The marriage took place this week of Capt Thos. C. James, 63rd Rifles, of the inland revenue de-partment, and Miss Annie S. Chisholm, daughter of the late John Chisholm. The eeremony was performed by Rev. Thomas. Fowler, at the residence of the bride's mother, 13

et. The bride was attired in a travelling costume. After the ceremony the happy couple and the guests. consisting of their immediate relatives, breakfasted together. Immediately thereafter Capt and Mrs. James were driven to the depot, where they took the train for St. John. As the train left the depot a lot of torpedoes pla ed on the track by friends of the groom were exploded. Capt. and Mrs. James will spend a couple of weeks in and Mrs. James will spend a couple of weeks in Upper Canada.

The happy couple were the rec pients of many gifts, including a magnificent easy chair from the inland revenue staft, and an elegant pisno lamp from the officers of the 33rd rifes.

It is understood that William Parker of the post office staft, and Miss Chisholm, Mrs. James' sister, will be married on Wedneeday of next week.

The marriage took place at 8t. Patrick's church Monday of William A. Robertson, second engineer of the government steamer Acadia, son of Alexander Robertson, chief customs gauger, to Miss Mary Mand Roache, daughter of the late Garret Roach. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McCarthy. Charles Robertson, the groom's brother acted as best man and Miss Margaret Wells was the bridesmaid. The happy couple, who were the recipients of many gifts, left on the C. P. R. on a trip to Boston.

to Boston.

Last week was of course the quietest week in the whole year, with absolutely nothing doing socially. Church going took up a liberal share of most people's time, and the rest of it was quietly spent. With Easter day this was all changed, and this week as

Easter day this was all changed, and this week as regards public entertainments will be a gay one. At a meeting of the directors of the Victoria School of Art and Design, in the mayor's office this morning, the following resolution was moved by Mrs. Leonowens, seconded by Michael Dwyer, and was adopted by a standing vote, and it was decided to send a floral wreath to be placed on the casket:

was alopted by a standing vote, and it was decided to send a floral wreath to be placed on the casket:

The board of directors of the Victoria School of Art and Design met this morning to perform one of the most painful duties which has devolved upon it members since its inception, i.e., to express their deep sorrow, personally and publicly, and to deplore the death of one of their most cherished and gifted members, the late Mrs J. F. Kenny, and above all to place on record their high appreciation of the nobility of her character; while giving expression to their profound sympathy with her husband, Mr. J. F. Kenny, and entire household, who have lost a member of such rare excellence of character and such varied accomplishments and graces, they wish especially to place in everlastinar remembrance that it was very largely due to Mrs. J. F. Kenny's wisdom, loyalty, practical sagacity, fi. eartistic sense and untirning efforts that the Victoria School of: Art and Design was founded just ten years ago, as the most fing of all institutions to commemorate the jubilee of the reign of Queen Victoria I has been exceedinally gratifying and truly characteristic to fi. d that Mrs. Kenny's intervisat weeks almost ofher ille. Almost her last hought shout the public welfare of this crial in which she took so active and noble a part of the victoria School of Art and Design, but also as a fitting commemorate the institution, and the properties the directors desire most emphatially that the success of the said institution in the future may be combined with an appropriate building, so as to serve not only to meet the exigencies of the Victoria School of Art and Design, but also as a fitting commemoration of the virtue, goodness and grace of their highly estemmed and deeply lamented colleague and friend.

been to this clay, privately as he has done and of the inspiration, she has left behind to those who now mourn her loss, to go and of likewise.

The deceased lady will be mourned by citizens of all classes and creeds. Her charm of manner and lovable temperament made her a popular leader in the social life of Halifax, and her admirable business qua lities, energy and charitable disposition caused her services to be easterly sought after in any movement in this city which had a benevolent object. Her services were always cheerfully given and it is a tact which many clitzens are in a position to recognize that some of the worthiest institutions now established in Halifax owe their success in a large measure to the valuable assistance rendered them by the late Mrs. Kenny. While other organizations will seel her loss keenly, there can be no doubt that her loss will be felt most severely by the school of art and design, of which she was one if the earliest and most active friends, and the society of the Children of Mary (Convent), of which she was president, until her failing health compelled her retirement.

The deceased lady wis born in Montreal, her father being Mr. Furness of that city. By her death her co-laborers, in charitable work particularly will her presence a sense of personal loss and the husband and relatives of the deceased lady will have the sympathy of the whole community in their bereavement. The funeral takes place from St. Mary's cathedral, to morrow at 10 s. m.

Apr. 21—Easter week so 'ar has brought very lit-compared to a social line seems to have a ven, way to polities which is the principal topic of the day. Election came off on Tuesday and the re-sult is strongly in favor of Messrs T.R. Black and A.

The last place one expected to see dame fashion The last place one expected to see dame fashion place her seal of approbation on was the old neglected looking Fair building, but such is the fact for every day rain or shine some of our cilizens are there to take a turn in entertaining if learning to manage a bicycle can come under that head, and under Mr. boy's careful guidence one readily concluded there is nothing at present to counteract the fascination and enthusiam of his numerous pupils many of whom will soon graduate.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Robert Pagsley gave a small dance which was greatly enjoyed, as it was given for the pleasure of Miss Winslow of Freder-icton who came with Miss Pagsley to spend the Easter holidays. The annual closing exercises of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium classes was given on Monday atternoon in Music Hall, indescriba the feats were performed by the gentlemen who were all in decolets suits that were in most cases vastly becoming. The clab drill by a number of pretty young ladies attired in dark skirts and white waists with blue ribbons was a credit to themselves and an added amount for their teacher, Mr. Crocker, who certainly is a marvel for scaling high places, and a capital instructor if rounds of applause can be taken as a guarantee. The new orchestra was in attendance; although they would fain have one think they are amateurs, there is much evidence that they are very close bordering on professionals; after this no one will be surprised at any role Froi. Sterne chooses to appear in as a musician for it appears quite a mystery how he kept the public from finding out he was such an excellent violinist. The Easter music has been pronounced very good in all the churches although many of the singers are still suffering from the effects of la grippe and a lack of mile voice; is very observable whether it is a case of will not or cannot I am not able to say.
