

THE FARMERS

CREAMERY AT VERMILION.

The Vermilion creamery is a good example of the success which has attended the establishment of the government creameries all over the province. This creamery has been operating only a few months and now has between sixty and seventy patrons with the number steadily increasing. The plan adopted by Provincial Dairy Commissioner Maxwell is to put an experienced butter maker in charge in order to see the creamery running properly and to educate the patrons as to the best method by which they may secure its interests as well as their own. In the case of the Vermilion district this plan has proved highly successful. J. R. Plan was instructor for the first few weeks and his place is now taken by John Mann of Lacombe, who, while in charge of the creamery, took the gold medal at the Dominion fair at Calgary for the best package of creamery butter. Mr. Mann is supplying the Vermilion district with much valuable information to increase their output. At a recent meeting of the creamery association, the district was found to be well organized and making very satisfactory progress.

The Building itself.

The workshop of the creamery is 28 ft. wide and 12 ft. high. It is a simple building consisting of a vat for getting the cream the proper temperature, and the Success butter worker and churn combined. On the right hand wing of the building is the cold storage room 7 feet by 14 feet 10 inches and an ice chest 11 feet by four feet 10 inches. Several thousand pounds of butter may be stored here at one time. In another portion of the building is a bath and wash room for the cream and the creamery workers. The creamery is in the engine room is a steam plant with a 15 horse power boiler and a 12 horse power engine. The testing room contains the latest appliances for testing milk. Upstairs is a large space which may be used as a place of meeting for the creamery association or a living room for the manager. A part of it is at present used for storing the shipping boxes outside the building a large trap is installed for carrying the boxes. The building is neat, compact and proportionate in every way. It would be a creditable building for either a city or growing town.

Progress of the Creamery.

During the first week the creamery was in operation 157 pounds of butter were shipped to Calgary, where it is kept in cold storage until it is ready for the local market. At the end of the third week 276 pounds were shipped as the result of two weeks' work. The present output is from 1300 to 1400 pounds per week. The association has four members whose areas is collected between many pastures who draw their own cream.

THE CREAMERIES INCREASE OUTPUT

The Average Price Obtained by the Farmer Will Also Be Better This Year.

"We look for an increase of 20 per cent. over last year in the output of the creameries of Alberta. The price of butter per pound will be considerably better than last year, but it is impossible to state just what the average price will be until all the butter is sold. The whole dairy outlook for the province is very encouraging indeed."

This is the statement made to a bulletin representative this morning concerning the output of Dairy Commissioner Marker, who came up from Calgary last evening. Marker stated that the most striking feature of the dairy situation is that the production is keeping up so remarkably well. Last week the output was up to the mark for the corresponding week of 1906, which was the best season the province ever had.

By making a comparison of the market quotations for dairy creamery butter, continued Mr. Marker, "I find that on the dairy supply during the season, when the highest price is being paid for the product. It also shows that they are sending their milk to the creamery instead of keeping it at home production of butter to cater to the local market. Farmers are better off than they were last year, and the cost of production and that it is to their best interests to continue to produce as long as they have cream to dispose of."

Dairy Broker Engaged.

"What success are the creameries having in setting the market conditions?" Mr. Marker was asked. "The individual creameries have many difficulties, but the Dairy Farmers' Association of Alberta, of which most of the creameries are members, has appointed a broker to act as sales agent. All the butter is consigned to this agent at Calgary, by weekly loads, and he is able to get the best prices on large orders than individual creameries could do. The same is true of the Dominion government butter, which is being handled through the Calgary office."

Government Creameries.

"What progress is being made by the government creameries?" Mr. Marker was asked. "The government creameries in the province, and these are giving the farmer excellent results. In fact, they are doing considerably better in this respect than those of the east. The Alberta creamery butter is becoming so popular that some western farmers have placed orders for as many as six car loads from a year ago. The government creameries are always left until later, the idea being to get the creamery butter into the market as early as possible, regardless of the price. Sometimes the quantity of butter on hand does not permit of this, but the government creameries are producing."

Winter Dairy Meetings.

