The Hay Crop Will Be Short for Several Reasons-General News

WHITE'S COVE, Queens Co., July 20.-The grass crop has improved erably below the average. Hay will be scarce, as upland grass will be short, while the recent rise of water will destroy the marsh grass. Crops in general are gaining much of late, owing to the showery and hot weather. The apple crop will be excellent.

The recent rise of water has submerged the greater part of the low water wharf. Men for haying are in great the fact that a large part of our farmers' sons leave the farm as soon as they grow up, in order to enter into other occupations or else leave for the States, where they can secure more lucrative employment at the same work. The woodboat Laura, Capt. Alex. Gale, took in a cargo of pressed hay here this week. The hay, which was consigned to the King Lumber Co., Ltd., of Chipman, was shipped by Hon. L. P. Farris, who has another eargo to send yet to the same firm. In the course of a few days a new roof will be put on the Mill Cove Baptist church. Ernest Straight of the Narrows has been engaged to teach the school here for the ensuing term.

J. E. Austin, traveller for the Sun, is in Upper Gagetown this week. Dr. Frank D. White, who has been visiting his father, C. W. White, for a few days, has returned to his practice at Lewiston, Me. Mrs. Arthur Cass (nee Miss Mary Belyea), formerly of this place, but now of Malden. Mass., is here visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Farris, Mrs. H. E. White returned from a visit to friends in St. John on Wednesday.
