Harbor Grace Notes

The members of the United Church Sunday School held their annual Rally at the school on Sunday last at Coughlin's Hall, which was considered a very successful affair. The weather was all that could be desired and the spacious hall was filled, there being a large number of the scholars, parents and friends. Rev. H. S. E. Strothard, Field Secretary Religious Education for Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, was a special visitor on this occasion. An excellent programme was presented through, at the close of which Mr. Strothard addressed the Sunday school and congratulated the Supt., Rev. Frank and the Officers, Teachers and children on the splendid programme rendered. The offering was then taken and a very helpful and uplifting service was brought to a close by the singing of the Hymn:

Jesus calls us o'er the tumult
Of our life His sweet voice soundeth
Saying, "Christian, follow me."

Rev. Strothard occupied the pulpit at the United Church on Sunday morning and delivered a very forceful sermon. The congregation was quite large. It was the Rev. gentleman's first visit here, and he was greatly impressed with the historic town of Harbor Grace. He motored to Carleton Place on Sunday afternoon and occupied the pulpit of the United Church there for the evening service.

Some fifteen or so friends of Miss Vera Elsworth gave her a very pleasant surprise on Thursday night when they gathered at her home on Wood Street and tendered her a miscellaneous shower. Miss Elsworth, who had been for some time capable and efficient member of the staff of Nurses at the Mental Asylum, St. John's, resigned her position there about two months ago, and is to be married in the near future. In a few brief words Miss Elsworth thanked the gathering for this expression of their kindness and goodwill. Games were indulged in and a most pleasant evening spent by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Parsons and their children, Frances and Jack, left on Tuesday last week on their way to Boston, where they will probably make their home for the future. For members of the family are already residing there and have made good. The good wishes of their many friends will follow them to the land of Uncle Sam.

Mr. R. K. Kennedy (Jr.), who has been attached to the Western Union Cable Co. at New York for the past two years or more, has recently been transferred to their office at Heart's Content and arrived here on Thursday last.

Mrs. Eugene Adams and two daughters, Doris and Lavin, leave here on Monday en route to Detroit, Mich., U.S.A., where they purpose making their home in the future. Five members of the family have been residing there for the past two years or so. We trust that they will meet with good fortune in their adopted home.

Dr. W. S. Goodwin and assistant, Mr. William Stevenson who have been North for some weeks past on a professional visit, returned to town again on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Harold Jerrett and infant son left by Monday afternoon's train for Clarke's Beach to spend a brief time with relatives, and purposes leaving there for Corner Brook on Tuesday, where she will join her husband. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. S. Parsons, who will spend the winter at Corner Brook.

There was a parade of the 1st Harbor Grace Boy Scouts, the 1st Harbor Grace Company of Girl Guides and the Brownie Pack on Wednesday, Armistice Day. The parade commenced at 10 o'clock from the Scout Headquarters, Bannerman Street they put up a fine showing, and were favourably commented on by our citizens.

Schr. "Annie L. Warren." Capt. E. Vallis, which ship was here for dockage is at present awaiting the arrival of the tug, when she will be towed to St. John's.

The ladies of Christ Church held their annual Sale of Work on Wednesday night last which proved quite a success. The affair was well patronized and we understand that something over two hundred dollars was realized as a result of their efforts.

Mrs. Hugh Buchanan, of Boston, Mass., who has been for several weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. James Wells, at Bristol's Hope and other relatives, returns to her home again on Saturday after a very pleasant visit.

CONFEDERATION LIFE. — aug 17 3mos

"Look, bunny boy," cried Lady Love, pointing to the milkweed and thistles which grew thick in the hedge, as she and Little Jack Rabbit hopped down the road to Rabbitville. "Billy Breeze is scattering his gossamer, fairy-like seeds everywhere."

Sure enough, that merry little wind was sowing seeds by the wayside, and even further. He knew that they descended on him to scattered their air-bags laden with seeds here and there and everywhere. Yes, sir, Billy Breeze plants many a seed for the mother plant.

"See how faded are the yellow banners on the goldenrod," went on the learned lady rabbit. "Jack Frost has touched them all with his chilly fingers. And the maples yonder, see how dead are their leaves against the background of darkly massed pines and hemlocks."

"I love the autumn," laughed the little rabbit, with a hop, skip and jump to one side. "Here are some little sour fox-grapes. Jack Frost has made them sweet," he added, tasting two of the tiny grapes that grew in the hedge-row.

"Won't Squirrel Nutcracker have a nut time gathering nuts," said Lady Love. "On our way back we will take the Winding Trail through the Shady Forest. Maybe we'll meet Chippy Chipmunk. He'll be busy, too, storing away his winter food. He's a careful little fellow. Many a kernel of yellow corn stows away in his little storehouse under ground."

Pretty soon the two little bunnies came to the old log that served as a bridge across the Rabbling Brook. Over they went, hip-hip-hop, chipp-chip to the Pleasant Pasture, where the short thick grass was powdered evenly with the hoar frost, for it was early in the morning. Oh very early indeed, and Mr. Happy Sun was very early out of bed. In fact, he had just stepped off his purple coverlet and his yellow nightcap.

Then past the cornfield, where the withered brown shocks of corn stood like rusty tents all a-sparkle with the drops of frozen dew. Here and there gleamed the great golden pumpkins in their frosty lacelike covering.

"Professor Jim Crow told me yesterday all about hoar frost," shouted the little rabbit. "Mother, it's the water in the air which, when the thermometer says 32 degrees and lower, freezes and covers the grass and plants. I remember that."

