

CANADIAN WOUNDED FOUND BAYONETED BY THE ENEMY

Revenge Taken By Comrades Was Swift and Sure—All
Conventional Rules Broken, Says a London Correspondent.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

LONDON, Eng., April 26.—Harold Ashton, writing from "Northern France" to The Daily News says that everywhere in Pas De Calais praises for the gallant Canadians are being sung. Tried in a crucible of intense heat they have not been found wanting.

Wounded who came down to the base today, and there are many hundreds of them, were in high spirits though many of them will assuredly never fight again. They respect the German as a fighting machine, pure and simple, but over his humanity they just shrug their shoulders expressively. They tell how in the great Steenstraete fight they had to retire for a spell during the thick of the tumult, leaving their wounded there. Presently they returned, the Germans having been hurled back under a tornado of machine gun fire. They found all their wounded comrades bayoneted to death. Their revenge for this was swift and terrible at point of their own bayonets; they only took two German prisoners alive.

BROKE ALL CONVENTION.

The Canadians broke all the conventional rules of warfare in their amazing operations. They found the Germans wheeling all around them both behind and in front of their trench. Instantly they adapted themselves to the situation and fitted up a double-ended trench to meet the trouble. They were surrounded, enfiladed and hemmed in on all sides, but it did not avail the enemy. Yelling their warcry, they rallied and fought back to back with infinite courage and dash, giving the Germans behind them as well as those in front of them most terrible punishment.

IMPOSSIBLE TO UNDERSTAND HOW THE CANADIANS SURVIVED

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

LONDON, April 27.—A Northern Exchange Telegraph message received this morning in London, says that Sir John French's troops are filled with anger at the gas episode, personal anger that affects every soldier. "After that gas business, I believe the Germans did massacre Belgians," said a Canadian victim in the field hospital. The enemy threw vast quantities of poison into the air. The fumes were blown against both French and Canadian trenches, and their effect was felt a mile and a half behind. The German soldiers rushed into the fumes un-harmd. At last, a number of German prisoners were captured who had wads of cotton in their pockets. They said that they had been told to put this cotton in their noses when they charged after the gas guns fired. The sky tonight is alight with incendiary shells and with flashes of white trench flares. The Canadians are receiving the unstinted praise of the field marshal for their part in the battle. "The Canadians," concluded the writer, "have gained a lasting place in the annals of Britain during the past two days. It is impossible to understand how they survived under the terrific shelling."

CANADIANS HAVE DARE IN RESERVE

Given Rest After Struggle—
Praise Still Pours On Them.

[Canadian Press.]

OTTAWA, April 26.—The Canadian division was in reserve today, according to a dispatch received by the Minister of Militia from Col. J. J. Carrick, M.P., of General Alderson's staff. Col. Carrick wired: "Canadians covered themselves with glory. Their heroism most highly appreciated at headquarters. In reserve today."

The list of casualties which continues to come from the front gives additional evidence of the fierce character of the fighting north of Ypres. That the 15th Battalion was also in action is evidenced by the names of several officers of this corps, which came through tonight.

Messages of a congratulatory nature continue to pour in to the Government, and a wave of intense patriotism is evidently sweeping the country. Sir George Parley, acting high commissioner for Canada in London, cabled: "All London is praising the conspicuous gallantry of the troops."

Hon. Lewis Harcourt, secretary of state for the colonies, says: "Britain is proud of her Canadian brothers." The Prime Minister answered: "I am most grateful for your message, which will be deeply appreciated by the people of the Dominion."

Tribute from Washington. General James Drain, of Washington, D.C., wired the Minister of Militia: "I sincerely regret the terrible losses, but glory in the magnificent showing of the Canadians."

Colonel H. H. McLean, M.P., of St. John, N.B., who is designated to command the eastern province brigade in the next contingent, issues a stirring call for 100,000 men. He wired the Minister of Militia: "We mourn with grief our gallant comrades who died fighting for the empire and right. 'Are we downhearted?' Let our answer be 100,000 men in the fighting line, and 60,000 in reserve. Congratulations to you on the great work you are doing for Canada."

Major Scobell, in command of the frontier guard Niagara Falls, wired: "Am ready to go to the front to fill the gap."

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, bart. of Vancouver, B.C., and evidence of sympathy in the death of his son-in-law, and wounding of his son, says: "If death had to call Merritt this (son-in-law) he would have chosen it in defence of his country. Canada in its sorrow is consoled by the bravery of her soldiers. Regret (son) cables from Boulogne slightly wounded."

