OLD COUNTRY NOTES

The latest raid in England is on star-fish. This obnoxious destroyer of fish has come such a tyranny that the Fisheries Board of the East Coast have organized an effective raid upon the enemy. In the first engagement much havoc was done, and when the figures were last enumerated the prisoners numbered many thousands. Altogether some 70,000 tons of star fish were brought to shore. The problem of what to do with them was solved by a farmer-member of the Board who declared that they made splendid flattens of the land, and to the land the sea hunt was increased in number. On one day the number of weddings at Woolwich was so considerable that the provision of vehicles ran short, and more than one wedding party had to resort to the undignified method of returning from church on foot. Woolwich, with its unprecedented prosperity, has enabled many artisans at Arsenal to make money and furnish comfortable homes for their brides. It is a saying "A Woolwich bride is a catch." The clergy and registrars have been so busy that other important weddings have been neglected. Saturday seems to be the popular wedding day.

Painstaking Work

makes severe demands upon the eyesight. Those whose daily tasks require the constant use of the eyes in this way should give them careful attention.

Trifling defects of vision may, under certain circumstances, quickly develop into serious trouble and consequent loss of employment.

If you find that your eyesight is not quite all that it ought to be, you should obtain glasses without delay.
