

World Tour is Suddenly Ended

Winter Weather Lands Three Toronto Lads in Lockup Here.

Three young lads aged thirteen and fourteen years, started out from Toronto yesterday morning boarding a first class freight at Scarborough Beach. It was a long haul to Belleville, but they "stuck" it arriving here last night, tired and hungry. Fortunately for them, G. T. R. Officer B. B. Harris, who in sight took them in charge and marched them to the fine hostelry maintained by Chief Kidd and Newton on the market square. The boys' parents were communicated with and as a result they will be sent home. The youngsters dined last night at the expense of the G. T. R. and this morning breakfasted at the city table, as they had no money.

Camp Rob Roy S. O. S. Celebrated St. Andrew's

Happy Gathering by Sons and Daughters of Scotland.

Camp Rob Roy, No. 43, Sons of Scotland, was at home last evening to the mothers, wives, daughters, and sweethearts of the members of the clan in commemoration of St. Andrew, the patron saint of Scotland. A thoroughly Scottish air pervaded the entire evening with Scottish songs and anecdotes. The hall was filled with guests, who enjoyed the function immensely. The Rev. A. S. Kerr, chief of the camp, presided over the assembly and made an address fitting to the occasion. Mrs. (Col.) Campbell played a selection of Scottish airs on the piano. The skit of the bagpipes was heard in Mr. Billy Grant's number. A song by Mr. McIntosh, a reading by Mr. W. Reid, vocal solos by Miss Bell of Foxboro; Miss S. Johnson and Mr. H. Mackay, a violin number by Mr. John Browning, a song by Mrs. Wm. McIntosh, a solo by Miss Lobb, a reading by Miss Phyllis Stewart; bag pipe solos by Past Chief Wm. McIntosh; Pipe Major Albert Johnston made up a delightful program. The Rev. D. C. Ramsay delivered an address on Scotland and her virtues. Rev. Mr. Galloway, former Presbyterian minister at Foxboro, also spoke. During the program refreshments were served. At the close of the entertainment, Pipers McIntosh and Grant led in the Grand March. Dancing followed until after midnight. Mrs. Campbell was accompanist for the evening.

Delightful Banquet by Safety-first Men

Heard Address on Scotland by Mr. John McIntosh at Assembly Room of Steel Company.

The "Safety First" club of the local plant of the Steel Company of Canada, spent an enjoyable and profitable evening on Monday night when the members assembled at the assembly room at the plant to hold their monthly banquet and to hear an address on "Scotland" by Mr. John McIntosh. Mr. Frank Chesher, president of the club, ably filled the chair. He expressed his regret at the absence of their respected manager, Mr. J. A. Higgin, who had been unavoidably called away to Montreal. He then called upon Mr. McIntosh who gave a most vivid and realistic traveltogue in reference to the tour he and Mrs. McIntosh had taken last year through Scotland. After the address Mr. McIntosh was finely complimented by Mr. Elvins, Mr. Chown, Mr. Horie and other members of the club. The "Safety First" club is an organization consisting of the superintendents of departments and representative workers who consider suggestions made by the men themselves for the promotion of safety and better conditions about the plant. Monthly meetings are held and great good has already been accomplished.

John Bonga, of West Hammond, Ill., is quite an eater and he hired a hall the other day to prove it, interested fellow-citizens providing the food. At one sitting he got away with two pounds of pork sausage, five pounds of beefsteak, three eggs, four dried herrings and one gallon of home-brew.

Wise is the man who is attentive to his wife as he was when she was his sweetheart—only her relationship to him has changed, not her nature.

Problems Facing Before Council of Agriculture

WINNIPEG, Dec. 1.—Two important questions, political colonization throughout Canada, and co-operative marketing of grain are to be discussed at a meeting of the Canadian Council of Agriculture at Winnipeg on December 7th and 8th and vital decisions may be reached. A number of those who will be present for these sessions will stay over for the public meeting which will be addressed here on December 10th by Premier Derry of Ontario, and Hon. T. A. Crerar on December 17. Dr. Michael Clark is to address a public meeting in Saskatoon on political issues.

"Polly Peete" Leaves Globe

Miss Mona Cleaver Honored by Globe Colleagues on Retiring.

Readers of the Women's Page of the Toronto Globe will learn with regret of the retirement of Miss Mona Cleaver ("Polly Peete") daughter of Rev. Dr. Cleaver, of this city, who yesterday relinquished her position in view of her approaching marriage. As a token of their regard and regret, her fellow-workers at The Globe presented her with a beautiful oil painting "Autumn Meadows," by H. S. Palmer, A.R.C.A. The presentation was made by the Managing Editor, Mr. Stewart Lyon, who paid a warm tribute to the work done by Miss Cleaver, alluding particularly to her bright personality, which has endeared her to all her professional associates and to hundreds of her public. Further words of appreciation were spoken by Miss White of the Women's Department and by Mr. Harry Anderson, Assistant Managing Editor. During the nine years that Miss Cleaver has served The Globe she has become known to many by her articles signed "Polly Peete." Every Monday she appeared as "Mrs. Buylow," keeping the public informed, as to prices at St. Lawrence Market. For two years she was Editor of the weekly page for juniors, "The Circle of Young Canada," and to her must also be credited frequent and valuable notes on "Art and Artists." In addition to all this she has been an expert reporter, giving most of her attention to recording women's activities.

