(From Friday's Daily) (From Friday's Daily)

With all the pomp and circumstance, that tradition makes imperative upon great occasions, the third session of the eleventh Legislature of British Columbia was formally opened by Lieutenant-Governor James Dunsmuir. The usual "Speech from the Throne," the message intended to outline the legislation that is to come before the House, was very brief. It was a recital of past events, with an exceedingly small mixture of prophecy. Reference was made to the Fernie fire, the Quebec Tercentenary, the death of Reference was made to the Fernie fire, the Quebec Tercentenary, the death of Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere, and the success of the British Columbia fruit exhibits at the exhibitions in Great Britain: Practically the only mention Britain. Practically the only mention of future legislation was in the clauses regarding a bill for "the more effectual and equitable distribution of water" in connection with the expanding fruitgrowing industry, and that relating to the projected civil service pension bill. The initial sitting of the Legislature was this year, as customary, almost purely formal, and immediately after the opening ceremonies adjournment the opening ceremonies adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The usual motions regarding the election of members by illegal practices, etc., were adopted. Hon. Against the backgrounds of this the rich gowns of the lady guests gave new color and light, while the sombre black of the members grouped in the centre of the room added the quality of legislative dignity. In the well-filled galleries the color effects were repeated. To the left of the Speaker the little group of official visitors, some of them in picturesque uniform, made another, interesting detail. The Japanese Consul was present in the uniform of the diplomatic corps, with all his decorations. His Lordship the Bishop of Columbia wore the red hood and bands of the Doctor of Divinity. Among the other guests in this group were Father Brabant, Mr. Abraham Smith, United States Consul, Carl Lowenberg, the German Consul, Senator Meddonald and others.

The Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:
It affords me much pleasure, in meeting you at the opening of another session, to be able to congratulate you upon the prosperity which has prevailed throughout the province during the past year, and the indications of continual progress which are manifest on every hand.

The almost complete destruction of the war minister can, if he likes, exercise it with regard to all the other forme under army corps in Austria-Hungary, and increase the total number of men under arms by 108,000, that is, a third of the peace strength—as most of the men serve three years.
