eceived by Dr. Fiset from Louis Riel, dated Regina jail, June 16. After thanking the committee for the active part they are taking for his defence, Riel says he never expressed the wish to have his trial at Prince Albert and it never was spoken of to him. After speaking of his ready surrender his chance to escape if he wished and the pacific effect it had upon bringing the rebellion to a close, he says it should have some weight in securing his trial before the supreme court and in Lower Canada, for it is there alone he can procure all his witnesses. He states he was in the United States laboring to create a future for himself when he was invited among the halfbreeds to assist them in petitioning the government, and he worked peacefully till the time arms were taken up. sident to tie his horse in front of the capitol without leaving a boy to watch him, we still retained a childlike faith in the arcadian manners and customs of our Canadian neighbors. Now we must abandon even that. It had already been shown that the devices by which funds appropriated to the Indiana are intercepted were as fully understood in Canada as in this country. Now comes from London the annual report of the Canada Northwest Land company, from which it appears that that company has sold lands during the year for £4059, which would have realized a profit of £1610 but for the item of "directors' fees and salaries," which amounts to £6694, or about half as much again as the lands brought. Lest it might be supposed that the sophisticated London directors had made away with this amount it is expressly set forth that £3,617 went for directors' fees in Canada. The question how the deficit in their emoluments is to be made up should, and doubtless will, engage the early and earnest attention of the directors.

But Her Debentures Sell at Much Less Than They are Worth.

No one who is versed in such matters has ever questioned the financial credit of the city of Toronto, yet it is a fact that through mismanagement or otherwise her debentures are put on the market at a much lower price than they should be. This subject engaged the attention of the city executive committee yesterday after noon. Ald. Defoe, the chairman, said there was no reason why the city debentures who were not command as high a price as the dominion securities, which were generally disposed of at par or at a premium. Ald. Pepler hinted that our debentures were never put on the market in a proper shape. Ald. Elliott avowed the reason to be that as our debt increased money lenders were not so easily induced to pay good prices for our securities. Ald. Defoe maintained that the credit of the city was as sound as it ever was. A committee consisting of Ald. Defoe, Adamson, and Pepler and the city chamberlain was appointed to make a report on the matter.

No sooner had Chairman Roden taken his place than a gentleman on the front seat whispered to him: "Where's the hat, Roden?" gave evidence of a great deal of careful practice, and was very well rendered. Mr. Roden followed with a speech which elioited such applause from time to time as to shake the dust from the rafter. After thanking the audience for their attendance and alluding to the pride he took in his position, be went on to say that articles had several lines appeared in the press to the effect that the present school board was not composed of men capable of fulfilling the duties allotted to them. This statement he wished emphatically to contradict and declared that no finer body of men as the present school board ever existed.
