Bessie Bolton was delighted. Five minutes ago Bessie was in despair and her gentle sister Eolia reflected all her moods like a human looking-

Eolia Bolton had not been well. was not exactly a decline, but she had lost her appetite, grown pale, and coughed, and Bessie's quick affections had taken alarm at once.

"Miss Bolton ought to go into the country," the doctor said-and before Eolia could remonstrate her sister had given up the room they occupied in the city, and consulted the nearest estate agent. But it was easy to talk about here. "the country." Malaria reigned supreme in this place, clouds of mosquitoes der. drove away the rural aspirant in another, high fares blockaded a third, and thus it went on, until Bessie began to to obey the dector's edict.

seashore, they came unexpectedly upon a low, rambling old farm-house, with its you ! gray stone walls half covered with creepers, and a wilderness of hollyhocks. sweet williams, and crimson roses tangled together in the back yard, while in full view upon the front a battered plathe wind.

And then it was-and there-that Bessie's lead-weighted heart gave an upward spring.

"Eolia!" she cried, "this is the very place for us. Smell the sea air! Look at those delicious waves creeping over the sand below! Observe the picturesd's growing on its roof and the vines blowing about in the breeze!

"I'm afraid we can't afford it, Bessie, said Eolia.

"Inquire at Next House Below," said Bessie, deciphering the worn inscription on the paper. "Come, Eolia, come-I've a presentiment that we shall meet exactly what we want here."

The next house below, however, was a full mile distant, over a stretch of slippery sands half flooded by the foam of the incoming tide-it was inhabited by a deaf old woman who "didn't knowshe couldn't say." Was the rent high? sie. "She couldn't say for certain-she belived it was about $12 a month, but she didn't know." Were the premises in ing very hard. "O dear! O dear good repair ? "She didn't feel that she could take it upon her to assert." Could out, bag and baggage, to-morrow mornthey have the key? "Well, she wasn't ing. certain. P'raps they could. Sometimes her old man had it in his coat pocket, but-Yes, here it was. There was a deposit to be paid—the first month's rent, year, argued Bessie. if-oh, thankee, kindly. She was very much obliged, she was sure."

Bessie came runnig out to Eolia, tri-

"Business is business, Eo!" she cried exultantly. "And we are the ladies of the manor now! We'll sleep under that pretty sloping roof to-night."

And they did, having succeeded in borrowing a sofa-bedstead and two or of desperation, "I've just turned him three chairs from a neighbors's cottage. out of doors." Joyfully they wandered over the old rooms, peeping through the dust filmed lattices, opened the green, three-cornered cupboard, inspecting their new pre-

Eolia designed wall paper, calico patterns, and title decorations, and they required a "studio" facing the north, spectfully. and plenty of room. They were not luxurious butterflies, these sisters, but suppose you are Captain Lilburne's two warm-hearted, diligent workinggsrls, who earned their own bread and ate it with a sense of honest pride.

So Eolia stayed in the old house and set it to rights, and with the aid of Mrs. the missis, she's coming down by the Chubb's red-armed, oldest daughter, and Bessie, went up town to pack their little store of furniture and send it down by sat in the little bow-windowed apartment ed around the waist. the merry little fire of driftwood blazing it was dark, and we girls were all alone on the hearth, they looked into each in the house—and—and—I took you for in the house—and—and—I took you for other's eves.

"I feel better already," said Eolia. "The very air that I breathe is like a black eyes sparkled like wells of amused tonic. But it is so lonely !"

"Who is afraid of solitude " cheerily demanded Bessie, as she knelt to put a to me, was altogether natural." said one new pile of wood on the fire. "You he shall see that we shall be like two queens in a palace, here, Eo. We can take said she, abruptly. our work up to the city twice a week, by express; the expense here will be trifling, and-

"There," cried Eolia, with a start, "I knew there was some one knocking. I Bessie, regretfully. heard it twice before.'

fast," said Bessie, springing to her feet.

it is a pirate or a smuggler." sister, as she went briskly to the door, and peering through the salt-scented twilight, she said: Who's there

"It is I," a clear voice answered-"Captain Lilburne, with my traps."

"Then it's apirate!" faintly ejaculated

"What do you want?" demanded "To come in," shortly responded the other voice. "What should I want?