"We will have the series of dairy meetings during the winter the same as last year," concluded Mr. Marker. "It is not yet decided where they will be held or when they will begin. The lecturers will undoubtedly show the farmers that the loss of $2,000 to the province on every car of dairy butter shipped from the province should induce them to increase the supply of creamery butter by becoming patrons of creameries wherever possible. The text at every meeting throughout the province will be that it is the farmers' advantage to patronize the creamery."

CANADIAN PACIFIC INVADERS THE U.S.

Unlimited Option Has Been Obtained by C. P. R. for Purchase of Great Western.

Minneapolis, Sept. 20.—That the Chicago-Great Western Railroad company, together with all of its terminal facilities, subsidiary lines, rolling stock and motive power equipment, will soon become the sole property of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, seems to be a certainty according to reports which were heard around the railroad headquarters at St. Paul yesterday. The fact that gives this report more weight than ordinary rumors is the statement of one of the officials of the Great Western, during the service of the C. P. R. in St. Paul on Thursday, an unlimited option on the Chicago-Great Western system was obtained by the Canadian Pacific Railway company. President Shaughnessy and Horace Bert, from the receivers of the Great Western, were present.

Further, it is stated that owing to the labor troubles which the Canadian system is having, it is impossible for that system to take over the Great Western now, and for that reason the option was obtained from the receivers. Such a step by the Canadian Pacific would be a most important merger move of modern railroad history. It will be the means of giving the Great West fields which are being developed in the Canadian Northwest an outlet into the United States which will be second to none. It will be the means of giving the Canadian Pacific a most important asset in three of the largest cities in the middle west and placed in position to handle the entire contemplated system may be operated without regard to parallel competitive line objection, which caused the dissolution of the Great West.

A great deal and perhaps a large majority of the stock of Chicago Great Western, which will be located at Minneapolis, has been an open secret in local railroad circles for some time past that the Canadian Pacific officials were trying to gain access into Chicago, but just what method would be chosen to accomplish this, was a puzzle to local railroaders. The taking over of the Great Western property, however, will solve this problem for all time and the Canadian Pacific will have a most important asset in the second largest terminal city in the United States, which is a vast, rich, productive country in which business may originate.

It is estimated that since the fraud has lost one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in toll tax. Correspondence from Mexico failed to throw any light on the situation. Recently Mr. O'Hara took a trip to the Pacific coast to look into the methods of handling the Chinese arrivals. The officials of the coast, men of long experience in the work, expressed the conviction that a big fraud was being carried on by the Chinese.

THE POOL IS WORTH MORE THAN THE BODY

Says Aged Missionary Father Lacombe Who Saturday Celebrated the Fifty-Sixth Anniversary of His Coming to Edmonton—He Spoke at St. Joseph's Church—Anniversary of This Decree This Week.

His Lordship Bishop Lefol officiated at the evening services at St. Joseph's last night, re-reading the act of consecration of the diocese, as the anniversary of this consecration occurs this week, Sept. 22. Saturday was the fifty-sixth anniversary of Father Lacombe's arrival in Edmonton. Setting out from St. Boniface with the blessing of the venerable Bishop Provencher, the young missionary had made his way up toward the Saskatchewan valley, making the first of his journey by the Hudson Bay Company's boats.

"In the pulp of St. Joachim's last night in a brief address to the people for the anniversary, he referred to this, stating that he could recall clearly that afternoon when he first saw Edmonton with crowds of Indians and half-breeds waiting the arrival of the boats, the great event of the year. Since then he had seen many changes in the country, much grain work done by the various missionaries for the salvation of souls, and he felt it his duty to publicly thank God for the many years that had been granted to him and for the multiplied blessings he had received. As he could not do so publicly, he turned his thoughts to the prayer for the blessing of the Holy Sacrament, 'to help us thank God for all that,' said the aged priest with emotion.

After Lacombe then talked in an interesting way of the high duties and responsibilities of a parish priest, who was responsible for the spiritual welfare of even the least of his flock.

"But," he continued, "it is not only the priest who is obliged to look after the souls of mankind. Each one of us must not only work for our own salvation, but we must help others. There are stupid Christians—I know some of them—who say 'That man's conduct is none of my business. I go to church, I observe the laws of the land, I pay my taxes, and I am content with that.' I do not think that is the way to live. We must not only work for our own salvation, but we must help others.