CANADIANS DRIVE ENEMY FROM WOODS AGAINST GREAT ODDS

Go 48 Hours Without Food, and Make Prussian Guards
Run Like Cowards.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

LONDON, April 26.—The following appears in tonight's Evening News as from a Canadian who took part in the recent engagement:

"After the breaking of the line on our left, we received orders to stand by the side of the canal, then we had orders to proceed immediately to North Ypres. We set off without any food or water, nothing except wet equipment, each taking 400 rounds of ammunition. We waited at this point from early dawn until nearly midnight, when two battalions received a signal to break through and charge the enemy, 500 yards away. We were at once mown down like sheep by the enemy's artillery. Some 2,500 of us had attacked the wood where there were 7,000 Germans, the place being full of machine guns. We drove them from the trenches in front of the wood, went right through about 500 yards to the other side, then we got surrounded and had to retire to the trenches which we had taken. Here we dug ourselves in, remaining until Friday morning, the enemy shelling us all the time with shrapnel. Then we had to file out Saturday morning to make room for reinforcements. In our advance we were enfiladed with heavy fire on both sides, but in spite of this we moved forward and recovered three howitzers which the French had left behind in the wood. These we took up and then succeeded in recapturing our own four 47 guns which the enemy had taken."

German Officer Suicide. At this point we surrounded sixty Germans and bayoneted 45. One officer just in front of me blew out his brains. We could not estimate the number of Germans slain, but saw their searchlights at work during the whole night through, looking for the dead. It was certainly a terrible time, the most awful time I have ever known. They seem to have enfiladed us completely at the beginning, but we got them on the run. We had the Prussian Guard in front of us, and they ran like cowards.

The Germans didn't mind where they fired. They were continuously shelling dressing stations showing Red Cross flags. They certainly planned the attack most carefully, having a machine gun pointing at the mouth of almost every trench. We all lost everything we had. We were in fact, 48 hours without food; some of the men 72 hours. We lost most of our officers. The dressing stations are full of wounded, but it was fine to see, as I came down, troops going up to hold the position we had won—Indian Lancers, French Lancers and heaps of British troops.

The German advance was from the position represented by the dotted line to that represented by the heavy curved line. Much of the lost territory is said to have been regained, however.

Major Scobell, in command of the frontier guard Niagara Falls, wired: "Am ready to go to the front to fill the gap."

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, bart. of Vancouver, B.C., and evidence of sympathy in the death of his son-in-law, and wounding of his son, says: "If death had to call Merritt this (son-in-law) he would have chosen it in defence of his country. Canada in its sorrow is consoled by the bravery of her soldiers. Regret (son) cables from Boulogne slightly wounded."

Kidney Disease Cured Sworn Statement

Of Mr. Wesley Maxwell, Who Gratefully Gives All Credit to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is one thing to make big claims for a medicine and quite another thing to produce irrefutable evidence that it actually cures in serious cases.

We prefer to let the cured ones speak for themselves, and that is why you find in almost every newspaper the report of someone who has been cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I must tell you that before I started using them I could only make water with the greatest difficulty, and had very severe pains in the back. I am completely cured now by the use of these pills. Before that I used a lot of doctors' medicine without any benefit that I could see. I am thankful for being cured, and can recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills very highly.

SWORN STATEMENT. "This is to certify that I, Wesley Maxwell, of the Township of Caledon was cured of kidney trouble by taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

(Sworn before me as correct the 6th day of January, 1915.—Wm. Hawkins, Sen. Justice of the Peace.)

This statement is also indorsed by the Rev. Geo. W. Robinson, who is Mr. Maxwell's pastor. This cure will interest a great many people who are suffering as Mr. Maxwell was with kidney and urinary troubles. It will only cost you a quarter to buy a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and put this medicine to the test. We are sure that you will be thankful to the writer for describing his cure to you. For sale at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

SELECT MEDICINE CAREFULLY

Purgatives are dangerous. They gripe, cause burning pains and make the constipated condition worse. Physicians say the most ideal laxative is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Man-drake and Butternut; they are exceedingly mild, composed only of health-giving vegetable extracts. Dr. Hamilton's Pills restore activity to the bowels, strengthen the stomach, and purify the blood. For constipation, sick headache, biliousness and disordered digestion no medicine on earth makes such remarkable cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Try a 50 box yourself.

GERMANS HAVE NOT THE 30 FRENCH GUNS

LONDON, April 27.—2:39 a.m.—A correspondent of the Daily Mail in Northern France says:

"The 30 French guns which the Germans claim to have captured north of Ypres are not in German hands. Although the French were forced to abandon them. The guns were forced to be abandoned in the marsh land with their wheels half covered with water. At present they are in 'no man's land' between the rival forces. The French keep up a perpetual hail of artillery fire around the guns to prevent the Germans from getting near them."