Open the door a little farther, can't you, my good girl ?" "Go about your business," said Bessie. with the emphasis of one who is determined to have her own way. "Let me in," sternly spoke up the

"I'll do nothing of the sort!" said Bessie. "There is a tavern two miles up the road, and a farm house one mile down. If you want shelter, go which way you please. You cannot come

"But why not?" persisted the intru-BCHLS2

"Because I don't choose it," said Bes sie, and she shut the door in his face. And utterly heedless of the roulade of think that it was a moral impossibility knocks on the panel which succeeded this bold coup d'etate, she came back to Until one day, walking sadly by the where Eolia sat, pale and startled. "Oh, Bessie," she cried, "how dare posed that I was a tramp.

> "How dared I what?" said Bessie. "Lock him out !"

"Would you have me let him in ounter-questioned Bessie, composedly "It's some tramp or other who didn't card, "To let," swung idly to and fro in know that the house is let. I think, Eo, we must have a dog, if we intend to live

"But, Bessie, suppose he should come

"Well, and suppose he should," said

"And insist on coming in," faltered

Bessie laughed. "I should point the bed key at him," said she "And he the Captain. would believe it was a pistol, and take madly to his heels! Dear little Eo. don't be so easily frightened. Believe me, we have seen the last of our tramp.

Half an hour afterward Mrs. Chubb came plodding over the sands and plunged into the sitting-room like some rubi cund monster of the deep. Eolia looked up from her knitting, and Bessie set forward a chair.

"Well," panted Mrs. Chubb, "I have done it now.

"Has anything happened?" said Bes-already," said Mrs. Chubb, still breath-And you young ladies will have to clear

"What !" cried Bessie. "Impossible!" echoed Eolia.

"But we have rented the house for a

"I can't help that," sniffled Mrs. Chubb. "It seems that the New York agent let it on Monday to a gentleman, umphantly waving the key over her and you took it of me on Tuesday. And-

"What is the gentleman's name," said

"Lilburne." Mrs. Chubb answered:

"Capt. Adam Lilburne." "Oh!" said Bessie, with the calmness emberg in 1477.

'And then, to Mrs. Chubb's infinite into England in the eighth century. amazament, she burst out laughing.

The next morning when she unbolted the big front door and went out, there mises with all the delight of day-old pro- on the steps sat a respectable manservant in black, guarding a pile of 3000 years old. For Bessie colored photographs and trunks. She looked at him for a moment; he touched his hat. agent in 1702.

> "Good morning, miss," he said reand spinning cotton made in the United

"Good morning," said Bessie.

man?

"Yes, miss," again touching his hat. "Where's your master," she asked. "He slept at the farm last night. And noon train. There's the Captain now." And Bessie valiantly advanced to meet a tall, handsome, sunbrowned man in a express. And the first night that they suit of navy-blue flannel, carelessly belttimes; but only one buyer will secure the lots—he who registered first. The that fronted the sea, with the casements all covered with red chintz; the well-pose, said she. "I'm sorry I behaved be, he says, lots of litigation arise out of 'warm-up." "You are Captain Liburne, I supworn crimson carpet on the floor, and so rudely last night. But the truth is, the Northwest craze. The half-breed > a tramp !" "Captain Lilburne raised his hat; his same farm again; and so keep selling it > as often as the hotheaded purchasers are

"We are in your house, it seems,"

"Well, it has rather that appearance," said the Captain, "And we suppose that we had, at least, a home for the summer," added came half an hour ago. Bess, I'm afraid room in the house. Suppose you and wife. The Mrs. Lilburne who is coming about it. Geo. Rhynas, agent, Gode-

Bessie colored scarlet, but she stood bravely to her guns.

"All the same," said she, like to be turned out of doors. My sister isn't strong, and the doctor prescribed sea air, and—"

"Pray do not say another word," said Captain Lilburne, courteously. As you remark, the house is large. I hope you will consider the west wing, which you are now occupying, entirely at your ser-

"But I couldn't remain there unless you will allow me to pay rent," pleaded

"Very well," said Captain Lilburne then you may pay rent.' So it was settled. Mrs. Lilburne, mild, rosy-cheeked old lady, came down at noon, and was delighted with her son's bargain. "There are no ghosts in the house, hope," said she, half-laughing.

