The Nova Scotia Elections

To-day is Nomination Day in Nova Scotia, and elsewhere in this issue will be found a list of the candidates in the different constituencies. The Elections take place on June 25th.

With the exception of the constituencies of Cape Breton Centre, Cape Breton East, and Halifax, in which representatives of Labour are taking the field, the fight is between the Liberal and Conservative parties, the former under the leadership of the Hon. Ernest Howard Armstrong, K.C., LL.D., and the latter, of Hon. Edgar Nelson Rhodes, K.C., B. A., LL.B.

The Liberal party has been in power for forty-three years, during which time the opposition has been unable to make much progress against them, but the hope of a Conservative victory in the present contest is based chiefly upon the growing feeling of late years that the Maritime Provinces have not been shown by the Federal Government the consideration which they consider their due, and the industrial catastrophe in the mining areas of Cape Breton will undoubtedly prove an important factor in the campaign. The Premier, who has held that office since the retirement of Hon. George H. Murray in January, 1923, is opposed in Shelburne by E. R. Nickerson, formerly a Liberal, and the other Conservative candidate in Captain Norman Smith, who, having become a naturalized American many years ago, applied last autumn for repatriation, which was only granted within the past three weeks. It is significant that in five constituencies, namely Digby, Queens, Shelburne, Antigonish, and Inverness, former Liberals, who supported the Government in the last election, are opposition candidates in this contest. Many citizens of St. John's will be interested to learn that Colonel Montgomery, who was formerly in charge of the Furness Withy Company's office in this city, and who took such a prominent part in connection with the organizing of the Newfoundland overseas forces, is the leader of the Conservatives in Halifax County. Another Conservative candidate whose name is well known on account of the many articles which have been written by him on Forestry and reproduced in the local press is F. J. D. Barnum, who is contrasting Queens.

The campaign is being waged with vigour, and lacks none of the features which generally mark an election in this country and to which our western neighbours on such an occasion are wont to refer in terms of ridicule. Startling headlines and the usual glowing accounts of meetings held and progress made appear in the rival organs, with the result that no one on the outside is able to form any estimate as to the actual trend of events. And, we presume, when the election is over the press on either side will refer to the temperate and truthful manner in which the campaign was conducted.

Sweepstakes and Wheels of Fortune Restricted

The decision of Judge Morris to withhold permission for the running of sweepstakes and the restricting of the wheels of fortune at the Regatta will, we feel certain, receive public approval. Of late years the event has almost lost its old time atmosphere owing to the prevalence of money making concerns which have practically made the races a secondary consideration.

Regatta day is our great holiday, when rich and poor gather by the lakeside and know no class distinction. One of its quaintest features formerly was the little shop which disposed of its "penn'orth of pudding and a glass of beer," but of late this business has almost disappeared because of those other attractions which promised, but seldom gave, better value for the money. We trust that they will come back in strength and benefit by the decision of the Judge.

Last Night's Missionary Service at St. Thomas's

A very impressive and beautiful Missionary Service was held at St. Thomas's Church last night, a fitting conclusion to the Clerical Convention of the Diocese. Considering so little opportunity has been possible for making the service known there was a large congregation, all four of the city churches having its representatives. That they were rewarded for their endeavour to be "present was evident by the warm attention they paid to the Missioner, Rev. F. F. Palmer, as in simple yet forcible language he unfolded his theme, "A World Consciously or Unconsciously Seeking After God."

Finding his text in Ps. 42 verses 1 and 2, one of the special Psalms chosen by the Rector of St. Thomas's without consultation with the preacher, he gave at once the seal and indication that those who had arranged for the service had the mind of the spirit in so doing. We are reminded, as we need to be constantly reminded, that material things will never satisfy the cravings of the human heart or the thirst of the soul, just because God never intended they should do so. "There is none but Christ can satisfy."

