Guelph, August 1st, 1874.

To the Public.

I take this opportunity to let my old friends and customers know that early this Fall I intend opening up one of the most extensive and varied stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods to be seen in Ontario. I have had erected for my own special retail business a most complete arranged store, and from my long experience in the mercantile business, I feel and know that I will present for the inspection of my old patrons and others not only the most choice selection of Fancy Goods, but goods that will in reality be of such a character as to give to the purchaser the most entire satisfaction. The value will form one of the most important features of my establishment; the fact of going direct to the fountain head for my whole stock, and buying all for the ready money, and in addition having no old stock to palm off, is of itself a positive guarantee that my establishment will present inducements to the purchaser that none other in Guelph can approach. I earnestly request my old friends and customers to pay a visit to my establishment, when the old motto that I used for so many years to their advantage will again be adopted, viz: the best goods in the trade at the smallest possible profit. Good goods and Cheap goods. One price and no abatement. No misrepresentations, and the interests of the public doing business with me strenuously watched.

Yours truly,

JOHN HOGG.

Kate Stanton, of Rhode Island, the well-known lecturer, is spending the summer abroad. Here is an extract from one of her letters to a friend:—"On Sunday evening I heard Joseph Arch preach. He seems to me to go down deeper into the real character of Christ and practice his precepts better than any preacher I have ever heard. His sermon was earnest, simple, and full of pure eloquence. His doctrine is humanity and love. 'Never condemn, but convince people of their errors,' is his method of moral discipline. There was a thread of gold running through his discourse. My friend Mrs. Lucas (sister to John Bright) and I were afterwards introduced to him. He gave us a cordial welcome. Surely he is leading the laboring class out of bondage—and is a grand, noble character."

BREAKFAST.—Epps' Cocoa.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labelled—"James Epps & Co.", Homoeopathic Chemists, London." j76-9m

Dr. Manley, of Owen Sound, was seriously injured on Saturday, 16th inst., by his horse falling upon him and which in getting up set his foot upon the lower region of the stomach, causing severe injuries in that part, and possibly rupturing a blood vessel. Good hopes of his recovery, however, are entertained.