"No," said the Captain. "But there are two young ladies, one of whom, a charming vixen refused me admittance last night; but I don't blame her, either. I took her for old Mother Chubb's daughter-and she, very naturally, sup-

"Is she pretty?" artfully demanded the old lady.

"Very," says Captain Lilburne. So Bessie and Eolia Bolton spent that ong, bright sultry summer at the sea. And old Mrs. Lilburne grew very fond of them in her quiet way.

"Adam," she said, when the October tides were creeping softly over the ribbed sea sands. "I shall be very sorry when these girls go away. "Shall you mother ?" he said

"They are the sweetest, frankest, least affected girls that I ever saw !" she

"Adam-" after a little pause. "Well, mother!"

"Would you think me very foolish, faltered, "if-if I adopted that pretty, pale little Eolia for my own?" Captain Lilburne's face brightened Dear mother," said he, "I shall be de hted, especially as I mean to adopt essie for my own !" Captain Lilburne was married Bessie Bolton on Christmas, and Eolia is living with the mild old lady, in a daughter's place. "And all this happiness," softly said Eolia, "came from our summer by the 1830 in 1848.

til 1844.

purposes in 1826.

First Things.

Glass windows were first introduced

The first machine for carding, roving

Secure Your Titles.

containing Calomel or other injurious substances. The proper and safe Purgative is the Great Vegetable Prepara-

States was manufactured in 1786.

The first steel pen was made in 1830. The first air pump was made in 1654. The first lucifer match was made in The first balloon ascent was made in

The first iron steamship was built in Ships were first "copper bottomed' in late in the morning. Do get to bed." Coaches were first used in England iu turns the paper wrong-side out and be-teau Trial. The first watches were made at Nurthe bed-room: Kerosene was first used for lighting gas burning here all night," and she creeps beneath the cold sheets, while The first steam engine on this contin- John sits placidly on, his feet across the at was brought from England in 1753. | piane stool and a cigar in his mouth. Glass was early discovered. Glass By-and-by he arises, yawns, stretches beads were found on mummies over himself, throws the paper on the floor, and proceeds to that vigorous exercise, Gas was first used as an illumination poking the grate.

Just at this point a not altogether pleasant voice inquires:

final flop, with the accompanying blast Through the months of March and of cold air, and then quietly inquires "if April be careful not to use Purgatives he is settled for the night?" to which he replies by muttering: "if you ain't the provokingest woman !" BOARDS, PLANK, SCANTLING and Nothing on Earth so Good.

tion, Dr. Carson's Stomach and Consti-pation Bitters, the purest and best Blood Purifier known. Geo. Rhynas, Certainly a strong opinion, said one "I'm very sorry, I'm sure," hesitated agent, Goderich.

"I'm very sorry, I'm sure," hesitated the Captain.

"Now, see here," said Bessie, "I've a town, it isn't," said Eolia. "The fish ame half an hour ago. Bess, I'm afraid is a pirate or a smuggler."

"Don't be a goose, Eo," said the elder ster, as she went briskly to the door, as the went briskly to the door.

"I'm very sorry, I'm sure," hesitated the Captain.

"I'm very sorry, I'm sure," hesitated the Captain.

"Now, see here," said Bessie, "I've a thouse. There's plenty of room in the house. Suppose you and your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your wife take us to board: or suppose to the animal previous to using the your work, being completely helpless. I more in one week than the old system of Spices, Feeds and Condition Powders.

"I'm very sorry, I'm sure," hesitated agent, Goderich.

The new treatment for rapidly conditioning Horses, Zocd's Tonic Compound and Blood Mixture. Each package contains a good Purging Ball which is given to the animal previous to using the your work, being dealed by Mr. Henry Kaschop, with Mr. Geo. E. Miller, 418 Main and Blood Mixture. Each package contains a good Purging Ball which is given to the animal previous to using the your work that I was unable to the animal previous to using the your work that I was unable to the animal previous to using the your work that I was unable to the animal previou

POPPING THE QUESTION.

ome Ways of Performing a Disagreeable Operation—Hints for Ladies and Gentle-

A gentleman had long been paying at tention to a young lady whom he was very anxious to marry, but to whom he had never ventured to declare his passicn. When opportunity offered, his courage deserted him, and when he was resolved to speak, the fair one could never be found alone or disengaged. Driven to desperation, he one day suceeded in accomplishing his purpose in a somewhat remarkable manner at a dinner party. To most people, a dinnerparty would hardly seem the most suitable occasion for overtures of this description, especially when, as in this instance, the lady is seated at the opposite side of he table from her admirer. The number. latter, however, was equal to the occasion. Tearing a leaf from his pocketbook, he wrote on it, under cover of the table: "Will you be my wife. Write

