

IN PAIN OR TROUBLE

HERE'S A FRIEND.

THE book of nature is written in a language difficult to master. Those who have pored over this wonderful book all their lives confess, with humility, that they know but little. Happy are they if they have grasped a meaning here and there which has seemed to throw a flood of light upon what was obscure.

Nature will be sought after with diligence; else she will not yield up her most trivial secret. When she finds a reverent disciple she will give him here and there; but never will she supply the illumination of the easy concordance.

She writes her story in the rocks; she gives us the immemorial forest in the flame of the modern grate.

Many things man has found out; he does not yet understand the mystery of pain.

In some vague way he thinks it is the punishment awarded for broken laws. He asks why he should be punished for breaking a command whose existence he did not so much as suspect.

Nature is silent. She does not answer the question. She goes on punishing—till we find out.

Merciless, you say. And yet we learn best through chastisement.

Friend, did you not, in your trouble, learn more than you ever did in the happy, laughing days when the sun shone only to bless?

Pain is in the world—mental and physical pain. We have the former because something ever urges us to ask the supreme question (so much more important than the price of sugar), "What am I?" We have the latter because—we did wrong and did not know it.

'Tis a happy dispensation, that if we have the bane, we also have the antidote.

If, for instance, we have cholera, cholera morbus, cold, sore throat, chills, cramps, fever and ague, chills and fever or malaria, we have Dr. Wilson's Cramp and Pain Reliever.

This celebrated preparation can be taken internally or applied externally. Disease is the effect of a cause. Dr.

Wilson's Cramp and Pain Reliever not only cures the effects of the disease but the cause as well. This is what makes it a most invaluable medicine.

Taken internally, it throws the body into a profuse perspiration, and with the perspiration, the disease, whatever it may be, is thrown off. Thus fevers, in their early stage, can be cured by the timely use of Dr. Wilson's Cramp and Pain Reliever.

The pangs of the toothache dare not make themselves felt when Dr. Wilson's Cramp and Pain Reliever is used.

And pray do not laugh if we mention the toothache seriously. Josephine herself, who adored the hero, tells us that Napoleon, who faced the world in arms, grew pale with a single twinge of the toothache and rolled on the floor, howling with pain.

We play the man in the large affairs of life; it is the seeming trifles which betray our intrinsic littleness.

Again, Dr. Wilson's Cramp and Pain Reliever will cure burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, congestion, inflammation of the lungs, pneumonia, rheumatism, etc.

A reliable family remedy, equally efficacious for internal and external use, Dr. Wilson's Cramp and Pain Reliever should be in every home in the country. We say this with emphasis when we consider our scattered population, which, outside the cities and towns, is spread over a vast territory, where there is isolation, and, in the moment of need, such distance as makes it impossible to procure aid.

The remedy, in its character, is comprehensive. Moreover, it is perfectly harmless.

Scalds, burns and bruises are of frequent occurrence, especially where there are young children, who are liable to accidents.

How important it is to have a remedy at hand which will be efficacious, which will save your doctor's bills, and which you can apply at once with immediate effect?

USE TURKISH DYES AND YOU WILL USE NO OTHER.

of
ev
no
m ha
ex
ch
rh

Dr
wi
wh
ha
say
wi
fai
cui

affi

unf

I

It

pro

pla

this

for

esp

the

C

lung

seri

Dr.

Sub

But

to l

can

This

brea

frien

C

son's

with

fami

of th

repe

the

part

from

alwa

emer

W

his

enab

of m

accid

cann

Wils

whic

and v