Prof. Dorenwend has for this season many new and pretty designs. He has added a number of New York, London and Paris patterns. Be sure to see them and not forget day and date.

Early on Friday morning last, Mrs. Hamilton Horedeen passed away at her home in Orwell, after an illness extending over several weeks, as the result of a stroke of paralysis. She has been a resident of Aylmer and vicinity for many years, and lived a quiet home life, devoted to the welfare of her husband and family. Those who knew her best, esteemed her most, and her death was a severe blow to many friends. Besides her aged partner in life, she leaves five sons, viz:-Seth, of Wisconsin; Charles, of Chicago; James, of Niagara Falls; Nathaniel, of Aylmer; and Richard, of Cleveland. The funeral took place on Saturday, and remains being followed to the Aylmer cemetery by a large number of friends and relatives.

On Tuesday morning last, one of the oldest and best known, and most highly esteemed citizens of this section, Mr. Benj. Miller, passed away at his home on Dingle St. Some few months ago he had a severe attack of la grippe and the best of medical skill and the most tender nursing, failed to shake off the effects of the disease which finally ended in his death on Tuesday last. Mr. Miller was in his 83rd year, and his whole life has been spent in Malahide. He was born on Talbot St., and in 1845 married Miss Nancy Treadwell with whom he lived till the time of his death, in a beautiful happy Christian home. Their long married life of 55 years was spent on the farm where he died, the front part of the house still remaining as it was when they moved into it, upwards of 33 years ago. Mr. Miller was a faithful member of the Baptist church, and he lived every day the Christian life he professed. Three children also survive him, Mrs. Theodore Martin of Malahide, Mrs. G. R. Christie of Aylmer, and Mrs. Geo. Wilson on the old homestead. Two brothers, Jacob of Malahide, and Jerry of Washington, and four sisters, Mrs. Gates of Houghton Centre, Mrs. Belose, Glen Meyer, Mrs. Van Natter of Arkona, and Mrs. Wells of Port Stanley survive him. The funeral takes place from his late residence on Friday at 2 p. m. Interment in Aylmer cemetery.

Advertiser has two first-class bicycles, lady's and gent's, which he doesn't want, but he does want a horse and buggy. Will exchange, and pay difference, or will deal one wheel for a good horse for value. Enquire at this office.

The Michigan Sugar Beet, a periodical published in the interest of the beet sugar, says: A sugar factory in a community means a demand for farm labor. It is a profitable industry for the farmer and a big help to the interests of the city. It means that a 500 ton factory will pay to farmers for beets each year $300,000. There is five times the money in raising sugar beets than any other crop.

Sporting goods at Caughill's.

On another page will be found an interesting letter received on Monday last from Mrs. Messmore in India, acknowledging the receipt of part of the money sent from here for the relief of the famine sufferers, and also an appeal from Lillian E. Marks sent to Mrs. Messmore, and answered by sending part of the money contributed from Aylmer. The reading of these letters will convince all that their money was never spent to better advantage. The story of death and suffering told by Miss Marks fairly makes one's blood run cold. We cannot realize its awful meaning here; if we did, there would be many a luxury given up this summer, and the money would be used to keep these poor people from starving.

Roller window blinds at Caughill's.

A general round up of traps is being being made throughout Ontario at the present time, and all such people must get out of the country, or spend the summer months breaking stone. Most of them prefer to get out.

There was no foundation whatever for the report which was going the rounds last week, that one of the "Hare boys" had been killed in South Africa, and we do not see how such a report could have been started.

John McDowell Jr, who left here a number of years ago with his father, and has since been residing in Milwaukee, has been appointed captain in the 1st Wisconsin National Guard. John served in the American Army during the late Cuban war.

The celebrated champion hackney mare Miss Baker, and her daughter Stella, owned by Messrs D. & O. Sowerby of Guelph, were shipped a few days ago to the East Elgin Horse breeders Association, and are now here, and also a fine pair of mares owned by Malbon Wilson of Delhi. Jubilee Chief has a great record all over the country.