Yes or No at the foot of this,' Calling a servant he asked him in whisper to take the slip--which of course, was carefully folded and directed -to "the lady in blue opposite." The servant did as requested, and the gentleman, in an agony of suspense, watched him give it to the lady, and fixed his eyes, with badly disguised eagerness, to try and judge from her expression how the quaintly made offer was received. He had forgotten one thing-namely, that ladies seldom carry pencils about them at a dinner party. The beloved one was, however, not to be baffled by so trifling an obstacle. After reading the note calmly she turned to the servant and said: "Tell the gentleman ves." They were married in due course.

When Professor Aytoun was wooin Miss Wilson, daughter of Professor Wilson, the famous "Christopher North," he obtained the lady's consent conditionally on that of her father being secured. This Aytoun was much too shy to ask, and he prevailed upon the young lady herself to conduct the necessary negotiations.

"We must deal tenderly with his feel ings," said glorious old Christopher "I'll write my reply on a slip of paper and pin it to the back of your frock. "Papa's answer is on the back of my dress." said Miss Jane as she entered the drawing-room. Turning her around, the delighted professor read these words: "With the author's compliments."

tioes How a Man to Bed.

Speaking of how a man goes to bed an has the advantage. He can undress in it is in reality: "I am going to bed my The first horse railroad was built in dear, It's half past ten." No reply. "Now, John, you know you are always

"Yes, in a minute," he replies, as he Gold was first discovered in California gins a lengthy article, headed The Gui-

Fifteen minutes later she calls from

"John come to bed, and not keep the

"For pity's sake! Ain't you ready

The first telegraphic instrument was successfully operated by S. F. B. Morse, the inventor, in 1835, though its utility you go to sleep and let a fellow alone? was not demonstrated to the world u.i-Then he discovers that there's coal needed. When that is supplied and rattled into the stove he sits down to warm his feet. Next he slowly begins A gentleman down from Winnipeg to undress, and as he stands rubbing says people cannot be too caaeful in ooking after their titles to Northwest himself and absently gazing on the last property. He relates that some lots in garment, dangling over the back of the Selkirk have been sold three or four chair, he remembers that he wants a chair, he remembers that he wants a The drink of water. Of course, he once more

As the clock strikes twelve he turns out the gas, and with a flop of the bedcent speculator and in a bland way sell clothes and few spasmodic shivers he him their farm; they meet another subsides--no, not yet; he forgot to see speculator two days after and sell the if the door was locked, and another flop of the bed-clothes brings forth the re "The mistake, although not flattering of me, was altogether natural." said one who will hold the land; the others of the patience of Job!"

Setting her teeth hard she awaits the mark: "Good gracious! if that man ain't enough to try the patience of Job!"

Setting her teeth hard she awaits the mill helpful her mark: "Good gracious! if that man ain't enough to try the patience of Job!"

Hords of Wisdom.

That which is bitter to be en lured There is a long and wearisome step between admiration and imitation.

Everywhere endeavor to be useful, an We think very few people sensible, except those who are of our opinion.

The sunshine of life is made up of very ittle beams that are bright all the time. Every individual who has work to do n this world, and does it, needs a vaca

Every one is weary; the poor in seeking, the rich in keeping, the good in nonest man, let your practice give him

The greatest good to the greatest num ber cannot justify a wrong to the lesser Our doubts are traitors, and make us lose the good we oft might win by fearing to attempt. Repentance without amendment is like continually pumping without mending

Little drops of rain brighten the meadows and little acts of kindness brighten

Men are never killed by the adversies they have, but by the impatience which they suffer

Tomake the most of the good and the least of the evil of life is the best phil-Improve the wit you have bought at a dear rate, and the wisdom you have gained by sad experience.

