REMARKS ON COURSE OF STUDY.

Students intending to complete the Collegiate course, will commence the study of French and Latin while in the Academic Department.

Beyond this prescribed course, facilities are offered to Students for pursuing other modern languages, as Italian, Spanish and German, also the Greek and Hebrew.

German may be substituted for Latin in the Collegiate course, if preferred; and a high degree of attainment in Music or Drawing will be considered an equivalent to one of the modern languages.

PENMANSHIP.

Daily exercises in Penmanship are required until good execution is attained.

READING AND SPELLING.

Particular attention is given to perfecting Students in these branches.

COMPOSITION.

Composition is made a speciality, and will be required throughout the entire course, in forms varying with the advancement of the student. At a proper stage it will be connected with the principles and practice of literary criticism.
