, said he remembered McDonald when he was with the firm several years ago. McDonald left the city but when he returned he was again taken in.

His movements were always kind of jerky. Think he was a little more nervous on Friday than usual. Witness could give no reason for this.

Saw the box addressed to Rev. Mr. Deinstadt at the Coroner's office on Friday last. (Recognized the box). Did not return to the store until Saturday; then made a search about the establishment for similar boxes. Found them. Was present when the arrest was made, and was surprised, although it corroborated my snspicions. In absence of employers I have full charge. On Friday McDonald asked me if he could get off a little earlier than usual on Saturday, and I told him he could if there were not many orders, but he would have to ask the boss first. Don't know that he drew his money out of D. C. Clinch's banking establishment on Saturday.

McDonald was out fishing about three weeks ago; he had two of late Geo. Barker's sons with him. I made the remark it was not right to do so. McDonald said Sunday was no different to him from any other day. Before he left us some years ago he was very religious, and had a high regard for the Sabbath.

Don't remember I had any conversation with Wasson; don't remember pointing out to him where the strychnine was kept. Did not go to see if any had been broached; could not tell, if I had, as we always keep a package open. Can't say if we received any strychnine since the first of the current year without consulting the books. It's not a quick selling drug; sells in small quantities, but never less than a drachm. In piling it away after stock taking the broached package would naturally be put on top. Strychnine is a dangerous poison, and we are naturally careful as to whom we sell it. It would be a pretty hard job to trace it as it is sold. Some of the German was broached. I have no idea what became of the bottle missing from the lower tier. (Identified strychnine boxes.)

On Friday previous to the arrest McDonald was nervous and had dark rings around his eyes. He dropped a parcel (10 or 12 lbs.) so hard on the table as to attract my attention. It was an unusual thing for him to do. That was after my conversation with Wm. Barker.

That conversation began about the poisoning case, the boxes, etc. Barker said it might be McDonald, and I also said I had the same view. Barker said that McDonald being of unsound mind previously, led him to suspect McDonald might be the man. Think I said he had no call to be back nights, and wondered what he was doing there. Wm. Barker and myself arrived at the same conclusion independently of each other. Wasson told me about seeing McDonald at the desk one night, outside the office, and that he disappeared suddenly. There was a light in the office. Wasson said he had only time to put on his overalls when McDonald had disappeared. This was on the Tuesday night before the poisoned candies were received by the clergyman.

Besides this both Gerow and William Barker saw McDonald at the same table in the drug room on different nights.

Our December stock list would show how much strychnine was on hand then, but our books would not show a record of cash sales since then. Any of the clerks in the drug department would sell strychnine.

Have seen McDonald's writing. He was in the habit of using a "J" pen. All clerks make entries in the memorandum book.

[Book sent for and Mr. Peters stepped down pending its arrival.]

Inspector John Weatherhead, sworn, testified having arrested W.m McDonald on Saturday 5th inst with the assistance of Detective Ring. He testified to the articles found on McDonald's person; a sheet of brown wrapping paper, a piece of court plaster, a picture, a piece of paper with shorthand on it, two pieces of bill all enclosed in a memorandum book, a packet of court plaster, a box of cachous, a revolver, with seven chambers loaded, a box of cartridges, a button hook, a pair of scissors, three keys and a piece of bank book.

Witness and Detective Ring that evening searched the prisoner's room at Mrs. Barker, and brought away another piece of brown paper.

H. B. Peters, recalled, and memorandum book shown, identified certain entries as McDonald's but could not identify a similarity between that writing and the writing on the boxes shown.

When I got the overcoat I had to get into the wholesale over the railing, as I had no key to the door. Wm. Barker and a clerk were down stairs in the retail. I threw the overcoat down to Wm. Barker. He stayed down stairs. No one went up to the wholesale with me, and no one else was there.

To Mr. Stockton—We use strychnine in manufacturing and take it out as we want it without making a record of it. There are but two tiers of boxes of strychnine in height, not three. If the opened box was underneath there would be but one box on top of it. We sell combs to pedlars, etc. Have, I think, about three gross on hand now. Twenty-four boxes (same as shown in court) have gone out in these sales in the city and elsewhere, and may be still in existence if not destroyed. I examined McDonald's little hand satchel. It is not a valise. Don't think there was over one pair of cuffs and a collar. No clothes, socks, or anything that would lead me to believe McDonald was going on a long journey.

W B Gerow, recalled, said he would not like to state the writing on the boxes agreed with McDonald's writing in the memorandum book.

To the Solictor-General—I told you on Saturday night that I saw McDonsld at the store Tuesday night, I could not now place him for Tuesday night, but I can for Monday and Saturday nights. I saw him leave with the parcel Saturday night but not, so far as my recollection goes Tuesday night. Witness arrived at the shop that night about 8 o'clock. Wasson was there in the back of the shop. At the time of his examination witness said he had his suspicions aroused on Friday. On Friday witness had no knowledge which gave him suspicions of anybody. He had a curiosity. The grounds of the case being one of poisoning, and he being engaged in the drug business, his curiosity was aroused, and he went to the coroner's. When witness saw McDonald in the drug room he was in a stooping position, with his head down. The table there would come up almost to the witness' hips.

To Mr. Stockton—Understood McDonald when he came out Saturday night to say that he had been trying on a new pair of shoes, Don't recollect him saying "trying songs," Am not positive about his language. Understood he had a parcel of songs; never heard him singing upstairs. McDonald was stooping over when I saw him in the store. He might have been blacking his boots.

Wm. S. Barker, testified that he has general supervision of the retail department of H. W. Barker. He was traveler for the wholesale firm in 1887. He possessed a key of the wholesale by consent of H. W. Barker. He called at the store at night to get his papers. He has been in the wholesale before tea up to 7 o'clock but not very lately. He lent his key to McDonald about three weeks ago. McDonald said he wanted to see Mr. Gerow. He gave the key to McDonald in such a way that he would not want to get it from him again. He returned it within 15 minutes. He saw McDonald in the store on Saturday evening of either the 21st or 28th of last September. Think it was the 28th, the day of the Maritime sports, as that evening he was late at the A. A. grounds. Witness then mentioned a conversation with McDonald, about three weeks ago, when McDonald spoke strongly against religion. The inquiry was adjourned until 7.30 o'clock this evening.

A Plea for Morning Shopping

Now that the Days are Shortening and it becomes necessary to resort to artificial light so early in the afternoon, we beg most respectfully to impress upon the minds of Ladies who have shopping to do (and what Lady has not?) the great advantages that the morning possesses over the afternoon for purchasing DRY GOODS, and submit the following as a few of our reasons for so doing:

The light is invariably better in the forenoon.

The stores are not so crowded.

The salesmen are not so rushed and consequently customers get better attention.

The Goods are in better condition and more accessible so that Ladies can get what they want and not waste their valuable time in waiting.

We always have something of special interest to show to the Ladies who come in the morning, when our salesmen have spare time to introduce the various novelties that are daily arriving for our autumn sales.

Our Establishment is open at seven o'clock in the morning and all salesmen are in their respective departments by eight, arranging the Goods for the day's trade, and bringing forward fresh Stock from the Wholesale Departments of our Warehouse, which must be done every day in order to keep the assortments of the various lines of Goods unbroken, and fill up the vacancies made by the previous day's sales.

For reasons stated above we respectfully submit that Ladies will be studying their own interests by endeavoring to do as much of their shopping as possible between the hours of 9 a. m. and 1 p. m
