A. A. FISHER HONORED

An Ottawa despatch of Saturday ast announced that Lieut-Col. A. A Fisher, barrister, of Brockville, had been appointed Junior Judge of the County of Renfrew. The appointment will have the hearty endorsement of all who have the pleasure of Mr Fisher's acquaintance, as it is felt that he is eminently qualified for the position he

In this connection, the Recorder publishes the following interesting sketch of his career.

The new judge is the eldest son of Mr Duncan Fisher, of Ashens and was born in that yillage 47 years ago. He was educated at the public and high schools of that place and after matriculating entered the law office of the late F. A. Hall of Perth. Later he was a student in the office of Donald Guthrie, K. C., of Gnelph, now the inspector of registry offices of Ontario. Subsequently he went to Osgoode Hall Toronto, and while pursuing his studies was in the office of Moss, Hoyles & Aylesworth, being articled to the present Minister of Justice He was called to the bar in May, 1886, and in October of that year came to Brockville where he has since resided. He formed a partnership with J A. Hntcheson in January, 1887, and since has practised his profession Lt.-Col. Fisher has alwavs taken a prominent part in the public life of this town. He served for several pears on the Public School Board and was chairman of the same. He was also a member of the governors of the General Hospital, and also its president, as well as becoming a member of the Board of Health. He took an active interest in military affairs and for six years was the commanding officer of the 41st Regiment. He was a charter member of the Brockville Club and the first president of the

THE HEBERT CASE

Protestants and the executives of Protestant churches have recently been greatly disturbed over what is known as the Herbert case, and strong resolutions have been passed for a uniform marriage law throughout the Dodinion which shall be superior to any ecclesiastical interference. The Herbert case is related briefly as follows :-

A marriage occurred in Montreal. and two Roman Catholics were united by Rev Mr Timberlake, Methodist minister. How two Roman Catholics came to use a Methodist clergyman has not been explained. Nor does it for the purpose of discussion, matter.
Mr and Mrs Hebert did not change their religion or creed, and did not mean to do so. Years afterwards, and after severa coildren had been born to them it is declared that they have not been married, and a decision to that effect by the ecclesiastical court is confirmed by she civil court. The illegal ity was the marriage of Roman Catholics by one who was not a priest of a church to which they belonged.

PLUM HOLLOW

The Baptist Laymen's Movement sent its Secretary, Mr W. C. Senior of Toronto, and the Rev S Sheldon of Cornwall to Plum Hollow on Thursday to conduct a conference. The at tendance in the afternoon was small but this did not prevent the visiting gentlemen from delivering inspiring addresses along the line of the church fulfilling its obligations to the outside world. The attendance in the evening was larger, and again both Mr Sheldon Mr Senior spoke at length on the church's duty to the unevangelised. At the close of the speaking, a resolution was passed agreeing to appoint a committee of three to fully consider the present advance movement in the church, to formulate plans, and to lay these before a meeting of the men. A yote of thanks was heartily accorded the visitors.

CONDOLENCE EXTENDED

Following the sudden death of Perry M. Graham of Brockville, the Reeve of Athens voiced the sentiments of the village in the following expression of ondolence :-

April 17th, 1911 Hon. G. P. Graham, Brockville, Ont. Dear Sir,—The citizens of Athens mourn with you and offer deepest sympathy, with the hope that the Mester of Assemblies may be present with you in a very special manner as you sit in the shadow of a great sor-row, longing for the touch of the van ished hand and the sound of the voice that is still.

M. B. Holmes, Reeve To this the following reply was re ceived:—

My Dear Holmes,—Will you convey to the citizens of Athens the sincere gratitude of Mrs Graham and myself, for their kind and sympathetic thought of us in this sad hour. We appreciate it more than words can tell. Geo. P Graham

The Temperance Movement

There is no doubt about the object of the temperance movement. sempeance men intend to destroy the drunkard-making system root and branch. There is no such thing as compromise upon the issue. In the end the liquor traffic of this country will abolish temperance or temperance will abolish the liquor traffic. The issue is squarely made and squarely joined before the people : hence I say I would not lead any man into the temperance ranks unless be comes because he believes it is right, and comes to stay. I would have you take the facts to your homes, to your office, to your store or place of business; and when you are alone and away from all exciting influences, sit down calmly, and honestly, and, after examining the liquor side and the temperance side of the question with equal care, make up your verdict in accordance with your honest judgement. If I should succeed in convincing you that I am right, if your judgement, reason, intelligence, lead you to that conclusion, and then you refuse to work up to the full measure of your convictions, you are guilty of injustice or cowardice.-From au adiress by John B. Finch.

Capt. Perry Graham's Funeral

Brockville, April 19--Citizens of all classes and creeds, and the two political parties, united in paying tribute to the late Perry Graham, whose funeral took place this afternoon. It was under the auspices of the 41st Regiment, and the cortege was the largest ever seen in Brockville. A special train was run from Ottawa, conveying members of the Cabinet, House and Press Gallery. The Cabinet was represented by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Hon Chas Murphy, Hon. Syd-ney Fisher, and Hon, Rodolphe Lemieux. The members present were Hon. Mr Sifton, Messrs Tolmie, Geo. Taylor, Herron, Middleton, Thoburn, Duncan C. Ross, Robt. Smith, Reid, and McMillan. The Deputy Ministers were Campbell, Jorry, Johnson and Pedley. Toronto was represented by Rev D. Strachan Messrs J. W. Curry and Thos. Southworth.

Service at the house was conducted by Rev Thos. Brown and Dr Sparling, and at the grave by Chaplain Rev H. H. Bedford Jones of the 41st Regiment. The Oddfellows and Rowing club attended in a body.

