

THE SALOON MUST GO.

THE saloon must go, or law will go.

THE saloon lives by law, and by law it must die.

VICE is to be prohibited, let the difficulties in executing the law be what they may.—Lord Chesterfield.

THE saloon is the high-school of high crimes and misdemeanors.

THE school-room is ennobling; the bar-room is ignobling.

NOTHING noble is born of the liquor traffic.—John G. Holland.

PULVERIZE the rum power and you empty prisons and police-stations.

UNDER the malign influence of the saloon in municipal affairs demagogues leap into power, and subordinate public good to the management of the criminal classes.

SALOON-RULE in large cities is making government a farce and a failure.

AS THE saloon in politics outlaws moral men, will not moral men outlaw the saloon?

THE CASE STATED.—The argument for No License may be concisely stated in four propositions:

1. The business interests of our country demand the suppression of their worst foe—the saloon.
2. The interests of Canadian homes demand the suppression of their worst foe—the saloon.
3. The political liberty of our country demands the suppression of its worst foe—the saloon.
4. The conscience of the country demands that the attitude of government toward the foe of business, home, and liberty should be one of uncompromising hostility.

THE day is coming when the Canadian people will look back to these saloon days as the darkest page in national annals.
