

Yet speech without a specific constructive suggestion;

filled with general recrimination e.g.

"the record of the past eighteen months stands at an all-time high in futility."

Government does not claim all wisdom, all strength and all loyalty;

Would welcome "ablest administrators"

Has sought them everywhere, and added many to war-time services.

Let Opposition give specific names of

"ablest administrators" to work out "master plan";

Names will be considered on three conditions:

1. Fitness for office;
2. Willingness to serve;
3. Ability to find seats in Parliament.

Difficult to find men without partisan affiliations with real experience of public affairs.

No use making shadow cabinets: want only names of men willing to serve.
