WAR POPULAR WITH GERMANS

All Classes Believe That Honor and Right Are on Their Side

London, Oct. 31.—Miss T. M. Watson, of Ottawa, who recently returned to London with her sister from Mecklenburg, Berlin and Silesia entirely discredits the notion that the war is unpopular in Germany.

She says that all are perfectly confident that God is on their side and that they are fighting for truth, honor and right; they are certain they will be victorious. Patriotic songs are sung day and night; the wounded only ask to be cured quickly so as to return to the front to fight for the Fatherland.

British, French, and Russian prisoners are well treated; they have to work but not much and they are fed according to nationality.

Everywhere German women are busy knitting socks, scarves and woollen vests for the soldiers.

Hatred of Britain is terrible. A few months ago everything British was admired; now, when anyone does anything extremely unpopular the saying is that they have behaved in the British way. Every advertisement of British goods, such as Lyons' tea, Sunlight Soap, etc. is torn down by the people who refuse to buy anything British.

The alleged Belgian atrocities all are attributed to British incentive. Belgium and France are pitied, Russia is despised as wild and uneducated, but Britain is bitterly hated. The Germans are simply burning to see Britain raided by troops and bombs.

STEBAURMAN'S OINTMENT

17 Brennan St.,
St. John's, July 13, '14.

Dear Sir,—

I was a cripple for 25 years, and had several doctors treating me; also spent some time at the hospital, but all failed to do me any good.

I am glad to say that "Your Ointment," &c., has made a perfect cure of me. Previous to this I was obliged to walk around on crutches. So I advise all sufferers to give his medicines a trial and prove for themselves my statements.

Yours truly,

(Signed) MRS. SHAW,

COLONEL SHOWED SPARTAN CONDUCT

His Son Slain in Battle by His Side but he Did Not Falter

Petrograd, Oct. 31.—The Russian journal Sviet tells the following story of the spartan conduct of Col. Lopoukhine: "He was listening, after the first great battle in Galicia, to the reading of the report of his regiment's casualties.

"We have lost 200 killed and wounded," he was told.

"How many soldiers killed?" demanded Col. Lopoukhine.

"So many."

"How many officers killed?"

"Only one."

"What is the name of this officer?"

"Lieut. Lopoukhine."

"Not a muscle of Col. Lopoukhine's face moved."

"Where was the officer killed?" he asked.

The place was indicated. He went to the body of his dead son, dismounted from his horse, killed the forehead and lips of the child, made the sign of the cross, remounted, and continued giving orders."

MEN WANTED

These verses were written by the late Bishop Bickersteth, of Exeter: Give us men!

Men from every rank,
Men of thought and reading,
Men of light and leading,
Free and fresh and frank,
England's wealth and welfare speeding.

Men of faith and not of faction,
Men of lofty aim and action,
I say again give us men,
Give us men!

Give us men!
Strong and stalwart ones,
Men whom purest honor fires,
Men who trample self beneath them,
Only let their country wreathe them

As her worthy sons,
Worthy of her sires!

Men who never shame their mothers,
Men who never fail their brothers:
True, however false are others:
Give us men, I say again,
Give us men!

Give us men!
Men who, when the tempest gathers,
Grasp the standard of their fathers,
In the thickest fight;
Let the cowards cringe and falter,
Men who strike for home and altar,
God defend the right!

True to truth, though lorn and lonely,
Tender—as the brave are only,
Give us men, I say again,
Give us men!

Give us men!
Men whose lives reflect the beauty
Of the saints of olden time,
Men who know and do their duty,
As from rock to rock they climb,
If they stumble, born of woman,
All the humbler, all the stronger,
Haply struggling on the longer,
Not angelic, nobly human,
Very men of flesh and blood,
Yet of Heaven's own brotherhood,
Men of God,
Give us men, I say again,
Give us men!

Wonderful Results

From the A. I. C.,
The World's Cure

The remedy discovered at far Labrador has given relief to many a sufferer; hundreds testifying of this great remedy. Another gives her testimonial from the City.

Couldn't Eat a Half Meal.

St. John's, Oct. 12, 1914.

I have been troubled with indigestion for a number of years, in fact I have been so bad I couldn't eat half a meal of anything.

A friend advised me to try A.I.C. and one half pint bottle cured me. I couldn't believe I could be cured in such a short time and now I can eat anything, and food does not trouble me in the least. I think I am perfectly cured. I haven't felt indigestion this month.

I recommend this medicine to all sufferers from indigestion. You are at liberty to use my name, and anyone not believing this statement can write or consult me personally.

HAMBURG FOLK IN SORE STRAITS

And One of the City's Newspapers Appeals to Charitable For Help

Rotterdam, Oct. 31.—A full page appeal for funds appears in the "Hamburger Fremdenblatt," under the heading "Friends of Humanity, Help." The appeal is surrounded by a heavy band black, like a mourning card. In asking for urgent subscriptions for the unemployed in the city, it says:

"We have daily about 10,000 applications for relief. These include artists, civil engineers, architects, business people and independent women, who have been hit by the war, and from these we can only pick out the most deserving and help comparatively a few each day. The fund being raised is for the relief of the better class of people. Such people do not come under the notice of the committee for the care of the general poor, but they are even more badly hit than the poor people themselves.

Break Class Laws.

"These difficult times break all laws of class. We wish to help many more which come to our notice are not a tenth of those which exist and suffer in heroic silence. The need with which we come in contact is sometimes absolutely painful and generally in a case where the public least expect it. This committee can at this moment deal with only less than one-tenth of those who apply personally. They say that in most cases the families consist of at least four, and frequently more, children, and they absolutely have not a penny a week coming in with which to provide food.

Actually Starving.

"The association is trying to deal with those threatened with starvation, not with money, but food and bodily necessities of all kinds, and thus save them from destruction. Every one is appealed to do all in his power to help those cases and show his pity."

No one can conceivably rejoice at this poverty, but the appeal makes a striking contrast to the theories constantly published by learned men of the country. Hamburg, as the great port of Germany, naturally has been one of the first places to suffer by the suspension of German shipping, but the figures referred to in the appeal suggest that the poverty is far worse than was known outside that place.
