RADIOL TREATMENT
*prolongs the life of a horse's radiation all soft swellings that disfigure and lame a horse, as Sprained Tendons, Windgalls, Bag Spavins, Capped Elbow, Big Leg, Enlarged Glands, etc.

a worn horse's legs, and is a certain cure for puffy joints and Leo Wain "counteracts that daily wear and tear of the legs unavoidable with the horse in constant work, whether training, racing or on the road.

One flask of "Radiol" will make a gallon of valuable leg wash.

6 Mar., 1908.
Dear Sir,—I have found Radiol very effective in reducing capped hocks and similar enlargements on horses' legs, and I therefore, consider your claim that it is a necessary stable requisite quite genuine.
Yours faithfully, W. M. PRICE, Estate Manager to the Earl of Minto, Howick, N. B., England.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Veterinary.

GREEDY FEEDER.

I have a horse that, when fed, will grab great mouthfuls of both hay and grain and chew and swallow both at once. He is in good order, but his hair is very rough. E. W.

Ans.—He eats too greedily and does not masticate his food thoroughly. I would advise you to have his teeth dressed. Do not give him both hay and grain at the same time. Feed him oats in a box with a large bottom, and scatter the grain over the whole bottom so that he cannot get a large mouthful. When he has eaten his oats, feed him hay, or reverse matters and feed hay first. The habit is not due to disease or digestive derangement, but is very liable to produce such. V.

SWOLLEN LEGS.

We keep heavy horses, and during the winter time they are sometimes working every day, and at other times they stand several days without exercise, in which cases they become constipated and their legs swell. How would feeding a little salts daily in mixed chaff act as a treatment to keep them in good condition?
J. W. B.

Ans.—A little Epsom salts, say a heaped tablespoonful daily, acts as an alterative, but has little or no action on the bowels. However, it might have a tendency to prevent the troubles you mention, and, at all events, can do no harm. The proper treatment is the administration of an aloetic purgative as 10 drams aloes and 2 drams ginger, feeding on laxative food, and giving as regular exercise as possible. V.

Miscellaneous.

A SALE OF CATTLE.

I sold three head of cattle to "A" for a lump sum, on condition that he paid for them, and lifted them, on stated dates; he paid me $3 at the time of purchase. He failed either to lift them or pay for them, and came a week afterwards, when I demanded pay for the extra feed and care, which he refused.
Did he not commit a breach of contract, and thus make the sale void? Also, in that case, am I not entitled to keep the money paid down, as damages for breach of contract? W. H.

Ans.—We do not consider the sale void for the delay mentioned; but there was certainly a breach of contract on A's part, and he is liable in damages to a reasonable amount for the extra feed and care.

STABLE REQUISITE.

Liniments that can be depended on for reducing swellings or curing various ailments of the horse's legs are in demand.
Radiol is claimed to effect a cure without blistering or removal of hair. Writing to The Radiol Co., London, England, on November 6th last, Wm. Price, Estate Manager to the Earl of Minto, Hawick, N. B., England, said: "I have found Radiol very effective in reducing capped hocks and similar enlargements on horses' legs, and I therefore consider your claim that it is a necessary stable requisite quite genuine." The Canadian agent is Thos. Reid, 9 St. Nicholas street, Montreal, P. Q. He will be pleased to furnish particulars regarding this drug.
