WRECK OF THE EMILY REED; CAPTAIN LOST RECKONING.

Boat Swamped With Nine Men and Mate Also Drowned—Survivors at Portland.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 15.—The survivors of the American ship Emily Reed, 113 days out from New Castle, N. S. W., coal laden, which went ashore on the Oregon coast yesterday, were brought to Bay City yesterday, and are now quartered at residences in that town. The ship will be a total loss, as will also be the cargo of 2,110 tons of coal. The vessel was consigned to the Pacific Coal Co. at Portland. Owing to the long passage of the ship 25 per cent. insurance was offered on her. During the last few days heavy weather has prevailed off the Oregon and California coasts. The chronometers of the Emily Reed were off, and the master worked her too close in to shore before he discovered his error. Captain Kessel was endeavoring to make Tillamook Rock. He was correct in his latitude, but too far to the eastward. When he discovered his position it was too late to wear ship, and she struck one of the most dangerous places on Oregon beach. The Emily Reed struck on Q Beach. There was a heavy sea running and a strong flood tide. When she hit the beach her back broke, and the forward end took a list to port. An effort was made to launch a life-boat. It was put over the side with three men in it. As soon as it hit the water the boat was swamped, and the occupants were drowned before the eyes of those on board. The mate was washed overboard and drowned while trying to direct the movements of the men forward. The captain stuck to the ship, and forced his wife to remain below. The second mate and three men in his watch were stationed on the main deck. When the forward portion of the ship listed they succeeded in making their way aft. By clinging to that portion of the ship until daylight, they made their way ashore. It was then low water.

THE GRIM REAPER. FOR MISSIONS.

Morley Robinson and Harry Grice Are Dead.

Morley M. Robinson died at the City Hospital this morning after a brief illness. He was 27 years of age and had been employed as a brakeman on the T. H. & B. Railway. He had resided in this city for about five years. The funeral will take place on Monday morning at 7:45 to the W. H. & R. station and from thence to the residence of his mother, Mrs. W. H. Robinson, 153 Dundas Street West, where service and interment.

The death occurred last evening at the City Hospital of Harry Grice, after a few days' illness with pneumonia. He was 39 years of age and had been a resident of this city for about five years. He was employed at the International Harvester Co., and leaves a widow and one daughter. He originally came here from St. Mary's, Ont. The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon from his late residence, 35 Fullerton avenue.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Gray took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence, 450 James street north. Rev. James Braeken conducted the services and the pall-bearers were the deceased's five brothers, J. A. T. C., and E. Reiger, and C. Chadwick, her step-sons. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

HAD TO QUIT. BROKE KNEECAP.

The steady rain of the last two days has put a stop to ice cutting operations on the bay. Some of the dealers made an attempt yesterday morning to resume the work, but were forced to stop, the ice being covered with several inches of water.

The water poured down the new annex sewer yesterday like a torrent from Niagara.

Thousand Dollars an Ounce

Would not produce better orange marmalade than E. D. Smith's new product, which is rapidly gaining favor. It is not too bitter, is quite light in color, and the shreds are very tender. In jam, jellies, preserves, marmalade, catsup or canned goods "E. D. S. means quality."

HOW IS THIS?

To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—I would like to know the reason why the tender for the supply of ice for the City Hospital was not advertised for this year, as has been the custom in the past. I am informed that the job was given to a contractor outside the city. This I claim is not fair treatment to the ice dealers of the city, who contribute to the taxes. As this is a matter of public interest, any information you may publish will be appreciated by me. W. A. Gilmore, ice dealer.

A $75 LIMERICK.

Attention is called to the Empire Limerick announcement in this issue, offering $75 in prizes to the successful answers. It costs nothing to try for one of these valuable prizes, and the directions are simple. Ask your grocer for the Empire brand, which stands for the highest quality and purity, and take the label and enclose it with the completed limerick clipped from the Times. Empire goods are a household necessity, and include tea, coffee, marmalade, salmon, peaches, baking powder, corn, peas, etc., and these can be obtained at nearly all groceries. If you have not sent in your limerick, do so at once after reading the advertisement.

Procrastination has been called the thief of time. It is also the pur-loiner of opportunity, of wealth, and of all the comforts, ease, luxury, independence, and varied gratification wealth affords.

NEW THEORY OF RUST.

Electricity and Not Atmospheric Oxygen Now Held to Blame.

Ask almost any intelligent man why iron rusts, and he will probably explain at tedious length that it is all due to the oxygen of the air, says The Circle. Ever since chemistry became a more or less exact science, however, which was over a century ago, that theory has been generally accepted. Now an American physicist, Dr. Cushman, comes along and announces that rust is really due to electricity.

Dr. Cushman started his researches with the object of discovering some method of preventing the corrosion of wire fences—a subject of vital interest to farmers. He achieved more than he anticipated. He found that the first attack on the iron is made by hydrogen in the form of exceedingly small particles, but not as the text books have taught us, by oxygen. This is in agree-ment with the modern theory that many substances, when they are dissolved in water, are dissociated into ions, or minute particles smaller even than atoms, all carrying electrical charges. Even pure water contains a certain number of these. Acid impurities multiply the hy-drogen ions and strengthen them in their corrosive effect upon iron. The action is purely electric, and involves an exchange of the electric relations be-tween the hydrogen and the iron. Dr. Cushman discovered that active oxidizing agents, such as chromate and bichromate of potash prevent rusting by safe guarding it against attack by the hydrogen ion. By immersing the iron in a concentrated solution of bichromate acid, and then washing and wiping it, the metal is rendered passive, so that it becomes capable of resisting electro-chemical attack.

The discovery of the real cause of rusting and of its prevention has great industrial significance. It means that a method has at last been found for protecting structural ironwork and machinery.

Use of the Pendulum. It appears from the complete edition of the works of Huyghens, now in course of publication at The Hague, that as soon as he had succeeded in applying the pendulum to the regulating of clocks, claims were set up for priority in the invention. The best founded claims were those of Galileo, which were championed by Prince Leopold de Medici. According to the formal statement drawn up by Viviani, Galileo had conceived the idea but failed to make the application of it. He had a pendulum with wheel work, but omitted to provide any weights, springs or other means of keeping the machinery in motion.

Willie's Boast. Willie (aged seven)—"Pa, I can do something you can't." His Father—"What's that?" Willie—"Grow!"

The First Thing to Do. Applicant—"What is the first thing to do before you get a marriage license?" License Clerk—"Think it over, young man—think it over!"
