Trade Notes

IN THESE DAYS WHEN progressive farmers are hurrying to provide themselves with labor saving powers, the line offered by the International Harvester Company of America should not be overlooked. Buying one of these engines is buying dependability, and that the highest assurance that every other gasoline engine requisite is included. There are quite a number of styles and sizes, so that every possible requirement is met. Another advantage is the opportunity of dealing with the responsible, well known local agents of this company. You know, to begin with, that if anything should not be right it will be made right. It is to the farmer's interest to do this and the International Harvester Company of America cannot afford to do otherwise. Read the International advertisement elsewhere if farm power interests you.

A SALE OF PURE BRED cattle of considerable significance was put through last week by Mr. Rober Sinton of Regina, President of the Saskatchewan Stock Breeders' Association when he delivered over to Graham Bros., of Regina, fifty Hereford cows with calves afoot, seven young females and one bull, making in all a herd of 108 head, and the consideration realized was $9,500.00.

THE PRINCIPLES OF BREEDING: THREMMATOLOGY.

This treatise on this subject, prepared by Professor Davenport, of the University of Illinois, comes at a most opportune time. For, while there is no want of text books dealing with the subject of breeding, the trouble with most of them is that they are either too intensely scientific to be of much value to the ordinary breeder, or else too acutely practical to be serviceable to the student of animal husbandry whose aim is to familiarize himself with the facts, principles and theories of the science. Two classes of people must be reached by any work bearing on this subject, the student in the Agricultural College; the breeder on the farm; and it was to prepare a text suited to both these needs that Professor Davenport applied himself. The subject, that is the scientific portion of it, is presented in a new light. The work is the first of its kind in agricultural literature in which the statistical method of the study of heredity is introduced—introduced because it is becoming clearer to investigators of the problems of breeding that "the successful breeder of the future will be a book-keeper and statistician."

The student of breeding has also much to learn of the principles of the science, from biological investigations, and many of the questions which now vex the practical breeder are going to be solved by an earnest study of biological problems. The present work seeks to bring to bear upon breeding problems the lessons which the investigation of the biologist teaches. In this it is fairly successful. The book is a 720 page volume, illustrated, published by Ginn & Company, 29 Beacon St., Boston. The price is $3.00 net.

BUY IDEAL FENCE
YOU should build fence like you make other permanent improvements. Tinkering does not pay. Fences made of light wire, and wires that break rather than give when it gets cold; fences that an unruly animal could break through; fences not properly stayed—these are not paying fences. Ideal fence is the right kind. It is made of No. 9 hard steel wire from top to bottom, and is heavier and stronger than any fence on the market. Remember, it costs no more to dig your post holes, set your posts, stretch your fence and staple it when the heavy Ideal fence is used than for a light, flimsy article. And notice how the Ideal fence is locked at every crossing. It is heavily galvanized to keep off rust. Adapts itself to extremes of heat and cold, and always presents a handsome, well-stretched appearance. It pays to study the matter over thoroughly before you buy any kind of a fence. Our little fence book gives you all the pointers. Write us today for free copy.