"Murray Place" the handsome residence of Mr. A. Murray, had a close call from destruction by fire on Thursday evening last. A large lamp was accidentally knocked over during the evening, and the oil of which ran over the floor immediately took fire, causing quite an excitement for a short time. The burning oil ran under the base board, and the fire worked up between the partition. It was finally put out with a great deal of damage being done.

You can save about 25c. on every dollar at A. & R. Atkinson's.

The officers of the East Elgin Union Sunday School Association, have arranged with Mr. Yellowlees, the assistant general secretary of the association of the province, and with the pastors in town, to hold services her on Sunday, June 3rd. He will take the pulpit of the Methodist church at the morning service, and in the afternoon at 3.45 will address a mass meeting of the Sunday schools here in the Baptist church. Each superintendent is requested to shorten the session of his school that the mass meeting may be commenced on time. Other speakers will give addresses. A collection will be taken up at this service to defray expenses. In the evening Mr. Yellowlees will conduct the service in the Presbyterian church, and on Monday, June 4th, will go to Sparta to attend the annual convention of the East Elgin S. S. association.

Our lace, silk and tapestry curtains, are best and cheapest. A. J. Anderson.

Mr. J. C. Pankhurst has recovered from his recent illness, and has located in Toronto, having secured the position of Canadian manager for the Caxton Type Foundry of London, England.

Mr. Randal Learn was in town on Thursday last, looking for a man named Haight to whom he had hired a horse and rig a day or two previously. He found the horse in Tilsonburg where Haight had traded it for another one. A warrant is out for the arrest of Haight.

Mr. Chas. Howarth who has held a position in Mr. A. Leslie's private bank for some time, has secured a good position with the Union Bank, and has been sent to their branch office at Merrickville. He left last week, followed by the best wishes of many friends for his future success. Charley is thoroughly reliable and honest and should succeed.

A larger number of members of the L. O. L. of this place, drove down to the home of Mr. J. Evans on Monday evening last, and gave him a pleasant surprise. The evening was spent in social intercourse, songs, instrumental music, etc., and everyone had a good time. A splendid supper was provided, and the evening will be long remembered by all.

The fight over the local option question in Springfield was a close and hot one, and ended on Tuesday last, the law being carried by a majority of 9. The vote stood 68 for and 59 against it. Out of 133 possible votes, 127 were polled, and three of those who did not vote were sick in bed. The law will not come into force until May 1901.

The members of the S. O. E. lodge attended divine services at Trinity church last Sunday evening, and listened to an appropriate address from Rev. Bro. Andrews. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the music was first class and the service generally most interesting and instructive. The S. O. E. is one of the strongest lodges in Aylmer, and the members made a fine appearance as they marched to the church.

Miss Margareta Saywell of St. Thomas will visit Aylmer next Saturday, May 26, and organize a class in elocution and physical culture. A class in physical culture will be formed for children under fifteen years of age. Special attention will be given in this class to correct breathing, standing, walking etc. Miss Saywell is an honor graduate of the Boston School of Oratory, and a pupil of the Chautauqua school of expression. She has had several years' experience in teaching and is well qualified to give instruction in the above subjects. In room above Richards' drug store.

Just about noon on Thursday last, the engine at the shoe factory got going wrong, and the result was the breaking of the heavy iron bed, before it could be shut down. Manager Pollock never believes in being stuck, and said the factory must be running in some way the next morning. With the assistance of Mr. H. Sheldon of the Aylmer Iron Works, and Mr. J. L. Millard of the Electric Light Co., a traction engine was secured, placed on the outside of the building and securely braced, a steam pipe was run from the boiler direct to the engine, the pulleys shifted, and every thing was ready to start work at 7 a. m. on Friday.