CANADA GETS THE LONDON SUCCESSES BEFORE NEW YORK

New York Managers Realize Canadian Audiences Are as Discriminating as those of New York.

By Ben Deacon. NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Canada's position in the theatrical world appears to be gradually assuming greater importance in the estimation of New York. There was a time—when the Dominion was looked upon merely as a convenient burying ground for the New York failure. Then, a good many of the New York producing firms were under the impression that anything—any old thing at all—could get by Canada. Canadians were practically dependant upon productions labelled "Made in the U.S.A." and therefore the theory prevailed that Canadians should be satisfied with whatever New York chose to send them. The fifth-rate companies, and the shows which flitted out after a brief season here were shunted across the border, very often press-agented as the "hits of the season" and "original New York casts." But things have changed. New York managers have discovered that Canadian audiences are as discriminating as those of New York and possibly just a little more reluctant to pay good money to see a poor show. Also, Canada is now less dependant upon New York for its theatrical fare; the importation of English successes direct to the Dominion has given New York producers a certain amount of competition in the Canadian market and rendered Canadian managers less dependant upon New York. Canada's building theatrical independence is reflected in New York this season. At one time New York had first call upon all of the big London successes. After this city had finished with them, they were generally sent to Canada, but New York first was the rule. This season the old-time procedure was reversed in several cases. "Don't Tell," the Graham Moffatt comedy, for instance, was presented to Canadian audiences before New York was given an opportunity of seeing it. This seems to have been a shock to some New Yorkers. One of the critics, who was unable to grasp the humor of the piece, became rather peevish over it. "The company supporting Mr. Moffatt is imported from the Alhambra Theatre in Glasgow," he remarked. "They have been playing only recently in Canada, which leads to the suspicion that the whole affair was smuggled in secret across the Canadian border." Canada was a whole season ahead of New York in the case of the London comedy "Tilly of Bloomsbury." Last year it was given in a number of Canadian cities; it appeared here under an alias this season. It was presented here as "Happy Go Lucky," possibly because the average New Yorker hasn't the faintest idea where or what Bloomsbury is, and possibly, again, because a new name gave it that bright and shiny, brand new appearance which New York demands. William Faversham, who has long been a favorite in Canada, presented "The Prince and the Pauper" before a Canadian audience before he presented it to New York, and now New York has to wait until next week for Madge Kennedy's play in a speaking role, while Toronto this week was privileged to welcome her back to the stage in "Cornered."

Announcement was made that at the end of a ten weeks' season in Chicago he will tour the principal cities of Canada and the United States before returning to the Old Country. WHAT SHALL I DO?

Answered by VIRGINIA PAGE.

MAKE IT A STAGE PARTY. Q.—Dear Miss Page: My husband wants to entertain the men in his store, but there are two girls and he is afraid they will feel hurt if they are not invited. He would like to do something for them, too, but he thinks the men will have a better time if the girls don't come. What do you think?—An Employer's Wife. A.—Why not let your husband invite the men to a stag party, and then the next evening you invite the two young women to dinner at your home and to the theatre or motion picture show afterwards—or if Saturday afternoon is a holiday with you, ask them to be your guests then and for tea afterwards at some nearby tea room.

A WOMAN'S PRIVILEGE. Q.—Dear Miss Page: Will you settle this question for us? Should a girl ask a man to call on her or should she wait until he asks to come?—The D. O. D. Girls. A.—The custom differs in various parts of the country, I believe, and it is always wise when in Rome to do as the Romans do, you know. Generally speaking, however, a man may ask a married woman for permission to call upon her and her family, but should wait for an invitation to call from an unmarried woman—or her mother, if she be a very young woman. This is to protect a woman from being placed in the embarrassing position of having to refuse an undesirable acquaintance.

If the woman only suggests that a man call, however, without mentioning any particular time, he should not consider this an invitation at all but merely a formal courtesy upon her part which her graciousness probably demanded at the moment. And on the other hand, if a man should in the slightest way evade her invitation, a woman must of course refrain from any suspicion of urging.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Page in care of the "What Shall I Do?" department of The Daily Ontario, will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the questions.—The Editor.

Trial Is Inexpensive. — To those who suffer from dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism or any ailment arising from derangement of the digestive system, a trial of Parmelec's Vegetable Pills is recommended, should the sufferer be unacquainted with them. The trial will be inexpensive and the result will be another customer for this excellent medicine. So effective in their action that satisfaction can certainly be traced to their use.

Dr. McCullough will be at his office, 47 Campbell St., every Saturday for consultation on diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. 9-11-11