Less time spent in idle dreaming and devoted to the duties of life would give us wealth and contentment. The afflictions of this life are neither too numerous nor too sarry. Much rust requireth a rough file. The elements of virtue are at the bot tom of every heart, and, though they may be trampled under foot and crushed into the mud, they still exist, and, when rescued and restored, nobility and manhood will grow out of them. Prayer, holy thinking, and holy reading are the cure for all the ills of the soul. The good thought of to-day will awaken many good thoughts to-morrow. People lament justly the evils of in temperance, but they overlook the natural craving for excitement, the love of social companionship and good cheer, the desire to forget the toil and trials of the places which first supply these wants, and then entice them on to ruin. Could these natural and wholesome appetites be gratified in innocent ways, who can tell in how many instances the temptation to strong drink might be entirely pre

"Twenty-four years' Experience."

Says an eminent physician, convinces me that the only way to cure nervous exhaustion, and weakness of the sexual exchange says: "There's where a man brain and nerve foods, and of all the remedies compounded, a cold room and have his bed warm be-fore a woman has got her hairpans out another column. Sold in Goderich by Jas. Wilson, druggist. - 1m

RHEUMAT

Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Backache, Soreness of the Chest, Gout, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Swellings and Sprains, Burns and Scalds, General Bodily Pains. Tooth, Ear and Headache, Frosted

Feet and Ears, and all other Pains and Aches. No Preparation on earth equals St. Jacons Ott. as a safe, sure, simple and cheap External Remedy. A trial entails but the comparatively trifling outlay of 50 Cents, and every one suffering with pain can have cheap and positive proof of its claims.

ims. ons in Eleven Languages SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS IN MEDICINE. A. VOGELER & CO.,

LUMBER

HEMLOCK, ELM, BASSWOOD, &C.

JOISTS. BILLS CUT TO ORDER.

CUSTOM WORK DONE. ARCHIBALD HODGE, Dunlop P. O.

HODGE & HAYNES Sheppardton P. O. 1827-3m.

$72 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly outfit free. Address RUE & Co., Augusta, Maine

AFTER 4 SEASON'S TRIAL. JAMES HEALE'S

Condensed Fire Kindlers

or shavings. Each kindler will have accentinutes, long enough to ignite hard wood. They are made from the best white resin and will not soil ladies' hands. Sold at TWENTY CENTS PER HUNDRED. No difference in price or quality.

Maker and seller, Goderich

Catherines Nurseries.

Having fully tested

D. W. BEADLE,

JAMES VICK, Rochester, N. 1

PERCHERON HORSES

100 PAGE CATALOGUE sent FREE op!teation. Contains over 4 ons and the history of the Pe Order "CATALOGUE X."

& EVERY NEIGHBORHOOD

KINTAIL BRICK YARD.

The subscriber is now carrying on the brick making business at the Kintall kilns, and will give all orders which may be sent him th most prompt attention. The brick is of first class quality, and the terms are reasonable

MANUFACTURED IN TORONTO.

Oh, he who gets Gets gold enou or shavings. Each kindler will burn seven And he that get May make and And he that mat

The Pos

"A good wi

If his wife on

And may grow But a man may

He may toil th

He will never!

Oh a man that c

Has pleasure e

But his heart can

I've a wife to ble

Gets trouble of

He's a weary par

In his joy there And through all

He works like gold, And on nobod

ror your own w

And for your And he that gets

May easy be ri While he that w

Mates life with

The Dignity

teachers v

Women particu

of at the strugg

something that offeel that there is r

this, rich as it worth and value i

to be early learne

always is that we who lodge here fo

we may go on ne: have done more t woman in the exe than all the petty avowed woman's I have often thou to be a woman wi take the wide wor up and down he tired woman who in doing things v

comfort and we were required, t

good housewife, s for her is the be this could be d

often hear womer

of doing the nes

plainly theirs th

they cannot overl

if I could only do to see that this and common the really lies at the without which I who shall at the may also live not factor to the ra calm-browed wo

duties with satis

The Princess

going to Paris, to buy her trouse

it at establishme

Queen of Hollan

them "incognita

the Dutch Legs

Queen Emma is generous to her with her from t

with her Parisi

goes to England ducal family of old, proud and f its domestic ar made on the nee

the portions of t eldest of them w

romantic dispos thing of a blue little state is be fearfully pover country of high brawling stream Leopold met his family of Englar of Cambridge ar

and was highly

Duke of Hesse

that she would l

with the Prince

Claremont, and down, a minist

member of an e

that the Prince ideal wife for ar

disposed Englis

Nassau family wealthy relation reared in grand gentle, and of a and though not certainly not r simplicity.

of Holland.

happiness.

to something patient mother of possibities for

Don't marry for

James Heale.

