Danish Immigration.

A Good Find.

A day or two ago five Danes, a man and wife and three chidren, arrived here from Ilimouski on their way to New Denmark. They were six weeks on their passage. Their own means were sufficient to carry them the Immigration House—and barely that.

Mr. Lawlor's Workmen in excavating have discovered a substratum of excellent sand, which will supply all the Contractor wants. This is really a small bonanza, because the Contractor would need about 5,000 barrels, which at 10 cents a barrel would come to Government Survey.

Last week Mr. Gillmor Brown, taking with him two assistants went up to Barker Brook and surveyed 3000 acres of land which is to be an extension of Michaud Settlement, This survey was made on a number of applications for the land having been received at the Crown Land Office. Mr. Brown says the land is of an excellent quality, not so level however as could be wished, but the soil is deep and covered with hardwood—not white Did any other city in the Dominion own such a lovely spot as Cathedral Avenue, it would be cared for at the city's expense, planted with the choicest trees and provided with seats where those who escape the dust and heat of the city might sit in the cool of the evening, to gaze upon the hills in the rear and the glorious river in front. ing is going up is one din of business activity. The excavations are nearly completed, the workmen are making the mortar for the foundation. We have been told, so, delighted is the Attorney General, that during those days the Council were sitting on, and smothering the hopes of Mr. Murray Kay, the Leader would run out every five minutes, look in upon the idol of his heart, the Building, then return smiling, and looking, if possible, more honest than ever before. Upown a piece too there is the same restlesstown a piece too there is the same restle ness: and Mr. Gregory often asks himself il "Andrew will not get beside himself running down to that Square." They are both delighted, "and so are their Sisters and their Cousins and their Aunts," and so are we all.

This New Building is a great triumph for Fredericton, a great defeat for St. John. It is a victory of glorious sunlight and balmy breezes over dismal fog and noisome odours. It is a triumph of Cathedral Avenue and Cropley's Corner, and Government Lane, Ger York Point, and MacEvoys, and that ridiculous Partridge Island. But great as is our pleasure at seeing the old building fall before the destroyers stroke, we cannot but feel a part of regret as every Worthy moments.

pang of regret as every worthy momento which connected the past with the present fades away from the sight.

The men who made the old walls historic have gone; the days that saw them in their prime, thunder before the Country for the right of self-government have rolled backwards into the Gulf of Past Time—that lookwards into the Gulf of Past Time—that look-ing upon the old ruin rich in memories, one cannot help apostrophizing:

"A heap of dust alone remains of thee Tis all thou art, and all the proud shall be."

Crown Land Office. Mr. Brown says the land is of an excellent quality, not so level however as could be wished, but the soil is deep and covered with hardwood—not white birch which A. Murray, C. B., in Newfoundland became so enraptured over.

A. Young Poet.

We clip the following from the Boston Sunday. Herald, as it may be interesting to some of an readers who are acquainted with one of the parties mentioned:

The first prize for a poem on Robert Emmet, offered by the Illustrated Catholis. American, a weekly journal published in New York city, has been awarded to Willie B. Clifford, aged thirteen years. The successful young poet is a son of Hon. John G. Clifford of the Insurance Department, a gentleman who has contributed many poetic gems to the press of this State.

Cathedral Avenue.

Did any other city in the Domision own such a lovely spot as Cathedrai Avenue, it would be cared for at the city's expense, planted with the choicest trees and provided with seats where those who escape the dust and bast of the certaing, to gaze upon the hills in the rear and the glorious river in front. Now this device and the glorious river in front. Now this device.

The O F Bazaar.

It night and day, teamsters drive over it, and you are in danger of breaking an ankle to walk there in the evening. If there is any decency in the City Council they will look in to this matter and take such steps as will give the city the power of making this place what it ought to be, a delightful resort instead of a misance that disgusts one—or two— to walk through.

The of Fazaar.

If energy, well directed, go for anything the Odd Fellow's Bazaar of which we have told our readers, before, to take place in the Hall, will be a great success. The ladies at whose head stands cusinently the President, Mrs. Joillop Mauger, have laid the most compression of the programme a success. Where so many skilled fingers have been at work for so many skilled fingers have been at work for so many months, one cannot be surprised if many a purse will come to grief ere its owner leaves the attractive Bazaar. The outdoor part of the programme promises to be no less a success than the indoor; and we learn in this matter Mrs Mauger too has been taking a hand. The outside sports will include those of the turf, the field and the river; and perhaps a good deal more, yet to be arranged. Success to the Bazaar at any rate.

Thanks.

in this neighborhood will meet any little attendant expenses.

Has the committee from the Council decided yet as to what taxes Mr. Lawlor should pay? Let us hope a spirit of fair play will actuate the committee, and that they will not fail to remember that every penny of that tax bill will come directly out of the pocket of Mr. Lawlor whose figures hardly justify a heavy tax.

Did not the City Council some time ago appoint a committee to enquire into the ferry point a committee to enquire into the ferry rates?—the rates are the same as ever.

The Brown Memorial.

We have received a circular from J, D. Edgar, Secretary of the Brown Memorial Committee, soliciting our assistance in aiding to get up a local fund towards this praiseworthy object. We may say the Editor should be have the common to the com be happy to unite in action with others or take action himself; and in saying this we may remind our readers that creed caste and political professions are lost sight of in the present case.
