Under-Currents

By The Duchess

"Oh, I think I'm rather glad I didn't share your feast," says she, with the first attempt at laughter since they met to-day. And then with a gentle little side glance "That isn't true, however, I wish I had been with you, if only" with another gleam of gaiety "to help you cook it."

"Darling heart," says he, impressing a swift but fond kiss upon her hand—they are providently in a very remote part of the garden. "Do you think you could be happy with me, poor as we should be? If I thought that, Griselida, I—"

He hesitates, as if uncertain how to proceed.

"Well," says she with mild encouragement.

"Will you marry me, run away with me? Just think," says he eagerly "whatever comes of it, whatever happens, you will see a way for us to escape this desolation without asking such an extreme step as you propose. Oh, and besides," says she, throwing out her hands with a little emphatic gesture "I know I should never have the courage, never."

"You would if you loved me," says he unhesitatingly. "However, I'll see what Grace thinks. There's a step to go away and try to see me to-morrow if you can."

They have barely time to separate before the giant figure of Grunch is seen approaching through the laurels.

"But she could come and live with us."

"Let us wait," interrupts she nervously. "Nothing lasts for ever, and if you speak to your sister—you say she is cleverer than I am—perhaps she will see a way for us to escape this desolation without asking such an extreme step as you propose. Oh, and besides," says she, throwing out her hands with a little emphatic gesture "I know I should never have the courage, never."

"You would if you loved me," says he unhesitatingly. "However, I'll see what Grace thinks. There's a step to go away and try to see me to-morrow if you can."

HOW A YOUNG GIRL SUFFERED

And Was Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Told By Her Mother.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough. It has done for my daughter, she was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For three months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I didn't know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. F. Faxon, 518 Marcy Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Report Many Cases of Rheumatism Now

Says we must keep feet dry; avoid exposure and eat less meat. Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salt occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels, and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and excrete it in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.