The preacher then appealed to his hearers as to their own experience: were they finding Jesus the increasingly satisfying gift of God? He then went on to show the Pagan and Mohammedan world with thirst unsatisfied and the menace of Islam as a direct challenge to Christ and His church, and he appealed to his hearers to check this menace by sacrificial giving of men and means. Newfoundland too with its six vacant parishes constituted a pressing and urgent call. The geographical position of this island helped it to be relatively speaking in advance of other lands as to piety; might it not become another loss, from which may go forth men and women with a burning enthusiasm for the evangelization of the world?

In Queen's College, there is an institution which is entirely suitable for the training of men suitable for the needs of the island.

The clergy in robes were seated in the Choir stalls. The service was conducted by Rev. J. B. Elliott, Rector, and his assistant, Rev. W. E. Godfrey, the Lesson being read by Rev. Dr. Facey. At the close of the service, His Lordship the Bishop pronounced the Benediction.

St. Thomas's is a Church with a vision, "that the world may know," and "that they all may be one," and its clergy and their people do what they can to answer their own prayers.

"Newfoundland" Puts Back to Belfast

The Furness Withy Co. received word this morning that their new liner Newfoundland, which sailed from Liverpool on Tuesday night, was compelled to put back to Belfast last night, owing to the machinery having been slightly deranged. She is expected to sail again on Saturday.

Not Giving Up Practice.

Dr. G. N. Murphy wishes to state that, contrary to rumours that have been circulated, he has no intention of giving up his practice in Newfoundland—June 18, 1925.

Magistrates Court

One drunk was fined $1.00 or three days.

A man belonging to Pouch Cove, taken in for safekeeping last night, was liberated this morning.

A resident of Torbay, named Codner, was summoned before Court this morning on a charge of being loose and disorderly on Indian Meal Road, Torbay, on the night of June 7th. The principal witness in the case was a young woman who belongs to the same place, and in her evidence she stated to the Court that about 10.30 on the night in question, she met a man on the roadside disguised as a ghost, by which she became frightened and collapsed. She knew nothing further until some time later when she regained consciousness. Two other witnesses also gave evidence, and identified the man. The defendant had no questions to ask witnesses, and after the judge had given him a sound lecture, he was fined $5.00 or in default 10 days' imprisonment.

An old offender named Gibbs was arraigned before Court yesterday, on a charge of assaulting a 13-year-old girl, on the Southside Road. On the evidence submitted the accused was convicted and sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labor.

The Priests' Convention

The final act of the first Priests' Convention of the Diocese of Newfoundland took place in the Cathedral this morning, in the solemn singing of the Holy Eucharist. The Clergy occupied the choir, and the Celebration was taken by the Rev. F. Palmer, assisted by the Rev. J. T. Hiscock (Rector of Newtown) and the Rev. A. E. Tait (Rural Dean of Avalon). His Lordship the Bishop preached, taking as his text the 17th and 18th verses of the first chapter of the second Epistle of St. Peter: "He received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to Him from the excellent glory, 'This is my Beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.' And this voice which came from Heaven we heard, when we were with Him in the Holy Mount." Our Blessed Lord took only three of the Apostles up to the Mount of Transfiguration because they more possibly than the others were affected by the meanings of the sufferings awaiting Him; and because, in the early days of the Church, they were to play such a responsible part. They needed a vision of the essential glory of the Lord and Master, the only begotten Son of God. Was it too much to say that, during the Convention, we had been on the mount? That we had caught a vision of Christ as He is? Everybody, surely, knew that that was what had happened. We descend now to the work-a-day world, a world longing for Christ. We are to take Him to our people. We will only do that if we keep our vision clear, if we ourselves keep close to Him.

The collection was given to Father Palmer as a personal gift for the use of his Community, in recognition of the great help he had been to the success of the Convention. Fr. Palmer left by to-day's express, and was seen off at the station by the whole body of clergy.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES

MacMILLAN OUTLINES HIS PLANS.

