Corner Bates' Hill and Henry Street, St. John's, Nfld

Honor For Mrs. Rossley's Pupils.

At the Highland Games, yesterday, the seven little girls who danced before Sir Walter and Lady Davidson, and many other notable persons, were richly rewarded, and it will be a red letter day in their lives, for each little girl was presented with a very beautiful gold and enamel pendant, by Lady Davidson. Those clever little girls danced the second time by request and were loudly applauded. Dressed as they were in the correct Highland costume, they presented a very picturesque appearance while they gracefully performed their dance without a hitch. They spoke of the time and patience bestowed on them by their trainer Mrs. Rossley.

Denial from Cooper's Union.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—
In reference to an item that appeared in last evening's Telegram re the labor deadlock, wherein it is alleged that the cooper's have lost money through the action of the L.S.P.U. suspending work at 6 o'clock, the St. John's Journeymen's Cooper's Union wish to contradict the statement. Contrary to the opinion that we have lost money by the L.S.P.U. action, it is quite probable that the St. John's Journeymen's Cooper's Union may have to adopt a similar course. Night work has prevailed during the past couple of years and has been such as to shorten the day's work, and been a means of leaving men unemployed for long periods in the spring and summer. Members of this Union have no complaints with conditions as prevail. If the reporter will in future obtain any information from the President of this Union that he might require, correction such as this will be unnecessary.

Yours, etc.,
WILLIAM LINEGAR,
President J.C.U.

Scully at Rossley's.

There was a big house at Rossley's last night. Scully is fast becoming a big favorite; his Jolly Tar act is put on in great style, which speaks well for the artist. To-night his turn is altogether different. This time he will be a Doctor, and his various experiences will be more than funny. Mr. Scully took the part of Robinson Crusoe's mother at Drury Lane Pan-tomime, London, where his impersonation of the female was to the life. The pictures at Rossley's are the finest obtainable, there are no better. The Vitagraph feature to-night "Out of the Storm" is a masterpiece in every way. There are several all fine pictures, impossible to say which is best.

BOY RUN OVER—A boy named Austin Cloney, aged 7, was run over by a horse and buggy near the Cross Roads last evening. He was driven to his home in Stephen Street where he was examined by Dr. Roberts and afterwards taken to the General Hospital for treatment.

Successful Outing Wesley Bible Class.

The Wesley Bible Class excursion to Irvine's yesterday was a complete success. Not the slightest item occurred to mar the enjoyment of the day. The various committees had things so systematically arranged as to decorations, sports, music, evening programme, fireworks, etc., that it was indeed a fine time. Detraining at the Octagon at two o'clock in ideal weather, the breeze from the pond and the charming scenery all around made all feel very happy. Many went walking around, some angling for trout, others enjoyed the games of football, racing, etc. At six over 100 sat down to tea. The class is about one hundred, so there was a good gathering of themselves, lady friends and guests. After partaking of the excellent menu supplied by the proprietor, Mr. Poole, a dozen members of the Guards Band, Messrs. Dutot, Garland, Peet, Pike, Noseworthy and others furnished splendid music. Then the crowd thinned away to many points until recalled at 8.30 for the concert. This was a first class affair several being encored, particularly Miss Walker. The accompaniments were played by Miss Flora Pike and Mr. James Pratt. The distribution of prizes followed, and were handed the winners by Mrs. Royle. The President of the Class, Mr. A. Rooney, then gave a capital address and introduced Rev. Mr. Royle, who struck a very happy note by his witty remarks, expressed his gratification on the success of the day and his pleasure on being present. The superintendent of the Sunday school Mr. A. W. Martin, was also called for, and congratulated all on the admirable arrangements so faultlessly carried out. He was proud of the class, their loyalty to their officers and the esprit de corps amongst themselves. Mr. B. Taylor also spoke. A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Harry Chaplin to the caterer, Mr. Poole, to the members of the band and performers. This was seconded by Mr. J. Driscoll, supported by others and carried by acclamation. Fireworks and fun followed, and home-ward bound, singing all the way, a very merry party reached the station at 11.30 p.m. The genial Mr. Vey made some pictures of the class and visitors and they should sell like hot cakes.

A Contradiction.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—In the Herald of Monday past, I notice a report of the unfortunate disaster which occurred here on Saturday morning, when the Church and School and two homes were destroyed by fire, and the writer states that the fire evidently originated from sparks from a pipe in the pocket of a coat of one of the workmen, which was hung up near the confessional, where the fire started. Mr. Editor, I wish to state emphatically that this version is entirely incorrect and misleading, and the writer either received his information from a poorly informed source, or else somebody is anxious to fasten the blame upon the workman who hung up his coat in the Chapel. I am the only man who was working with Mr. Nangle on that particular morning, and I desire to state publicly that I wore no coat that morning, nor did I bring a coat from home. This statement is a true statement of fact and can be borne out by others. As to the origin of the fire, that is a mystery to me as well as to the foreman, but in justice to myself, I cannot allow a wrong impression to prevail which could only be construed into casting a reflection upon myself. With thanks for space.
I am, yours truly,
THOMAS DWYER.

Home Rule Conference

PESSIMISTIC VIEWS PREVAIL.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day.

