Put something by for a sunny day!

WHEN the horizon brightens with an opportunity that may lead to your success and prosperity, do not let it find you unready to take it on.

Through lack of capital, many men have been forced to see their opportunities pass in many cases all that was required was a very small sum to invest.

A few dollars saved each week or month, deposited to your credit in a savings account at The Bank of Toronto, with the interest it earns, will soon accumulate to a substantial sum. Have it ready when the call comes for your venture.

Your savings account is invited.

FOUR STATES TO CHOOSE GOVERNORS

Washington, D.C., Nov. 1.—Although this is an off year in politics, there will be voting aplenty next Tuesday to attract the attention of the public. Only four States are to choose full tickets of State officers, including governors, but there will be elections of minor officials in numerous other States, elections on proposed constitutional amendments, together with the choice of county and municipal officers in many widely scattered sections of the country.

The States which will elect governors are Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maryland and Kentucky.

Letter to News Record

MILK PRICES.

The milk producers of this vicinity have formed an association and are asking practically the same price as Toronto producers are getting laid down in Toronto. In Toronto where the Board of Commerce and the price of milk is selling for 16 cents per quart or 13 pints tickets for $1.00.

The milk for Toronto is shipped into the city from a radius of one hundred miles and the producer has to pay the freight. The vendors of Kitchener offered to pay Toronto price less freight and sell milk at fourteen cents a quart. This offer was not accepted by the producers, and notice given if the higher price was not guaranteed by Nov. 1st, the milk would be withheld. The public can demand an investigation by the Board of Commerce and I think it would be a wise course to take.

SOME REFLECTIONS.

Mr. Editor:—The present provincial and local conditions are somewhat unusual and even astonishing. Such an occasion for surprise was the announcement of the results of the recent elections, both as regards the Legislative election and the Referendum.

All causes, being effects of other causes, may be subject to a chain of results set in motion far from the finality in question. Thus a predicted event may fail to take its place in history, because a far antecedent cause was disturbed in its course of causative evolution.

There is nothing more conducive to the promotion of satisfaction and harmony, among the people, than the living in an atmosphere of rich simplicity. The strength and convincing influence of moral power, which works on the reason and intellectual faculties, at once becomes an irresistible momentum in our ultimate choice of action on questions submitted for our solution.

Now we claim to be living in a land of democratic institutions, which signifies a form of government, in which the supreme power, is lodged in the hands of the people collectively, or in which the people exercise the power of legislation. Such was the government of Athens.

It is a generally accepted axiom that majorities should rule and this rule is often referred to as one of the prizes of democratic institutions. But let us see how this popular principle works under certain conditions.

Take for illustration the recent election in North Waterloo. There were six candidates in the field, the highest number of votes received by one candidate was 572, which according to democratic institutions gave him the seat, but the other five candidates were accorded 10,039 votes which means 453 of a majority for the five candidates against the one, or that 572 voters according to democratic institutions shall have the right to rule 10,039.

Unless our legislators invent some remedy for this weakness in our code, we will either have to endure the consequences or cure the conditions. Our griefs how swift, our remedies how slow? Although not a very old man, let me note some of the evidences of progress in this district since my boyhood. There was a fine distillery in full operation on the River road between Bridgeport and Breslau. Bridgeport itself had four licensed hotels, all doing a smashing trade. There was a distillery between Preston and Galt, in full operation, another large one in Hespeler, another in Conestoga, another in Elora, one in Salem, and another in Fergus. This would indicate that the manufacture of spirituous liquor was quite an important industry at that time.

To-day, however, every one of these institutions is closed and as far as I can learn nearly every one of them is in ruins. To-day, nearly little insignificant grog dens, such as were patronized sixty years ago, would not be tolerated under the advanced conditions and civilization of to-day, and the rank of excellence and preference attained, is not through the instrumentality of force or prohibition, but is rather attributable to human evolution and the more perfect comprehension of the eternal doctrine of liberty and right.

We are told that the religion of Theocracy, of which the Israelites furnished an illustrious example, only lasted until the time of Saul, consequently the comparative stage of perfection at present enjoyed, cannot be attributed to this cause, but is rather disclosed and emitted by the eternal brotherhood of man. Women like Sappho, the Greek lyric poetess, who lived 600 B.C.

lost their freedom because man no longer believed in the theory of liberty. Men became the owners of the women, and there came a time in the history of women when they did not think: And so in the ages, with a few brilliant exceptions, women performed the ordinary routine of the slave in the kitchens of their lords and masters men.

But this could not last. Evolution cannot stand for such ignoble things, hence the illuminating influence of time, the awakening of the consciousness of women, by inspiration from a higher source, and education, the outflow of the very works of philosophy, wisdom, literature, painting and music, of which men were the authors. "Fifty years hence a philosopher tells us that men and women will associate in perfect harmony, they will think together, reason together. There will be no avocation in which men with women cannot take part. There will be in the next fifty years, in the Dominion of Canada almost perfect equality.

But woman has her specific, particular place, and man, his specific particular place. Woman can scale a height different from man, and man will climb to a height that woman cannot scale, because they are different.

The God of the universe has implanted in the soul of women the idea that men are their natural protectors. When a decision is to be made in a great crisis, men sometimes must take the lead. When a woman deeply and truly loves a man, she feels now as she felt in the past, and will give herself as long as the sun shines, that flinging herself on his protection, he will be her refuge in a time of storm. This realization does not limit woman or lower man. It makes them feel the tenderness of the conscious directing energy from the highest altitude of superior sources, which are endeavoring to the men and women of our beloved country, that man and woman are one only when they mutually respect, admire, and understand each other.

By way of conclusion, kindly permit me to extend my kindest invitation, to those sincere ones who through some extensive and fanatical impulse, are endeavoring to effect reformation and elevate the human race by the application of force, to cease impeding the evolution of the race and instead try to accomplish some good by coming over to the geniuses of liberty, where your environment will assuredly be most in harmony with the great laws of the universe.

That sweep as do the fingers of the harpist, the chords of a golden harp.

THE NERVOUS SCHOOL CHILD

Needs Rich, Red Blood to Regain Health and Strength.

Many children start school in excellent health, but after a short time home work, examinations, hurried meals and crowded school rooms cause their blood to become weak and thin, their nervous system to break down, and color and spirits lost. It is a great mistake to let matters drift when boys and girls show symptoms of nervousness or weak blood. They are almost sure to fall victims of St. Vitus dance, or drift into debility that leads to other troubles. Regular meals, outdoor exercise and plenty of sleep are necessary to combat the nervous wear of school life. But it is still more important that parents should pay strict attention to the school child's blood supply. Keep this rich and red by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills according to directions and the boy or girl will be sturdy and fit for school. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Pearl G. Harrington, Kingsville, Ont., who says:—I have often felt that I should write you and let you know what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me. At the age of thirteen I was afflicted with St. Vitus dance. The trouble became so severe that I had to be taken from school. I was given medical treatment but it did not help me. In fact I was steadily growing worse. Then a friend advised my mother to give me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which she did, with the happiest results, as the pills completely cured me and I was again able to take up my studies and attend school. Again about three years ago I was attacked with nervous prostration and once more took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using five boxes was fully restored. I cannot praise these pills too highly as I believe they will cure any case of St. Vitus dance, or restore anyone who is weak, nervous or run down.

You can safely give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to the most delicate child, or take them yourself with equally good results when you need a blood tonic. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.
