Eczema Again Overcome Zam-Buk Cures a Case which for Two Years had Defied Every Remedy Tried.

A PARMER'S GRATEFUL TESTIMONY.

No case of excess, akin disease, or large interaction, should be despaired of until Zam-Buk has been applied. The case of Mr. Francis Renoit, of St. Anne's (Man.,) is a powerful illustration of Zam-Buk's efficate, 'He says: 'f suffered with exzema for two years, and tried a great number of renedies. None of them, however, seemed to do me any good.

The effiment was mostly in my legs, and both these were actually raw from the knees down. A small sample box of Zam-Buk was given to me, and

The Liberal Meeting.

It is said that at no time during the recent Liberal meeting at Kentville were there more than 450 persons present by actual count, and of these 150 were ladies. Of the latter listeners some twenty-five beautifully dressed young misses, accompanied by their lady teachiers, were prevent from the public school or county academy at Kentville. How these blooming young maidens happened to be given a half holiday on this unique occasion we have not learns. Possibly the grit machine at the county capital may have commandered them to add clite to the auspicious event, or the gallant knight just nominated may have wished to show the visiting speakers how much sweeter the female youth of Kings county is than those of the upper provinces. At any rate they were there, either by design or from a mad freak to see just what 'Sir Fred' looked like.

The time selected for this big liberal rally was a most propitious one. A fine day, the breaking up of the Aldershot camp, the presence of Finance Missister Fleiding, Mountebank Mars. The proposed in them—with the population will result on positions of ascred re sponsibility of only such men as will time the successful movement to the election to positions of sacred re sponsibility is robbed not of its revue nues at long that which is beyond value, the honor and fame that should and will be ours when men in whom we can trust are sent to Ottawa and gravitate from the Auditor-General's report of supplies for the House of Commons, Scnate and Rideau Hall for which, in case of House of Commons and Freak to see just what 'Sir Fred' looked like.

The time selected for this big liberal rally was a most propitious one. A fine day, the breaking up of the Aldershot camp, the presence of Finance Missister Meidling, Mountebank Mars. From the enorpous quantity of glassware, etc., provided by our law makers for their personal use literal trust of the presence of Finance with the properties of the presence of Finance with the presence of Finance with the province of the prese cel and the dark lantern brigade beto from Lunenburg should have proved lireasiatible attractions. Besides, the meeting was thoroughly advertised for ten days throughout the county by big colored posters. The sparce crowd, the lack of old time enthusiasm, the absence of the old liberal supporters and chieftains was certainly humiliating for Sir Frederick Borden. No wonder Mr. Fielding did so poorly, no wonder McLean abused the torica—called them hiars, thieves, villiass A greater fizel could hardly be imagined. It was a frost,—but it is late in the season and the crops in Kings will not suffer.

A Double Ordination.

A very pleasant occasion was the ordination of two brothers at the Clarendon street Baptist church, Boston, Mass., on September 16. Mr. William E. Boggs has been serving a a missionary among the Telugus of India for eighteen years as a layman. It is said that the bar was conduct.
