LONDON, Nov 11-Lord Stanley opened his Parliamentary canvass in the borough of King's Lynn, with a speech to his constituents. After reviewing and defending the policy of the Ministry, he proceeded to consider the state of Europe. The mutual jealousies and overgrown armies of France and Prussia were sources of uneasiness; but he believed if the peace were maintained, France would become reconciled to the Union of Germany. He feared that Turkey was in danger from internal causes. Returning to the question which agitated England, he declared himself in favor of reform, but was opposed to the disestablishment of the Irish Church. In the course of his address he announced that the differences with the United States were nearly settled, that the arrange-ments made wanted only the ratification of the Government at Washington.

PARIS, Nov 13 -- At the Council of Ministers held at the Tuilleries, proof waf adduced of the existence of a conspiracy to overthrow the existing order of affairs in France. Resolutions were adopted providing for the use of the most vigorous measures for its suppression.

THE LAST FASHIONABLE DEFORMITY.

The Saratoga correspondent of the N Y World gives an outspoken account of this about and unnatural fashion. It would however be considered too plain spoken for Colonial taste, so we content ourselves with the Tribure's milder letter.

This very extreme of the present Paris toilette prevails at Saratoga to-day, or rather an imitation which might be called a burllesque or extravaganza of an antique style. Not a bell or swell hoop is to be found where once an army of them was in motion. The chigaon is worn on top of the head, with two switches inserted in the hair about thirty degrees below the local of the contraction. thirty degrees below the key of the arch on each side of the centre, which forms pendants like the horns of a goat, or, to be more precise, like those of a chamors.

The dress has a medium waist adapted to a hoop comewhat of the chape of a barrel, large at the centre and small at each god, with a backward swell to assist in forming the train. A large bustle or 'pamier,' is worn at the top of the hoop, upon which is bark Caroline Read, Port Madison; bark gathered up five or six yards of material in Kutusoff, Berlingham Bay; schooner Thomas Woodward, Sitka.

Across the lower hips, below this 'pannier,' a band extends. extraordinary toilette known in the realms of fashion for the last 500 years. It may be remembered as a historic fact that a change of fashion changes the whole tone of a person's manner. The stately, patronizin airs assumed by our belies a short time ago, when dressed in the ample dowager, skirts then in vogue, would hardly be becoming the wearer of the fashionable garb of the day; But what shalf I say of Hombourg life? How can I describe the women, the gambling saloons, the manuers and customs of their saloons, the manders and customs of their frequenters, among whom I recognize many American ladies? The toilets are hideons—women positively devilish. I wonder, as I ook at them, if they are really flesh and blood, and have sools, or if, after all, Mahomet was not partly right. Women of seventy years, or thereabouts, paint fearfully and adorn (?) themselves with flowers, laces, jewels, false hair, beads, and gowgawa enough to satisfy the taste of an Indian squaw. Mrs McDonald and the children merely tasted, and were afterwards taken violently ill. It afterwards transpired that Jacobsou had attempted to poison the entire family, but owing to the small quantity which each drank, they escaped death. Foiled in this attempt, he returned to the house at one o'clock in the morning, effecting an chrance through the window. Admittance to the literary banquet was to cost but one dollar. For reading, reciting and cooking, Alexander Dumas was to receive 25,000 france a month, besides a share in the profits. The execution of the contract, nowever, has been postponed by mutual con-sent in view of the Presidental election, which, by diverting public attention, might, it was thought, interfere with the success of the enterprise. Accordingly the departure of M Dumas for the United States has been postponed until next year.—Pall Mail Gazette Sept. 19.