SIR MATTHEW'S FERVENT HOPE

Former Chief Justice of British Cobia Tendered Startling Advice. In the early days of British Columbia when the mining rush was on and the country was full of lawless characters of all descriptions, the laws were made entirely by Sir James Doughas, governor at that time of Vancouver Island and British Columbia, gias, governor at that time of Vancouver Island and British Columbia, which were two separate colonies.

The administration of justice was left in the hands of Sir Matthew Begbie, chief justice, and although it has since been held that his decisions were not in all cases good law, it was generally conceded at t'e time that he meted out impartial justice.

A case of his autocratic method of governing a court is told by one of the early settlers in the province.

A man was found dead outside a saloon in Virtoria and it was supposed that he had been sandbagged and robbed. The police succeeded in arresting a man supposed to be responsible for the crime and he was duly brought to trial before a jury.

The evidence was altogether circumstantial, but it was strong, and the judge had no doubt of the man's guilt. However, after the counsel for the defence had made an eloquent plea on behalf of the prisoner and the jury had debated the matter for some time, they announced that the man was not guilty.

Judge Regbie received the verdict man was not guilty.

Judge Begbie received the verdict with ominous silence. The situation was becoming embarrassing, when the counsel for the defence rose and asked that seeing that the accused had been found not guilty by the jury, he be discharged.

"Prisoner," said the judge, turning to the man in the dock, "you may go. I hope that the next man you sandbag will be one of the jury."

Sir Matthew is not the only judge who has made similar reflections but who has made similar reflections, but this story is said to be true.

The Annual Slaughter. Every session there is a "slaughter of the innocents." At the opening, three days a week are devoted to the interests of private members, who place academic resolutions on the or-der paper and introduce public bills and then forget all about them. As the weeks go by private members get a day chopped from their allowance, and when the half way mark in the session's progress is reached, the Government appropriates every day for its own business, and the mass of bills and motions is heaved overboard. Then there is great uproar on the Then there is great uproar on the part of these same careless ones who have allowed their days of opportunity to alip by. Many a man considers he has fulfilled his duty to his constituency when he places a motion to abolish the Senate on the or has constituency when he piaces a mo-tion to abolish the Senate on the or-der paper, and proceeds to draw his monthly indemnity on the alleged ground of public service. So long as the "smoking room" provides great-er attractions than the Chamber, and the whist table than the committee's, just so long will the list of stranded motions and bills when the session wears away be a formidable one. This year 38 public bills and orders and 13 resolutions fall under the knife of Lord High Executioner Lau-nier. One thing can be said, and that is they have served their pur-pose, for the drones who neglected them until they died, can return to their constituents and tell them they would have proceeded with their bill or resolution, but Sir Wilfrid Laurier was afraid of it and ordered its de-capitation. Sweet are the uses of capitation. Sweet are the uses of political exigency.—The Mace in Saturday Night.

Measuring Brush. B. T. Coady, city treasurer of To-ronto, once lost a bet—or so the story goes, at any rate—over a lumberman's ability to measure brushwood. It may not be generally known that Mr. Coady used to be in the lumber busi-Coady used to be in the lumber bust-ness himself, and can size up a pile of wood with some facility, even to this day. The art of mentally meas-uring the number of feet in a stick of timber is a mysterious one. Lum-bermen can do it with amaxing rapidity and accuracy without putting a rule near the pile. But Mr. Coady had a friend who said he could ac-curately measure a big pile of brushcurately measure a big pile of brushwood, an assertion which was met by all present with some derision. After the bet was put in hard and fast shape, the lumberman dumped the brushwood in a big tank of water, held it under the surface, measured the height to which the water rose, and from this calculation the amount of water which the brushwood displaced. Thus he gave Mr. Coady indisputable figures. "That," says the city treasurer. "was the most remarkdisputable figures. "That," says the city treasurer, "was the most remarkable way of measuring lumber that was ever invented, for it was so accurate that it took into account every twig and every wart on the bark. I

Amazing Prosperity. Mr. A. D. Thorne, president of the Union Bank of Halifax, was a visitor at a little weather-beaten country church near Sydney, C.B., one Sun-day evening last fall. The unpainted exterior and meagre furnishings inside, as well as the shabby coat of the minister, bespoke poverty or a none too generous congregation.

When the deacon passed the hat,
Mr. Thorne contributed a dollar for the betterment of the church's financial standing. It loomed up large beside the pennies and occasional silve. pieces in the old battered derby, and caused the deacon's eyes to open in amazement.

The collection completed, he hesitated an instant, returned up the aisle to the banker's pew and, leaning over, asked in a whisper, which could be heard all over the house, "You put a dollar in the hat; did you mean it?"

Advantages of Model Schools

Valentine Stock in an able speech in he Ontario legislature, pointed out the decided superiority of the combined model and normal system over the new andivided single term. He showed that the young teachers got their start inder conditions that gave them ac quaintance and sympathy with the schools where they were to begin their work. Further, the linited number of tudents at each place, and the more intimate acquaintance of the model school work than that possessed by the high school teachers, who were put in harge of the normal schools, were highly advantageous to the beginners. And lastly, the convenient, short-termed model school laid no serious financial burden on the poor man's childthe class from which many of the best and most ambitious teachers came, but which under the Pyne-Seath system, is practically excluded by the expenses of ttending a year at the city normals.

Cause and Cure of Headache

The cause of headache as you know, is the stoppage of the circulation resulting in pressure on the delicate nerves of the head. In time nature will start the blood going again, but meanwhile we suf-fer and are unfit for duty.

Assisted by two ZUTOO Tablets, which by the way are as harmless as the soda they contain, nature will remove the pressure and stop the headache in twenty minutes. Why continue to suffer?
Why be unfit?

It is really remarkable how many people now use ZUTOO to cure their headaches. Do you? If not, why not?
