METHODIST
CONVENTION
IN GAGETOWN

Gagetown, June 11.—The annual district of the Methodist church convened at Gagetown on the 8th and 9th inst. The ministerial session was held on Tuesday at 10.30 p. m., ministers present being Revs. J. C. Berrie, chairman; J. N. McConnell, B. A., financial secretary; Thos. Stebbings, B. Ramsey, C. K. Hudson, J. K. King,
W. R. Pepper, sr., W. Rogers Pepper, Henry Penna and C. F. Stebbings, B. A.

After devotional exercises the meeting proceeded to the examination of the character and qualifications of the ministers and probationers, determining the status of the probationers, and it was gratifying to be able to return a negative reply to the questions "Who have died, resigned, withdrawn or been suspended during the year." One minister, Rev. W. W.
Brewer, was recommended to a superannuated relationship. C. F. Stebbings was recommended as a probationary of three years. This was followed by an interesting discussion of the means that should be adopted for the promotion of the work of God in the district.

At 8 p. m. the congregation joined the ministers in a very profitable service, conducted by the chairman, in which a strong and helpful sermon was preached by Rev. W. W. Brewer.
The regular work of the synod began on Wednesday a. m., at which were present the following representatives from Fredericton, Mr. J. J. Weddall, Nashua, Wm. Munroe, Stanley, Samuel Christie, J. R. Forsey, and M.
E. A. Burpee. After profitable devotional exercises Rev. W. R. Pepper was elected statistical secretary and T.
Stebbings and Wm. Munroe auditors.

The morning and afternoon sessions were occupied in examining the financial report, which showed a marked advance in the financial position of the missionary fund on some of the circuits. The day's work was brought to a close by an enthusiastic missionary meeting, at which stirring and suggestive addresses were delivered by Revs. Thos. Stebbings, J. J.
Weddall, J. K. King and J. R. McConnell.

Thursday a. m. the following members were elected to the various conference committees: Stationing committee, Rev. J. W.
McConnell, B. A., reserve, Rev. J. K.
King, Class teacher, W. W. Brewer and J. W. Smith, E. P. Sugrue, C. K.
Hudson and J. W. Tennant. Contin-gent fund, H. Penna and Wm. Munroe.
Sustentation fund, J. S. Oreg, E. A.
May and C. A. Sampson. Temperance, J. K. King, and J. J. Weddall. Memorials, H. Penna, sr. and Asa Currie.
Church property, W. Rogers Pepper and D. H. Harrison. Nominating committee, Thos. Stebbings and W.
Rogers. Educational, W. W. Brewer and Dr. J. R. Inch. Children's fund, J. W. McConnell and C. A. Sampson.
Sunday school report was presented by Rev. C. K. Hudson, which evidenced marked good and faithful work and marked advance in the schools of Boletown. The next annual meeting will convene at Taymouth.

The resolution of the ministerial session was reaffirmed re the carrying out of the discipline in order to promote the work of God.

This most harmonious meeting adjusted at noon with the highest appreciation of the kindness and hospitality of the pastor and friends of our church at Gagetown, to whom the hearty thanks of the meeting were presented by unanimous resolution.

NEED FIRE
PREVENTION
SERVICE

To the Editor of The Standard: The people of New Brunswick have in past years had many lessons that could have taught them the great necessity for care in the prevention of forest fires, yet today we find the situation, so far as the occupied or partially occupied areas of the province are concerned to be almost as bad as it has been in years of extreme drought.

Surely there is enough of ordinary business ability and common sense among our people to try and take steps to prevent the wanton waste of wealth which cannot be replaced in a generation.

So far as Crown Lands are concerned, the organization of the Crown Land Department has evidently done good work, and it is upon lands where people live that the chief trouble now lies.

Municipal Responsibility.
Under the present Municipality Act the County Council has powers to take steps to prevent the destruction of forest lands and surely the County Council should take note of the present situation and resolve before another year rolls round to have their particular county in a position to prevent fires.

Were two or more fire wardens appointed for each parish in the same way as other parish officers and with the duty of investigating all signs of fire and vested with power to enter upon any lands or premises and call all able-bodied men to help them with magisterial powers of issuing warrants for all infractions of fire laws, all services fires might be avoided.

It Would Be Profitable To All.
The objection may be raised that this will cost the municipalities money of course in dry seasons it will cost money, but it will not cost one-half of one per cent. of what it may save.
Cities maintain fire departments at a great expense, yet a city can be rebuilt if burned, the loss is not irreparable, but in the case of a growing forest when the soil also is burned it may be a century before the forest can be renewed and in rocky territory such as found round Mead-am Junction or in Muskoka it will take a millennium of absence from fire to again cover the rocks with the forest floor which at one time supported large trees.

It Is Worth While.
Surely then when the wealth of the country is at stake, a wealth which may be lost in a few centuries, it is worth while for sensible people to take reasonable means to protect themselves. Let us by some means organize a fire prevention service in every parish.

IS SUING
COLLERS FOR
$50,000

New York, June 10.—Captain Walter Smith, of Florida, who is suing Collier's Weekly for $50,000 on a charge of libel contained in an article published in April, 1906, told Judge Oerard and a jury in the Supreme Court yesterday just how he killed Guy Bradley, a game warden, near Cape Sable, Florida, July 3, 1905.
Captain Smith maintained that he had killed the game warden in self defence and he denied he was the sort of man Collier's Weekly had painted him.

Under the caption "Bird Protec-tion's First Martyr, A True Story," Collier's Weekly published a story that the Smith family regard as offensive.

Captain Smith, who is nearly seventy years old, said that he and his sons had gone out in a boat near Cape Sable to hunt for "nigger geese." Bradley, he said, put in an appearance with a pistol in his hand, demanded that one of Captain Smith's sons surrender, as he had a warrant for him.

Had a Pistol.
"Bradley had a pistol," said Captain Smith, "and when I saw it I jumped behind a mast. When he shot I fired back. He fell on his side, but he did not get up again. I had a bead on him, and just as he was about to fire again I shot and he fell over. Then we went home, got my wife and children and sailed to Key West, where I gave myself up."

On cross-examination Captain Smith said that neither he nor his sons had ever shot birds of plumage, and instead that the game warden had received false information about his family.

"Did you wait to see if he was dead?" counsel for the defence asked.
"No, but I kept him in view, because I thought maybe he was crouching there and might get up again."

He testified that he had killed the warden, and declared, and with no reason why he should try to change the aspect of the case at this late date.
Records of the Key West courts show that Smith was not convicted for killing Bradley, and his counsel, in summing up the case, told the jury that while his client had been compelled to shoot a fellow man, he was in no sense a "murderer."