"So you do," smiled Lady Love, pinching her little rabbit's ear, but very gently, of course. Yes, indeedy. "But, let us hurry. We'll never reach Rabbitville!"

"What's your hurry, cooled a pretty Turtle Dove."

The Three-in-One Cent Store if we linger longer Lucy," and away hopped the little lady rabbit, faster than ever, her bonnet strings flying out behind her in the wind.

"What's your hurry, Lady Love?" Cooled a pretty Turtle Dove.

"I must do some shopping in Rabbitville," answered the little rabbit's mother. "And as Cousin Cottenfall is coming over for luncheon, I must get home in time." And in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

Mammoth Production at The Nickel Monday

STORY OF LOVE AND HATE TENSE WITH EMOTION.

"Without Mercy" the George Melford Production presented by Metropolitan Pictures, Inc., which appears on the screen at the Nickel Theatre Monday, is a story of two women, mother and daughter, who have both fallen into clutches of the same man.

The mother, who learned her lesson and luckily escaped him twenty years back, is faced with explaining him and his wiles to her susceptible daughter, who is much enamoured with him.

To do this she suffers her life to be bared to the girl, and proves her case with scars she still bears from his hands. But the man's hold is strong on the girl, who loves him and believes in him.

The subsequent decision of the daughter changes many lives, sends one man to prison, and keeps another man from being elected to the English Parliament, before she sees her error. The story vibrates with action, and is tense with the emotions arising from great loves and hates.

In the cast are Dorothy Phillips, Rockell's Fellows, Vera Reynolds, Robert Ames, and Lionel Belmont. The picture is released through Producers Distributing Corporation.

through thick masonry with a pair of scissors, as the two prisoners who escaped from Pentonville did, there are cases on record of even less likely tools being employed for a similar purpose. Five years ago all the convicts confined in Marion County Gaol, Indianapolis (U.S.A.), escaped through one of their number managing to obtain a watchmaker's saw, which was smuggled to him inside the cover of a small book. The bars of the cells were immensely thick and made of specially tempered steel, but this prisoner managed to remove them by wrapping round them a cloth saturated in formaldehyde, the prison disinfectant. The sawing took many days, the marks being hidden by soap.

was caught red-handed at Breda and put in prison, where he was employed in his cell at boxmaking. He managed to cut from his bench a long flat piece of iron, and this he fashioned into a chisel. A metal pin he got by taking off the leg of his table, replacing it with a wooden pin, and imitating the metal part with a piece of brown bread pinched into the proper shape. Armed with pin, chisel, and the leg of the table asallet, he cut away the wood around the lock of his cell door, opened it, and began to grope his way to freedom. Reaching the gaoler's room he found his keys, but presently came to a door which none of the keys would unlock. He went back, found a wife, and with this picked the lock. He reached the exercise yard, only to find that from railings that could not be scaled. Undismayed, he dug over them, taking out a load of which would take a navy a good job back. He wrote on the wall "pleasant night!" Then he vanished.

"AN OBSTINATE INDIGESTION had opened the scene; nervous depression followed; a skin eruption appeared on top of all. General troubles require general remedies; good yeast has a bracing and purifying effect on the whole body; therefore I began taking, scrupulously before each meal, one of the dainty cubes put up by the Fleischmann company. The symptoms of disease disappeared, by one, inversely as they had come; first the erosion, then the depression, lastly the digestive troubles. In a fortnight, I was enjoying life again; still enjoy it better, even now I stick to my three a day." — Christian Mawson, New York City Vigor? Personal? Charm? . . . Read how thousands have found all these — and more — through one simple fresh food.

NOT a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense—Fleischmann Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food.

The millions of ty active yeasts in every cake invigorate the whole system. They aid digestion; clear the skin; banish the poisons of constipation. When cathartics give only temporary relief, yeast strengthens the intestinal muscles and makes them healthy and active. And day by day they release new stores of energy.

Buy several cakes at a time—they will keep fresh in a cool dry place two or three days. All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast. Start eating it today!

And let us send you a free copy of our latest booklet, "Yeast for Health." The Fleischmann Company, P. O. Box E5201, 201 Duckworth St., St. John's, Newfoundland.

EAT TWO OR THREE CAKES A DAY regularly before meals on crackers—in fruit juices or milk—or just plain. For constipated especially, dissolve one cake in hot water (not scalding) before breakfast and at bed-time.

"YEAST HAS SAVED ME from indigestion lasting sixteen years. Sickness or dizziness kept me inactive. Recently attacks increased. I was rarely free from pain more than two or three days. I started eating Fleischmann's Yeast eight months ago. I regret I did not try it ten years ago when a New York specialist recommended it for indigestion to a friend. My trouble has disappeared; I now eat anything. I even went motor camping this summer and climbed to the top of Mt. Washington." — Mrs. W. Boone Lord, Providence, R. I.

"ABOUT SIX MONTHS AGO I suffered considerably from headache—almost daily. I was also nervous. My work as a railroad agent and telegraph operator requires quiet and accurate service. I seemed to be always making mistakes, and was always cranky to my customers as well as to my family (before taking yeast). I had seen about the remarkable results of Fleischmann's Yeast—so I tried it. The result is that I feel as happy as I did on my wedding day. My complexion is fine—and I am enjoying life." — Emil Ekberg, Zooge, S. Dakota

Fleischmann's Yeast is prepared for markets in Nfld.
