Making Merry

At Mealtime, Means Good Appetite, Good Digestion, Good Cheer, Good Heart and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Do You Use Them? If Not, Why?

DYSPEPSIA is the skeleton at the lest; the death's head at the festive pard. It turns cheer into cheerlessness, board. It turns cheer into cheerlessness, gaity into gloom and festivity into farce. It is the ghost in the home, haunting every room and hitting at every fireplace, making otherwise merry people shudder and fear. If there is one disease more than another that should be promptly attacked and worsted, it is DYSPEPSIA. It is the very genius of unhappiness, unrest and ill nature. In time it will turn the best man almost into a demon of temporary into a demon the best man almost into a demon of temper and make a good woman something to be dreaded and avoided.

It is estimated that half of ones troubles in this world comes of a stomach gone wrong—of Dyspepsia, in short. Foods taken into the stomach and not properly cared for; converted into substances that the system has no use for and hasn't any notion what to do with n what to do with. It is irritated and vexed, pained and annoyed, and in a little while this state of things becomes general and directly there is "something bad to pay." The whole system is in a state of rebellion and yearns to do something rash and disagreeable and a fine case of Dyspepsia is established and opens up for business.

If you were bitten by a mad dog, you would not lose a day in going to a cure; do you know you should be just as prompt with Dyspepsia? Rabies is a quick death, dyspepsia is a slow one; this is about all dyspepsia is a slow one; this is atom the the difference. There is a cure for rabies and so there is for Dyspepsia and one cure was about as difficult to discover as the was about as difficult one and the F. er. Pasteur found out one and the F. A. STUART COMPANY the other, and

A. STUART COMPANY the other, and it is no longer a secret, as it is made public in the wonderful Tablet, which so many are using and praising to-day. One writer says of it:

"Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are little storehouses of digestion which mix with the stomach juices, digest food, retingle the mucous membrane and its nerve centres, give to the blood a great wealth of digestive fluids, promote digestion and stays by the stomach until all its duties are complete." are complete."

Some cures are worse than the disease; they demand This, That and the Other, and the patient despairs at the requirements; but not so with the Stuart Dyspepsia Tablet; they are easy and pleasant to take and no nausea or ill feeling follows. These is none of this "getting all-overthe-mouth" like a liquid and making the remedy a dread. Another writer says:

"It matters not what the condition of the stomach, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets only improve the juices and bring quiet to the whole digestive canal, of which the stomach is the centre."

No. 3.—PUZZLE OF FARMER HALE'S LETTER.

Farmer Hale had a son studying at an agricultural college in New Jersey who every now and then sends home a letter the reading of which is very puzzling, and bothers his father considerably. The son has very funny ways of writing; for instance, he spells the name Utica, UTK, and Tennessee, XEC. His last cryptogramic letter is illustrated above, and Farmer Hale asks the assistance of our puzzle solvers in deciphering the same.

No. 3. Puzzle of the Fighting Fishes of Siam.—Three of the little fish were paired off with each of three of the oig fish and engaged their attention while the other four little fighters polished off the fourth big one in just three minutes. Then five little fellows attacked one big fish and killed him in two minutes and twenty seconds, while the other little ones were battling with the other big ones. It is evident that if the remaining two groups had been assisted by one more fighter they would have finished in the same time, so there is only sufficient resistance left in each of the big ones to call for the attention of a little fish for two minutes and twenty-four seconds. Therefore if seven now attack instead of one, they would do it in one-seventh of that time, or twenty and four-sevenths of a second. In dividing the little fish forces against the remaining two big onesone would be attacked by seven and the other by six-the last fish, therefore, at the end of the twenty and four-sevenths seconds would still require the punishment which one little one could administer in that time. The whole thirteen little fellows concentrating their attack, would give the fish his quetus in one-thirteenth of that time, or one and fifty-three ninety-first seconds. Adding up the totals of the time given in the several rounds-3 minutes, minutes and 24 seconds, 20 four-seventh seconds and fifty-three ninety-first seconds, we have 5 minutes 46 and twothirteenth seconds as the entire time consumed in the battle.
