Vancouver, May 11.-It is reported hat the train-robbers are surrounded the woods near Campbell Creek. their capture is certain. Their orses were found by the pursunig olice and Indians outside the trackess, wooded area, in which they must lost miserably, or from which thev ill emerge shortly. Every avenue of scape is closed. A force of nearly 100 men are guarding all lines of egress. Sheriff Woods found the deserted camp of the robbers and evidence that they ere traveling south with three sadle horses and one pack horse. With en men behind him he galloped on. expecting to reach Wednesday night's amp of the fugitives. Later word was received that they had them cornered and requesting more men. Any hour may now bring news of their capture, although it is not impossible without a prelude of a bloody fight, both malefactors and pursuers being heavily armed. The former are practically in & cul-de-sac.

Ald. Wyatt Compelled to Make Way for Ald. Garratt.

Ald. Garratt got "even" just a little bit with Ald. Wyatt at the meeting of the board of works last night.

Ald. Wyatt had been named by Ald. Gerry to act as chairman during the absence of the latter, who is ill, and Ald. Garratt took advantage of the occasion to show Ald. Wyatt where he Ald. Wyatt arrived a few minutes before Ald. Carratt, and he took his place at the head of the table to act as chairman. When the meeting opened, Ald. Wyatt explained that he had been appointed chairman, but Secretary Bell pointed out that a chairman, in case of the absence of the regular occupant of the chair, must be appointed.

Ald. Saunders then moved that Ald Garratt take the chair, but Ald. Wyatt refused to vacate. He held the chairmanship for ten minutes, during which no business was done. Then the mayor arrived, and Ald. Wyatt appealed to his worship to give a decision on the point. The mayor sent for the rules, and he declared the secretary was right and that in order to conduct the city's business in a legal manner a chairman would have to be elected.

Ald. Wyatt then left the chair, and Ald. Garratt, with great solemnity, marched to the head of the table and presided at the meeting.

JOINS THE FORTY-THIRD

Ir. Charles Ward Leaves Seventh Regiment Band for Ottawa.

The Seventh band has lost one of its most valued members in Mr. Charles Ward, who has removed to Ottawa, where he has secured a good position. Mr. Ward goes to join the Fortythird Regiment Band, of which Mr William Hiscott is the bandmaster. H is known as one of the best corner players in Canada, and his loss will be a severe blow to the Seventh. "It seems a great pity," said a member of the regiment to The Advertiser today, "that musicians of the shamp of Mr. Ward cannot be kept in London. Surely London could do as much for a musician as Ottawa."
