INFERENTIAL LESSON NO. 1 APRIL 5TH, 1905

Jesus the Good Shepherd—John 10: 1-18.

Commentary.—I. The shepherd and the sheep (vs. 1-6). In these verses Jesus lays the foundation for the discourse which was to follow.

II. Christ the door (vs. 7-9). Then said Jesus—Jesus was talking directly to the men who had excommunicated the former blind man, and the application of His words was to them as spiritual thieves and robbers who had usurped authority over the flock of God.

III. The thief and the hireling (vs. 10-13). Christ the good shepherd (vs. 14-18). I am the good shepherd—Jesus, as the good shepherd, was foretold by God in the prophets.

IV. Christ the good shepherd (vs. 14-18). I am the good shepherd—Jesus, as the good shepherd, was foretold by God in the prophets. His character was that of a divinely appointed shepherd.

10. Thief.—Any opposer of the Gospel. To steal, etc.—False teachers steal the hearts and affections from Christ.

11. Hireling.—A hireling is a man who works for wages, with no love or concern for the work. Such a person seeks his own interests and happiness, and neglects and destroys the flock.

12. Good Shepherd.—The hireling is the one who labors simply for his wages, with no love or concern for the work. Such a person seeks his own interests and happiness, and neglects and destroys the flock.

13. Good Shepherd.—The hireling is the one who labors simply for his wages, with no love or concern for the work. Such a person seeks his own interests and happiness, and neglects and destroys the flock.

sheep—in the East in a flock of hundreds each sheep would have and know its own name. It is said that Cyrus and Caesar could repeat the names of the men of their great armies.

15. Lay down my life.—The Oriental shepherd must face storms, hardships and dangers for his sheep; he must find them when lost, and must often fight with wild beasts and robbers in protecting them.

16. Other sheep I have.—The Gentiles who were soon to be brought into his church. The good Shepherd sweeps the world with his thought. Here is the universal religion of Jesus—no sinners of all nations and tongues.

17. Because I lay down.—Not because I have laid it down, as though the love of the Father were caused by the earthly love and sacrifice of Christ, but because I lay it down. That is, because Christ's Spirit is one of self-sacrificing love, manifested by, but not alone embodied in, the incarnation, he is loved by the Father (see Phil. ii, 9; Heb. i, 9).

18. No man.—His death was entirely voluntary. Men killed him, but he had full power to escape from them had he wished. No one imposed upon him the duty of leaving heaven, of coming to this world, suffering and dying. He chose to do it, that he might save men.

19. Rabbits last act in life was to write a letter professing loyalty to the union which had driven him to death and appealing for mercy. At 4:30 o'clock the fumes of gas were so strong that the guests were attracted. One of them, John Germain, climbed through the transom. As he looked he saw the two bodies lying on the bed.

20. The man was dead. He was stretched at full length, his face turned down. Upon his outstretched arm rested the head of the woman. Within the reach of Rabbits was a letter which gave one reason why he should seek death. It was addressed to the officers and members of the Franklin union. It told of the struggle and hardships which had followed his attempt to keep the principles and the teachings of the union.

21. It is the mystery surrounding the woman, however, which is puzzling the police. She had never been seen in that locality. All of the officers in that vicinity have seen her and have failed to recognize her.

Woman's Kidney Troubles

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Especially Successful in Curing This Fatal Disease.

Of all the diseases known, with which women are afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, this weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ills—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles.

PILLAGE AND MURDER.

Russian Peasant Disorders Causing Anxiety to the Government.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—There is reason to believe that the Government has resolved to re-establish the censorship on out-going news despatches, which was withdrawn about a year ago. It is inferred that this decision is prompted by the growing seriousness of the peasant disorders, which seem to be causing anxiety to the Government.