ESTABLISHED IN 1836.

MOORE'S EARLY & BRIGHTON

two new grapes, I unhesitatingly advise my patrons to plant them. You will not be disappointed. MOOHEN'S EARLY is the best very early black grape yet grown in Canada. It has stood thirty degrees below zero unhurt. BRIGHTON is a delicious red grape, ripening just after Moore's Early. They are both large

ST. CATHERINES, ONT.

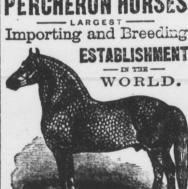

VICK'S Illustrated Floral Guide!

For 1882 is an Elegani Book of 130 Pages, two Colored Plates of Flowers, and more than 1909 illustrations of the choicest Flowers, Plants and Vegetables, and Directions for growing. It is handsome enough for the Centre Table or a Holiday Present. Send on your name and Post Office address, with 10 Cents and I will send you a copy, postage paid. This is not a quarter of its cost. It is printed in both English and German. If you afterwards order seeds deduct the 10 cts.

VIEWS SEEDS are the best in the world. The FLORAL GUIDE will tell you how to get and grow them.

Viek's Flower and Vegetable Garden, 175 Pages, 6 Colored Plates, 300 Engravings. For

Pages, 6 Colored Plates, 500 Engravings. For cents in paper covers; $1.00 in elegant cloth. In German or English. Vick's Hinstrated Monthly Magazine—32 Pages, a Colored Plate in every numbe land Pages, a Colored Plate in every number and many fine Engravings. Price $1.25 a year; Five Copies for $5.00. Specimen Numbers sent for 10 cents; 3 trial copies for 25 cents. Address,

M. W. DUNHAM Wayne, Du Page County, Illinois, U. S. A

(35 miles west of Chicago.)

During the past 17 months 369 STALLIONS AND MARES have been imported from France to this establishment, being MORE than the combined importations of all other importers of Draft Horses from all parts of Europe for any one year.

One-fifth of the entire number of Imported French Horses in America can be seen on his farm. His Importations have included the Prize Winners of the Universal Exposition, Paris, 1878, and nearly all the Prize Horses of the Great Shows of France since his importations began. They also carried off the honors at the Centennial, 1876; and, at the Great Chicago Fair, 1881, Mr. Dunham's Heri of PERCHERONS, (in competition with the largest and finest collection of Clydesdales ever shown, consisting of the prize winners at the Great Shows of Scotland and England.) was awarded the Grand Sircepstakes Prize of $1,000 and Grand Gold Medal.

100 PAGE CATALOGUE sems FREE

EVERY LARGE BREEDER BECAUSE thirty years' trial has demonstrated that when brd to the common mares of the country the produce is more uniform, are easier keepers, better workers, and sell for more money on the market than any other class of Horses.

TO BUILDERS.

Address

A quantity of good white brick on hand an for sale at reasonable rates.

A permanent, sure cure for Diseases, Disorders and Ailments of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Secretive System, or Attendant Complaints—eausing Pain in Small of Back, Sides, etc., Urinary Disorders, Gravel, Catarrh of the Bladder and passages; Brights Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Pile., Nervous Debility, etc., etc.

Diabetes, Dropsy, Pile; Nervous Debility, etc., etc.
Pamphlets and testimonials can he obtained from Druggists free.
PRICES—Child's Pad, $1.50 (cures Bed-wetting.) Regular Pad, $2.00. Special Pad for Chronic Diseases, $3.00. Sold by

JOHN BOND,
Sole Agent, Goderich.
W. T. Bray, Wingham; John S. Tennant,
M. D. Lucknow; De Witt H. Martyn, M. D. Kincardine; Watts & Co. Clinton; J. S. Roberts, Scaforth; G. H. Hewson, Bayfield; S. A. Hodge, Mitchell; The Central Drug Store, Exeter; H. R. Jackson, Hensall; Mrs. John McIntosh, Brucefield; Lawrason & Hamilton, Blyth

Would it not

Mowat to ame parliament act hibiting a men his seat of acci railway compar ful that men w personal and tr hamper their in dead-head tick