The London Conference will meet this year in St. Marys, opening on Thursday June 7th. The principal interest to Aylmer people this year will be in connection with the election of President of the Conference, and we all want to see the Rev. Jas. Livingstone elected to the position. There will be no change in the pastor of the church here this year, and the Rev. C. T. Scott will enter upon his 3rd year in Aylmer with best wishes of the whole church, and also of the citizens in general. Mr. Scott has proved himself to be one of the very strongest men in the pulpit that Aylmer has ever known, and personally, both he and Mrs. Scott are loved by all who know them.

No cigar as good as London.

The annual district meeting in connection with the Methodist church, was held in Springfield on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Mr. E. McCausland was the representative from the Aylmer church.

Lemen Bros.' circus, the greatest on earth, does not take in such small places as London, Hamilton and Toronto. Nothing smaller than St. Thomas, Tilsonburg and Simcoe. Moral, spend your money in Aylmer on the 24th and you will get better value than by going to the circus.

Rachael Grace, one of the oldest and most esteemed residents of South Dorchester, passed away at her home on Thursday last, in her 79th year. Services were held at the Lyons Methodist church, of which she had been a faithful member for many years. Interment took place in the Dorchester cemetery.

Mrs. F. Hutchison who is well along in her 96th year has been failing very fast for the past couple of months, and now lies in a semi-conscious condition at the home of her son, Mr. Lewis Hutchison, south of town. She may rally again for a few days, but at the most, the close of a long and eventful life is drawing near.

The correspondent of the Montreal Star in South Africa, makes the following reference to our two Aylmer boys in D. Battery. "It is a common thing in the artillery to have two brothers driving-that is riding the gun horses-in one gun detachment. In fact, it is a combination much encouraged because they usually work well together from mutual interest. But the Ottawa section of D. Battery, has a novelty, father and son driving in the same gun detachment. Driver Hare, sr., rides the lead of No. 6, and his son a mere lad, though tall for his age, ride the centre. And there are not two more reliable drivers in the battery or service."

From South Africa.

ANOTHER INTERESTING LETTER.

In a letter to his brother Hugh, Vienna, dated March 26th, Hiram Burgar says:

No doubt you are getting some interesting news of the war about now. A little change to what it was when you wrote over a month ago. Well, you see, as soon as the Canucks got started the Boers knew it was all up with them. In fact, they are afraid of us, we are such crack shots (so a Cape Town paper says). One thing is certain, the Boers can pump lead to a finish. They have the best of rifles and plenty of ammunition, but they use those explosive bullets. Some of our poor lads found out what they were. One especially of our company, who had the whole back of his head blown off. They are most pleasant things to hear whistling past your head, about one thousand a second more or less. I will give you a little instance of the Boers dirty work on the day we had the scrap with them. About ten o'clock at night I found myself within a hundred yards of the first Boer trenches. This was after the charge, and things had quieted down except the occasional crash of a mauler from the Boer sharpshooters, who still held their position. I heard the call to rally, so I started back. Had gone only a few yards when I heard some one moaning. I, of course went in the direction of the sounds, and found a Toronto fellow lying on the ground with five bullet holes through him. He was nearly exhausted from loss of blood. He asked me for a drink, so I gave him my bottle. Just then the surgeon of the hospital came up, and together we tried to carry him out of range of any stray shots. But no sooner had we started than a storm of bullets opened on us. So thick and fast and close were they coming we had to drop flat on the ground, and crawl away in the darkness. I never felt so mean in my life as when I had to leave the poor fellow there alone. I at once told the searching party, they tried to get him, but were treated in the same way, so he was left there until four in the morning, when he was removed in safety to the Field hospital. Doesn't that show you what kind of men they are? Men who will lie even on the wounded as they are being carried from the field. I knew young Facey well. He was in our Company, and a very nice young fellow here was. Rather hard to come away out here to die. But he is not the only one. I know a shadowy spot where more of Canada's boys are lying. Their graves were well looked after before we left Paardeberg, and they will sleep just as peacefully there as in a Canadian cemetery. I am getting the Express quite regularly now. It seems like a bit of home to glance down its familiar columns.