CHARLESTON, June 17. Amid the din of roaring guns and shrieking marine whistles, Lieutenant Commander Donald MacMillan and his little crew sailed from the Charleston Navy Yard shortly after noon to-day on the steamer Peary to start his ninth voyage into the Arctic. Just before the Peary sailed MacMillan outlined his plans to the notables assembled to wish him God speed. He expected that the original plan, the exploration of the vast and unknown Arctic tract called Crocker Land, might be delayed a week to permit his expedition to search for Captain Roald Amundsen, who has been lost to the world since he started his Polar flight almost four weeks ago. If word is not received from the Norwegian explorer by August 1, when the MacMillan expedition expects to reach Etah, Greenland, the northern most point that the ship can go, MacMillan's flares will begin a search. Amundsen, he said, will run out of food to-morrow if he has failed to reach Cape Columbia. He believes that the lost explorer will be found in one of the three places he plans to search. Amundsen's fate settled, MacMillan's party will fly to the unknown Polar continent to complete their original task. He said that he expected to remain there until the middle of August, and probably would return to the United States about September 20. The three Amphibian planes which the Peary carried on deck when she sailed will allow MacMillan to accomplish as much in one day as he would in fifteen months if confined to the use of ships or dog teams, he said.

ARMS AND MUNITIONS CONFERENCE CONCLUDES.

GENEVA, June 18. Peace and good will among nations was the dominant note when to-day the International Conference on the control of the traffic in arms and munitions ended when eighteen countries emphasised their desire for international co-operation by signing the Arms Traffic Convention, and twenty-seven subscribed to the protocol outlawing the use of bacteria and poison gas in wartime.

BELGIAN COALITION CABINET FORMED.

BRUSSELS, June 17. After having been ten weeks without a Cabinet, Belgium to-night finds itself possessed of a constituted ministry. It is headed by Viscount Poulet. The General Council of the Socialist Party by a vote of 40 to 26 gave its approval and adherence to the new regime. A Royal decree sanctioning the Ministry will appear in the official journal to-morrow morning. The Cabinet is a Coalition body.

TWO AGED SOLDIERS' QUARREL HAS TRAGIC ENDING.

LONDON, June 17.—Charles S. Gay, a 92 year old veteran of the Civil War, shot Nelson B. Hackett, aged 78, his friend and fellow veteran, to-day, and then committed suicide. According to the police, Hackett was not expected to live. No incentive for the assault has been discovered, the police said, beyond the fact that the men quarrelled about two weeks ago and had not been speaking terms since that time.

NAVY NURSES ACCQUITTED OF RUM RUNNING.

WASHINGTON, June 18. Miss Ruth Anderson and Miss Katherine C. Clancy, two Navy nurses, who were each accused of violating the Federal Dry Laws, through alleged importation of intoxication liquors, from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, were to-day acquitted by court martial in the Navy Yard. Seven bottles of alleged liquor figured in the case of Miss Anderson and four bottles in the case of Miss Clancy. It took the Court less than twenty minutes to acquit Miss Anderson and less than half of that to acquit Miss Clancy.

TRAIN COLLISION IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 18. Thirty persons were injured but none were killed, when two elevated trains of the Jerome Avenue Line clashed near Yankee Stadium, last night.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN NEW JERSEY.

BAYONNE, N.J., June 18. Damage estimated at $7,500,000 was caused yesterday, when a fire swept through a lumber yard at 50th Street and Avenue E, jumped across the street to a plumber's shop store house, and spread through ten frame buildings in its path.

STIRRING UP FURTHER TROUBLE BRITISH.

PEKING, June 18. Thousands of posters have appeared in Peking depicting British policemen shooting and bayoneting students, women, and children with their bodies lying about the ground. Native accounts of the McKenzie incident says the British Consul ordered the doctor who attended him to mutilate the body in an effort to throw the blame on the Chinese. Troops are picketing the streets. Students continue to bombard the Government with fantastic demands urging forcible occupation of the Legation quarters, despoiling of

THE EFFECT OF THE DAWES PLAN.

BERLIN, June 18. Substitution of confidence and conciliation for distrust and discord has been the outstanding accomplishment of the experts' reparations programme known as the Dawes plan, in the opinion of S. Parker Gilbert, Agent General for Reparations. Two essentially preliminary objects of the programme, balancing the German Budget and the stabilization of German currency have been realized, says Gilbert.
