REMINISCENCES OF ORIEL COLLEGE And the Oxford Movement.

By T. MOZLEY, formerly Fellow of Oriel. 2 vols. crown 8vo. 3s. 6d.
Many before now Oakley Froude, Kennard, not to mention Newman himself have contributed to the story of the Tractarian Movement but these, not even the famous Apologist will compare with the volumes now before us in respect to minute fullness, close personal observation, and character of the times. I refer to the Oxford Review, who knows nothing and cares nothing for the merits of the Oxford Movement, these Reminiscences in their vivid power and eloquent candour, must possess a great charm. To a few survivors of the Tractarianism who know the story or had a personal stake in the issue they are fast becoming Mr. Mozley can recall incidents and characters by the score, and acquaintances long passed from the scene, and present to us with a life-an reality which is a sufficient guarantee of faithfulness. P. OF PATRISON in the London Academy.

We do not know a work which on the whole will so well repay perusal as these Reminiscences of Mr. Mozley. He is an acute observer of character; his own analysis motives with the greatest clarity and detail; a false note, with their ethical or intellectual, in those who are supposed to be devout and above criticism. Literary World (London).

University life has never been more vividly depicted. Almost every page contains an anecdote of this or that fellow, or an enterprising incident concerning some of the members of the highest Church dignitaries. Philadelphia Bulletin
It is in the reminiscences which deal with Oxford Newman that every reader will be most interested. But there is much besides in these volumes that is interesting, and much that is amusing.

There are good stories about the Wilberforces about Archdeacon Denison, and about others who were associated with the Oxford Movement.

CONSUMPTION

And all like diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart, successfully treated at the Ontario Pulmonary Institute, No. 135 Church Street, opposite the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, Ont. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D., M.C.P.S.C., Proprietor.
The only Institute of the kind in the Dominion of Canada.
All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by the most improved and educated Inhalations, combined with the proper constitutional remedies.
Nearly 40,000 cases successfully treated during the past sixteen years in various forms of head throat or lung troubles.

CONSUMPTION.
There is a point which we would advert, and that is the unwillingness of those suffering from consumption to acknowledge themselves in any danger until their disease has reached an advanced stage. This arises, no doubt, in a great degree from the presumed hopelessness of such cases. We would warn all who have a frequent cough, a sore throat, or who become stagnant and "out of breath" on every slight exertion, that they are on the high road to all those hazards and symptoms which constitute pulmonary consumption. That disease begins in the majority of cases as "croup," ending in "croup throat," that gradually it extends down the windpipe, rendering the voice slightly hoarse and finally it first observed on rising aloud, and that finally involves the bronchial tubes and the air-cells. The seat of the primary disease is in the mucous membrane of the throat, windpipe and bronchial tubes. The excretion of mucus from this membrane and that the color matter deposited on its surface. It, therefore, they could avoid the dangers which attend consumption in its advanced stage, they will not regard those signs of impending evil, but by prompt and judicious means seek to restore the offending organ to its former tone and health.
By the system of a dedicated Inhalation thousands of cases are cured after all hope of a cure is past. An thousands are to-day deriving all benefit of this very fact.
Consultation free and prices of the Institute within the reach of all.
If possible call personally for consultation and an opinion, but if impossible to do so write for "List of Questions" and "Medical Treatise."
