MRS. MARY ANN MURRAY. there passed to the Great Beyond, a highly respected and conspicuous old David Murray. Although in her 76th tin, year, she was quite active up to a indisposition she lost considerable of her vitality, and soon became an easy prey to the dreaded local and the state of the indisposition she lost considerable of her vitality, and soon became an easy prey to the dreaded LaGrippe which terminated her life on the above mentioned date. The deceased was a type of woman very difficult to find in many places, and was remarkable for her many noble qualities. Bereft of a good husband early in life with a large family she had to assume the responsibility of father and mother, and for nearly a quarter of a century directed the affairs of her family after the manner of her own life, which was most exemplary. She was a de-voted Catholic and a model example of everything that was truly Christian. The proverbial saying "Charity covers a multitude of sins," was always predominant in her mind, and to practice that virtue. It was at the sick bed where she was a constant vsiitor, and where she always excelled, her good nature would show itself, and many a poor creature's suf-ferings were made easy by the prayers and consolations of this good old comshe literally wore herself out in the cause of her fellow creatures. played by our Casino players last night. We were transported from our quiet St. John's homes to the wilds of far Western Montana. It is a melodrama, but one of a kind that makes the audience sit up and take notice Its construction is a masterpiece with its intense situations and dramatic climaxes, all so realistically arrangforter. In performing such deeds of mercy she knew no distinction of class or creed, and regardless of self with a heart full of sympathy and kindness was always to be found at heart of the beds of the self and dynamic and the self and portrayed that the audience were spell-bound. It did not seem possible that so much could be considered in tabloid form. A "Road Agent" or "hold-up man" falls in love the beds of the sick and dying, until with a young girl who runs a ranch and a bar. A sheriff and in fact all the boys are also in love with her. was never known to utter an unkind The road agent is arrested and is word towards anyone, and even to a fault was always most charitable and considerate. Her sufferings in death were marked by that submission and resignation which characterized her other noble qualities in this life, and the end was most peaceful and hanny the end was most peaceful and even to be lynched, but the Girl pleads for his life as he is the only man she ever loved. They yield his life to her and the road agent is arrested and is about to be lynched, but the Girl pleads for his life as he is the only man she ever loved. Wonderful Cures Reported in Germany.

The use of simple herbs as remedies instead of the more concentrated and usually more dangerous inorganic substances, has been revived very widely of late. In Germany a new school of physicians has arisen which throws out almost a whole of the pharmacopeia and relies on an adaptation of the method of wild animals in curing themselves. . . . N. Y. World.

It was Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., who first advocated the extended use of some of our native roots, such as: Golden seal and Oregon grape root, mandrake and queen's root, black cherrybark. These are the chief ingredients in Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so well and favorably known for nearly half a century. A harmless cleanser and stomach tonic that nature has provided.