At the close of the Cabinet Council last night, it became known there was only the smallest prospect of the Home Rule conference arriving at an agreement. Its termination when it reassembles to-day, is regarded as certain. Carson, it is understood, stands out for the complete exclusion of the six counties of Ulster from the operation of the Bill, including Fermanagh and Tyrone, while Redmond declines to go beyond the concessions. Asquith already has made him permitting referendums. Unless some way out of the difficulty is discovered at the eleventh hour, it is believed the Premier will be obliged to announce the failure of the conference. Asquith's assurances to Parliament, assuming full responsibility for the King's speech, declaring no constitutional precedent had been contravened, allayed much of the angry feeling among Liberals, or rather transferred it from the King to the Premier himself. Active negotiations are proceeding outside of Buckingham Palace between the party leaders. The Premier had an interview with Lord Lansdowne and Andrew Bonar Law, opposition leaders, between two separate sittings of the Cabinet. All kinds of rumors are current, one that Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, representing a minority in the Cabinet favoring the Clean Cut exclusion of Ulster, had threatened to resign; another that the King will make another dramatic move at the Conference, and that a speedy general election has become inevitable. The Unionist morning papers take a gloomy view of the prospects of the Home Rule Conference. They assert yesterday's meeting showed that agreement on the exclusion question was impossible and expect the Conference will be broken up to-day. The Morning Post says it has a reason to believe that one of the causes which determined the calling of the Home Rule Conference was a series of recommendations from the Army Council, representing that a grave military situation might arise from a civil war in Ireland, and adds that it understands that the King's speech to the Conference contained reference to matters not strictly Irish, which with the consent of the Conference were omitted from the published report of the speech.

VANCOUVER, To-day.

Rumors are afloat that Hindus have again taken possession of the Komagata Maru, that they have gotten rid of the crew and that four members of the crew have been drowned. Up to the present there has been no means of verifying these reports. It is further stated that two Immigration officials are aboard the Maru whose names cannot be ascertained and that they are being held as hostages. The sixth regiment has been called out and is now patrolling the wharves, while the launch Winimac is patrolling the inlet throwing her searchlight around waters. Gurdit Singh the Hindu leader sprang a new one on the Immigration authorities last night. He sent ashore a letter to Superintendent Reid declaring he would not sail this morning if a number of things are not done for him. Gurdit is kicking about grub. Thousands of dollars worth of provisions were put aboard yesterday, but the Hindu wants more. "Unless I get these things aboard, it will be impossible for us to sail to-morrow morning" is the decisive way the letter put it. Because of the new turn of affairs, Superintendent Reid again called on the authorities to decide whether or not to force matter.

Plan to Steal Murillos.

Mexico City, July 18.—A bold attempt to rob the San Carlos Fine Art School here of six of its priceless paintings, four of which were Murillos, was made Thursday night last by Ignacio Martinez, a young Mexican artist, who recently returned from Italy, where he had been studying art.

Senor Martinez hid himself in the San Carlos school after closing hours and shortly after midnight he took down the paintings, which he attempted to steal. Before leaving the gallery with the paintings he started a fire in the hall, expecting it would spread rapidly, and destroy all evidences of the theft.

Luckily the fire was discovered by employees of the school living on a lower floor, before it caused serious damage. The absence of the paintings was immediately discovered, and Martinez was caught while he was attempting to leave the building with the paintings. The latter were restored to their places.

Martinez confessed that he intended to take the paintings to New York or Europe and sell them for at least six million pesos. The Murillos are "The Immaculate Conception," "St. John the Evangelist," "St. Sebastian" and "St. John of God."

Honor Paid to Sir Edward Clark

London, July 18.—There was a notable gathering at the Bar at Lincoln's Inn last night at a banquet tendered to Right Hon. Sir Edward Clarke, the noted lawyer, who is retiring after fifty years' practice. Among the guests were the Lord High Chancellor, the Attorney-General and the Lord Chief Justice.

Sir Edward Clarke has handled some celebrated cases and was Solicitor-General from 1886 to 1892. He was counsel in the trial of Dr. Jameson and was also in the Baccarat case. He has written a number of works on law and other subjects. He was born in 1841, and was admitted to the practice of law at Lincoln's Inn in 1864.

WILL GIVE SMITH A RETURN MATCH IF HE WANTS IT.

London, July 17.—"If Gunboat Smith wants a return match right away, he is not going to encounter the slightest difficulty," said Carpentier's manager this afternoon. "It is Carpentier's wish, as it is my wish that the King will make another dramatic move at the Conference, and that a speedy general election has become inevitable. The Unionist morning papers take a gloomy view of the prospects of the Home Rule Conference. They assert yesterday's meeting showed that agreement on the exclusion question was impossible and expect the Conference will be broken up to-day. The Morning Post says it has a reason to believe that one of the causes which determined the calling of the Home Rule Conference was a series of recommendations from the Army Council, representing that a grave military situation might arise from a civil war in Ireland, and adds that it understands that the King's speech to the Conference contained reference to matters not strictly Irish, which with the consent of the Conference were omitted from the published report of the speech."

Deschamps, commenting on what he termed the disappointing end of the fight, said both he and Carpentier were dissatisfied with the result. He added:

"Carpentier personally wanted the fight to proceed, but I thought the blow he received from Smith while he was down would have proved detrimental, had the fight gone on. He regrets he was not allowed to win the championship on a clean, straightforward knockout, for he had Gunboat Smith beaten almost from the outset."

"Carpentier is very sorry his opponent gave him a foul blow that put end to the match. Had the referee allowed the fight to go on, the French boy was absolutely certain of victory."

When he was pinned down as to what he meant by a "return match right away," Carpentier's manager explained that the French boxer would be able to fight Smith again, only after he had fulfilled his music hall engagements.

"These will keep Carpentier busy until September, but he is more than willing to arrange a date in December or January," he said.
