Winks—What makes you look so blue? Jinks—I have six daughters, none of them married, or likely to be.

Waks—And you are blue over it? You are the most ungrateful mortal that ever breathed. I have six daughters, all married, all have children, and I've got to support the whole crowd.

The boy is taught at school that the earth is not square. By and by he finds out for himself that the same thing is true of a good many of the people.

Old Men and Kidney Disease. Aged persons troubled with weak back, impaired kidneys, pain in the back and head, or a tendency to urinate often, with a small quantity of water at a time, a tendency to urinate often, especially at night, should use Dr. Cassel's Kidney-Liver Pills. You know the Doctor's reputation, you know the value of his work, and that Dr. Cassel would not risk his reputation on an unknown and untried remedy. Every druggist in Canada sells and recommends them.

Elde—Y. e. dea; my husband is a doctor, and a lovely fellow; but he is awfully absent-minded.

Ads—Indeed?

Elde—Only fancy! During the marriage ceremony, when he gave me the ring, he hid my pulse and asked me to put out my tongue.

Ads—Well, he won't do the latter again.

He was a pretty little youngster with little fat legs that stuck out beneath clean, stiff starched clothes. "What are you going to do when you grow to be a man?" asked the visitor.

The little fellow's face assumed an expression of earnest gravity as he responded, with a voice which was evidently shaken by sad memories of the past, "Whip papa."

Mrs. Wickwire—What is the difference between me and a chicken, dear?
